It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Commissioner of Labor

March 28, 1893

REPORT ON THE LABOR LAWS OF THE UNITED
20, 1892.

Mr. O'NEILL, of Missouri, from the Committee on Foreign Commerce, submitted the follow

REPORT:

(To accompany H. Res. 152.)

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce referred H. Res. 152, "providing for the compilation of the various States and Territories and the District of Columbia," submit the following report:

The committee, recognizing the great benefits that will accrue to the people from a knowledge of the labor laws now in force, and in order to expedite the compilation thereof furnished by the Department of Labor,

LETTER FROM THE COMMISSIONER OF LABOR

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

SIR: In obedience to the request of the Committee on Foreign Commerce of the House of Representatives, I have the honor to hand you herewith a compilation of the labor laws of the various States and Territories and of the District of Columbia.

In preparing this compilation the first question to be determined was the legislative year with which to close the compilation. It was determined to bring this report fully up to date, and to include those laws passed during the sessions of the year 1890-'91. This was done in the case of the Federal statutes the labor legislation of 1890-'91 has also been included.

The table following contains a statement for each State and Territory, as to whether the sessions of its legislature are biennially, its latest session laws that have been examined for this compilation, and the year in which its subsequent session laws are held. In many cases the session laws of States are not published many months after the close of the session. It has therefore, been necessary to include the legislation of 1892 and, for the year 1891 in this compilation of laws:

Sessions of legislature, whether annual or biennial, latest session laws examined, etc.

^a Extra session.

Questions have arisen from time to time in the progress of this work as to what classes of legislation could be said to have such a bearing on the general subject of labor as to warrant their inclusion therein. Many laws have been enacted, particularly in recent years, designed directly to affect the subject of labor in many of its various phases. These laws have, of course, been included. There are, however, many laws on the statute books not designed to be distinctly labor laws, but to be of a more general application. Still, in their actual application, many of these laws would seem to affect the laboring classes more than others, or at least to have a bearing upon the condition of the laboring man. A good example of this class are the exemption laws. Such laws may be deemed to have a place in any compilation of laws designed to illustrate the state of legislation bearing upon labor, and the intention has been to include all such laws herein.

The question, however, as to whether a certain law would properly fall within this class is largely a matter of judgment, and it may well happen that some laws, not here included, may in the opinion of some, be as clearly entitled to a place in this volume as many of those which appear therein. Somewhere, however, the line had to be drawn, and, great care having been taken, it is confidently believed that the judgment of the Department in this matter will be generally approved. Owing to the voluminous character of the laws relating to apprentices and to the liens of mechanics and laborers it has not seemed wise to incorporate them in full into the body of this work or even to present a complete digest of their provisions. In addition to the reason stated another reason arises in the case of the apprentice laws, viz: That for practical industrial purposes these laws are about obsolete. Digests have, however, been made of the main features of these laws, that of the apprentice laws being preceded by a reproduction in full of the apprentice laws of the State of New York, which seem to be the most complete and the fullest of all the laws of this country upon that subject.

The language used in the notes of these digests is almost entirely the exact language of the statutes themselves, and no attempt to alter or improve the same has been made. Any such attempt would have been fraught with the danger of changing the meaning of the statutes involved.

By reason of the fact that a legal holiday may give a day of rest to some at least of the laboring classes, and the further fact that several of the States have by their legislatures created a legal holiday known as "labor day," a statement showing the legal holidays of the different States may properly have its place in a work of this kind. A table showing the legal holidays of the country has therefore been prepared, it not being thought necessary to occupy space by publishing these laws in full. While, however, the table shows all the holidays of the country, including "labor day," yet, in the case of this holiday, an exception has been made and the laws creating the same have been published in full in the body of this work. This has been done, first, because such laws are generally short and do not fill much space, and, second, because it is thought that their wording and form might be of interest and use to those wishing to urge the passage of similar laws by the legislatures of their States. This table of legal holidays and the digests of the apprentice and lien laws, above referred to, are placed in a chapter together, which makes the first chapter of this work.

The second chapter of this work comprises all the labor laws passed by the legislatures of the States and Territories and by the Congress of the United States, other than those contained in the first chapter. The laws of each State and Territory are published together under the head of said State or Territory, and the arrangement by States, etc., is in alphabetical order, beginning with Alabama and ending with Wyoming. These are immediately followed by such labor legislation as has been found in the federal statutes. Under the head of each State and Territory the general arrangement has been to publish the laws in the order in which they were passed. It has been deemed best to publish these laws literally and practically in full. No attempt has been made to abstract them, principally for the reason that in so doing the question of interpretation, which properly belongs to the courts alone, would necessarily be involved. It frequently happens, however, that one or more sections of an act may have no bearing at all upon the subject of labor, while other sections of the same act may. In such cases only those sections which do so relate to labor have been published. Again, in a section which generally affects the subject of labor, certain paragraphs may have no bearing thereon. Such paragraphs or sentences have been omitted from this work and their absence is indicated by stars. In this connection it is well to state that exceeding care has been taken to omit no provision which is not clearly and obviously outside the subject treated in this volume, and where any reasonable doubt has arisen the provision has generally been included. It is quite possible, therefore, that some matter may be published herein that will appear to some to be of little importance in the consideration of this subject. The error in this matter, if one exists, is one of judgment and clearly on the side of safety.

It has been the aim of the Department to collect all the legislation of the country bearing on the subject of labor into one volume, and to present it in the most simple and clearest form possible. The greatest care has been taken, every volume of the laws in the library having been carefully searched at least twice, the last time by turning the pages one by one and not relying on the indices. Nevertheless it is possible that something that should have been included has been overlooked, and it would be folly to assert that errors of judgment have not been made. Such abilities and habits of industry as the compiler, S. D. Fessenden, esq., of the Department possesses, have been honestly and earnestly devoted to accomplishing the task set before him in a satisfactory manner, and it is hoped that it will meet with approval. To him and to the chief clerk of the Department, Mr. O. W. Weaver, I am greatly indebted. Under my supervision they have labored assiduously to produce a valuable compilation of labor laws, a work which I am sure will be appreciated by the public.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

CARROLL D. WRIGHT,
Commissioner.

Hon. JOHN J. O'NEILL,
Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

CHAPTER I.

LIENS.

A lien is defined by Bouvier to be "a hold or claim which one person has upon the property of another as a security for some debt or charge." (Bouvier Law Dict., Vol. II, p. 88.)

The lien of mechanics and material men on buildings and for work done and materials furnished is unknown either at common law or in equity, but it exists in all the United States to a greater or less extent by statute. (Bouv. Law Dict., Vol. II, p. 97.)

California.—A minor of fourteen years of age or over can be bound out by the father, by the mother or guardian if the father is dead, incompetent, has wilfully abandoned his family for one year without making suitable provision for their support, or has become a habitual drunkard, vagrant, etc., by the judge of the superior court, if poor, homeless, chargeable to the county, or an outcast, he has no visible means of obtaining an honest livelihood, and by an executor who is directed in the last will of the father to bring up the child to some trade or calling. Minors can also bind themselves if they have no parents competent to act and no guardians. The consent of the minor is necessary in all cases and must be expressed in the indentures and testified to by his signing the same.

Colorado.—A minor can be bound out by the father, or by the mother or guardian, if the father is dead, incompetent, has wilfully abandoned his family for six months without making suitable provision for their support, or has become an habitual drunkard. In the above cases the consent of the minor, who is over fourteen years of age, is necessary and must be expressed in the indentures and testified to by his signing the same. The consent of such minor is necessary and must be expressed in the indenture and testified to by signing the same. A minor over 14 can also be apprenticed to learn a trade or craft by orphan asylums or charitable institutions organized and incorporated for the purpose of taking care of indigent children. (Page 345.)

SECTION 1969. An employer must indemnify his employé, except as prescribed in the next section, for all that he necessarily expends or loses in direct consequence of the discharge of his duties as such, or of his obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employé, at the time of obeying such directions, believed them to be lawful.

SECTION 1970. An employer is not bound to indemnify his employé for losses suffered by the latter in consequence of the ordinary risks of the business in which he is employed, nor in consequence of the negligence of another person employed by the same employer in the same general business, unless he has neglected to use ordinary care in the selection of the culpable employé.

Obligations of the employé.

SECTION 1976. One who, by his own special request, induces another to intrust him with the performance of a service, must perform the same fully. In other cases one who undertakes a gratuitous service may relinquish it at any time.

SECTION 1977. A gratuitous employé who accepts a written power of attorney must act under it so long as it remains in force, or until he gives notice to his employer that he will not do so.

SECTION 1978. One who, for a good consideration, agrees to serve another must perform the service, and must use ordinary care and diligence therein, so long as he is thus employed.

SECTION 1979. One who is employed at his own request to do that which is more for his own advantage than for that of his employer must use great care and diligence therein to protect the interest of the latter.

SECTION 1980. A contract to render personal service, other than a contract of apprenticeship, * * * can not be enforced against the employé beyond the term of two years from the commencement of service under it; but if the employé voluntarily continues his service under it beyond that time, the contract may be referred to as affording a presumptive measure of the compensation.

SECTION 1981. An employé must substantially comply with all the directions of his employer concerning the service on which he is engaged, except where such obedience is impossible or unlawful, or would impose new and unreasonable burdens upon the employé.

SECTION 1982. An employé must perform his service in conformity to the usage of the place of performance, unless otherwise directed by his employer, or unless it is impracticable, or manifestly injurious to his employer to do so.

SECTION 1983. An employé is bound to exercise a reasonable degree of skill, unless his employer has notice, before employing him, of his want of skill.

SECTION 1987. An employé who receives anything on account of his employer, in any capacity other than that of a mere servant, is not bound to deliver it to him until demanded, and is not at liberty to send it to him from a distance, without demand, in any mode involving greater risk than its retention by the employé himself.

SECTION 1988. An employé who has any business to transact on his own account, similar to that intrusted to him by his employer, must always give the latter the preference.

SECTION 1889. An employé who is expressly authorized to employ a substitute is liable to his principal only for want of ordinary care in his selection. The substitute is directly responsible to the principal.

SECTION 1890. An employé who is guilty of a culpable degree of negligence is liable to his employer for the damage thereby caused to the latter; and the employer is liable to him, if the service is not gratuitous, for the value of such services only as are properly rendered.

SECTION 1891. Where service is to be rendered by two or more persons jointly, and one of them dies, the survivor must act alone, if the service to be rendered is such as he can rightly perform without the aid of the deceased person, but not otherwise.

Termination of employment.

SECTION 1896. Every employment in which the power of the employé is not coupled with an interest in its subject is terminated by notice to him of:

2. By the extinction of its subject;
3. By the death of the employé; or,
4. By his legal incapacity to act as such.

SECTION 1898. An employé, unless the term of his service has expired, or unless he has a right to discontinue it at any time without notice, must continue his service after notice of the death or incapacity of his employer, so far as is necessary to protect from serious injury the interests of the employer's successor in interest, until a reasonable time after notice of the facts has been communicated to such successor. The successor must compensate the employé for such service according to the terms of the contract of employment.

SECTION 1899. An employment having no specified term may be terminated at the will of either party, on notice to the other, except where otherwise provided by this title.

SECTION 2000. An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated at any time by the employer, in case of any wilful breach of duty by the employé in the course of his employment, or in case of his habitual neglect of his duty or continued incapacity to perform it.

SECTION 2001. An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated by the employé at any time, in case of any wilful or permanent breach of the obligations of his employer to him as an employé.

SECTION 2002. An employé, dismissed by his employer for good cause, is not entitled to any compensation for services rendered since the last day upon which a payment became due to him under the contract.

SECTION 2003. An employé who quits the service of his employer for good cause is entitled to such proportion of the compensation which would become due in case of full performance as the services which he has already rendered bear to the services which he was to render as full performance.

Master and servant.

SECTION 2009. A servant is one who is employed to render personal service to his employer, otherwise than in the pursuit of an independent calling, and who in such service remains entirely under the control and direction of the latter, who is called his master.

SECTION 2010. A servant is presumed to have been hired for such length of time as the parties adopt for the estimation of wages. A hiring at a yearly rate is presumed to be for one year; a hiring at a daily rate, for one day; a hiring by piecework, for no specified term.

SECTION 2011. In the absence of any agreement or custom as to the term of service, the time of payment, or rate or value of wages, a servant is presumed to be hired by the month, at a monthly rate of reasonable wages, to be paid when the service is performed.

SECTION 2012. Where, after the expiration of an agreement respecting the wages and the term of service the parties continue the relation of master and servant, they are presumed to have renewed the agreement for the same wages and term of service.

SECTION 2013. The entire time of a domestic servant belongs to the master; and the time of other servants to such an extent as is usual in the business in which they serve, not exceeding in any case ten hours in the day.

SECTION 2014. A servant must deliver to his master, as soon as with reasonable diligence he can find him, everything that he receives for his account, without demand; but he is not bound, without orders from his master, to send anything to him through another person.

SECTION 2015. A master may discharge any servant, other than an apprentice, whether engaged for a fixed term or not:

1. If he is guilty of misconduct in the course of his service, or of gross immorality, though unconnected with the same; or,
2. If, being employed about the person of the master, or in a confidential position, the master discovers that he has been guilty of misconduct, before or after the commencement of his service, of such a nature that, if the master had known or contemplated it, he would not have so employed him.

Mates and seamen.

SECTION 2049. All persons employed in the navigation of a ship, or upon a voyage, other than the master and mate, are to be deemed seamen within the provisions of this code.

SECTION 2050. The mate and seamen of a ship are engaged by the master, and may be discharged by him at any period of the voyage, for wilful and persistent disobedience or gross disqualification, but can not otherwise be discharged before the termination of the voyage.

SECTION 2051. A mate or seamen is not bound to go to sea in a ship that is not seaworthy; and if there is reasonable doubt of its seaworthiness, he may refuse to proceed until a proper survey has been had.

SECTION 2052. A seaman can not, by reason of any agreement, be deprived of his lien upon the ship, or of any remedy for the recovery of his wages to which he would otherwise have been entitled. Any stipulation by which he consents to abandon his right to wages in case of the loss of the ship, or to abandon any right he may obtain in the nature of salvage, is void.

SECTION 2054. Except as hereinafter provided, the wages of seamen are due when and so far only as freightage is earned, unless the loss of freightage is owing to the fault of the owner or master.

SECTION 2055. The right of a mate or seaman to wages and provisions begins either from the time he begins work, or from the time specified in the agreement for his beginning work, or from his presence on board, whichever first happens.

SECTION 2056. Where a voyage is broken up before departure of the ship, the seamen must be paid for the time they have served, and may retain for their indemnity such advances as they have received.

SECTION 2057. When a mate or seaman is wrongfully discharged, or is driven to leave the ship by the cruelty of the master on the voyage, it is then ended with respect to him, and he may thereupon recover his full wages.

SECTION 2058. In case of loss or wreck of the ship, the seaman is entitled to his wages up to the time of the loss or wreck, whether freightage has been earned or not, if he exerts himself to the utmost to save the ship, cargo, and stores.

SECTION 2063. Desertion of the ship without cause, or a justifiable discharge by the master during the voyage for misconduct, or a theft of any part of the cargo or appurtenances of the ship, or a wilful injury thereto or to the ship, forfeits all wages due for the voyage to a mate or seaman thus in fault.

SECTION 2064. A mate or seaman may not, under any pretext, ship goods on his own account without permission from the master.

Service without employment.

SECTION 2078. He is not entitled to any compensation for his service or expenses, except that he may deduct actual and necessary expenses incurred by him about such service from any profits which his service has caused the thing to acquire for its owner, and must account to the owner for the residue.

The owner or agent of each coal mine or colliery, in this State, employing ten or more men, shall make, or cause to be made, within six months after the passage of this act, an accurate map or plan of the workings of such coal mine or colliery, on a scale not exceeding one hundred feet to the inch, showing the bearings and distances of the workings, with the general inclinations of the strata, and any material deflections in such workings, and the boundary lines of such coal mine or colliery, which shall be kept for the use of the inspector, at the office of said mine in the county where such coal mine or colliery is located, and which shall be kept up every three months; and shall also deposit a true copy of such map or plan with the inspector of coal mines, and with the recorder of the county in which said coal mine or colliery is situated, to be filed in their respective offices; and said owner or agent shall cause, on or before the tenth day of January in every year, a statement of the workings of such coal mine during the year past, from the last report to the end of the December month just preceding, to be marked on the original map or plan of said coal mine or colliery: Provided, If the owner or agent of any coal mine shall neglect, or refuse, or for any cause fail, for the period of one month after the time prescribed, to furnish said map or plan as hereby required, or if the inspector shall find, or have reason to believe, said map or plan is inaccurate in any material part, he is hereby authorized to cause a correct map or plan of the actual workings of such coal mine or colliery to be made, at the expense of the owner thereof, the cost of which shall be recoverable from said owner by an action, as in cases of other debts, and shall cause a copy of the same to be filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which such coal mine or colliery is situated.

SECTION 177 (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). It shall not be lawful, after six months from the passage of this act, for the owner or agent of any coal mine, wherein over fifteen thousand square yards have been excavated, to employ or permit more than fifteen persons to work therein, except in opening shafts or outlets, unless there are to every seam of coal worked in each mine, at least two separate outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, by which shafts or outlets, distinct means of ingress or egress are always available to the persons employed in the mine, and air shafts, in which are constructed and maintained ladder ways, shall be deemed and held to be an escape shaft within the provisions of this act, and no escape shaft shall be required; but it is not necessary for the two outlets to belong to the same mine; the second outlet need not be made until fifteen thousand square yards have been excavated in such mine, and to all other coal mines, whether opened and worked by shafts, slopes or drifts to such openings or outlets, must be provided within twelve months after fifteen thousand square yards have been excavated therein; and in case such outlets are not provided as herein stipulated, it shall not be lawful for the agent or owner of such mine to permit more than fifteen persons to work therein during each twenty-four hours. In case a coal mine has but one shaft, slope or drift for the ingress or egress of the men working therein, and the owner thereof does not own suitable surface ground for another opening, he may select and appropriate any adjoining land for that purpose, and for approach thereto, and shall be governed in his proceedings in appropriating such land by the provisions of law in force providing for the appropriation of private property by corporations, and such appropriation may be made whether he is a corporator or not; but no land shall be appropriated under the provisions of this act until the court is satisfied that suitable premises can not be obtained by contract upon reasonable terms. Escapement shafts or other communication with a contiguous mine, as aforesaid, shall be constructed in connection with every vein or stratum of coal worked in such coal mine or colliery, as provided herein.

SECTION 178 (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). In all cases where the human voice can not be distinctly heard, the owner or agent shall provide and maintain a metal tube from top to the bottom of the shaft or slope, or a telephone connection suitably adapted to the free passage of sound, through which conversation may be held between persons at the bottom and at the top of the shaft or slope; also the ordinary means of signaling to and from the top and bottom of the shaft or slope; and in the top of every shaft shall keep an approved safety gate and an approved safety catch, and sufficient cover overhead on every carriage used for lowering and hoisting persons; and the said owner or agent shall see that sufficient flanges or horns are attached to the sides of the drum of every machine that is used for lowering and hoisting persons in and out of the mine, and also, that adequate brakes are attached thereto; the main link, attached to the swivel of the wire rope, shall be made of the best quality of iron, and shall be tested by weights satisfactory to the inspector of mines of the State; and bridle chains shall be attached to the main link from the cross pieces of the carriage; and no single link chain shall be used for lowering or raising persons into or out of said mine; and not more than five persons for each ton capacity of the hoisting machinery used at any coal mine, shall be lowered or hoisted by the machine at any one time.

SECTION 179 (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). The owner or agent of every coal mine or colliery, whether shaft, slope or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine an amount of ventilation not less than one hundred cubic feet, and such additional number of cubic feet as may be ordered by said mine inspector, per minute, per person employed in such mine, and also an amount of ventilation of not less than five hundred cubic feet per minute for each mule or horse used in said mine, which shall be circulated and distributed throughout the mine in such a manner as to dilute and render harmless and repel the poisonous and noxious gases from each and every working place in the mine, and break-throughs or airways shall be driven as often as the inspector of mines may order, at the different mines inspected by him, and all break-throughs or airways, except those last made near the working faces of the mines, shall be closed up and made air tight by brattice, trap doors or otherwise, so that the currents of air in circulation in the mine may sweep to the interior of the mine, where the persons employed in such mine are at work; and all mines governed by this statute shall be provided with artificial means of producing ventilation, when necessary, to provide a sufficient quantity of air, such as fanning, or suction fans, exhaust steam furnaces, or other contrivances of such capacity and power as to produce and maintain an abundant supply of air; but, in case a furnace shall be used for ventilating purposes, it shall be built in such a manner as to prevent the communication of fire to any part of the works, by lining the upcast with an incombustible material for a sufficient distance up from the said furnace. All mines generating fire damp shall be kept free from standing gas, and every working place shall be carefully examined every morning with a safety lamp, by a competent person or persons, before any of the workmen are allowed to enter the mine; and the person making such examination shall mark on the face of the workings the day of the month; and in all mines, whether they generate fire damp or not, the doors used in assisting or directing the ventilation of the mine shall be so hung and adjusted that they will shut up of their own accord, and can not stand open; and the owner or agent shall employ a practical and competent inside overseer, to be called a "mining boss," who shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus, and the airways, travelling ways, pumps, timbers and drainage; also, shall see that, as the miners advance their excavations, that all loose coal, slate and rock overhead are carefully secured against falling in or upon the travelling ways, and that sufficient timber, of suitable lengths and sizes, is furnished for the places where they are to be used, and placed in the working places of the mines; and he shall measure the ventilation at least once a week, at the inlet and outlet, and also at or near the face of all the entries; and the measurement of air so made shall be noted on blanks, furnished by the mine inspector; and on the first week day of each month the "mining boss" of each mine shall sign one of such blanks, properly filled, and forward the same by mail to said mine inspector, a copy of which shall be filed at the office of the coal company, subject to inspection by miners.

SECTION 180 (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). No person shall knowingly be employed as an engineer or mining boss, or take charge of any machinery or appliance whereby men are lowered into or hoisted out of any mine, but an experienced, competent and sober person; and no person shall ride upon a loaded wagon or cage used for hoisting purposes in any shaft or slope. No young person under 12 years of age, or woman or girl of any age, shall be permitted to enter any coal mine to work therein, nor any person under the age of 16 years, unless he can read and write.

SECTION 181, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). All safety lamps, used for examining or working coal mines, shall be the property of the owner of the mine, and shall be under the charge of the agent thereof. The term "owner" in this act shall mean the immediate proprietor, lessor, or occupier of any coal mine, or colliery, or any part thereof; and the term "agent" shall mean any person having, on behalf of the owner as aforesaid, the care and management of any coal mine, or colliery, or any part thereof.

SECTION 182, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). All boilers used in generating steam in and about coal mines and collieries, shall be kept in good order, and the owner or agent, as aforesaid, shall have said boilers examined and inspected, by a competent boiler-maker, or other well-qualified person, as often as once every six months, and the result of every such examination shall be certified, in writing, to the mining inspector; and every steam boiler shall be provided with a proper steam-gauge, water gauge, and safety valve; and all underground, self-acting, or engine planes, or gauge ways, on which coal cars are drawn and persons travel shall be provided with some proper means of signalling between the stopping places and the ends of said planes or gauge ways; and sufficient places of refuge, at the sides of said planes or gauge ways, shall be provided, at intervals of not more than fifty feet apart; and there shall be cut, in the side of every hoisting shaft, at the bottom thereof, a travelling way, sufficiently high and wide to enable persons to pass the shaft, in going from one side of the mine to the other, without passing over or under the cage or hoisting apparatus.

SECTION 183, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). Whenever loss of life, or serious personal injury, shall occur, by reason of any explosion, or of any accident whatsoever, in or about any coal mine, or colliery, it shall be the duty of the owner or agent thereof to give notice to the mine-inspector, and, if any person is killed thereby, to the coroner of the county also, and the inspector shall immediately go to the scene of said accident and render such assistance as he may deem necessary for the safety of the men, and shall ascertain, by the testimony before the coroner, or by taking other evidence, the cause of such explosion or accident, and file record thereof in his office.

SECTION 184, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). In all coal mines in the State, the miners employed and working therein, the owners of the land, or other person interested in the rental or royalty of any such mine, shall at all proper times have full right of access to, and examinations of, all scales, machinery, or apparatus used in or about such mine; to determine the quality of the coal mined, for the purpose of testing the accuracy of all such scales, machinery, or apparatus; and such landowners or other persons may designate or appoint a competent person to act for them, who shall at all proper times have full right of access to, and examination of, such scales, machinery, or apparatus, and seeing all weights and measures of coal mined, and the accounts kept of the same; but not more than one person, on behalf of the landowners, or other person interested in the rental or royalty, jointly, shall have such right of access, examination and inspection of scales, weights, measures and accounts, at the same time, and that such persons shall make no unnecessary interference with the use of such scales, machinery, or apparatus, and the miners employed in any mine may, from time to time, appoint two of their number to act as a committee to inspect, not oftener than once in every month, the mine and the machinery connected therewith, and to measure the ventilating current, and, if the owner, agent, or manager so desires, he may accompany said miners, by himself, or two or more persons whom he may appoint for that purpose. The owner, agent, or manager shall afford every necessary facility for making such inspection and measurement; but the said miners shall not in any way interrupt or impede the work going on in the mine at the time of such inspection and measurement.

SECTION 185, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). Any miners, workmen or other person, who shall intentionally injure any shaft, lamp, instrument, air course or brattice, or obstruct or throw open air ways or open a door and not close it again, or carry lighted pipes or matches into places that are worked by safety lamps, or handle or disturb any part of the machinery, or enter any place of the mine against caution, or who wilfully neglects or refuses to securely prop the roof of any working place under his control, or disobey any order given in carrying out the provisions of this act, or do any other act whereby the lives or the health of persons, or the security of the mines or machinery is endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction may be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days, nor more than one year, or may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 186, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). In case any owner or agent disregards the requirements of this act, any court of competent jurisdiction may, on application of the inspector, by civil action in the name of the State, enjoin or restrain the owner or agent from working or operating such mine with more than twelve miners under ground during each twenty-four hours, until it is made to conform to the provisions of this act. And such remedy shall be cumulative, and shall not take the place of or affect any other proceedings against such owner or agent, authorized by law for the matter complained of in such action.

SECTION 187, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). For any injury to person or property occasioned by any violation of this act, or any wilful failure to comply with its provisions by any owner or lessee or operator, of any coal mine or opening, a right of action against the party at fault shall accrue to the party injured for the direct damages sustained thereby, and in any case of loss of life by reason of such violation or failure, a right of action against the owners and operators of such coal mine or colliery shall accrue to the widow and lineal heirs of the person whose life shall be lost, for like recovery of damages for the injury they shall have sustained.

SECTION 188, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). The provisions of this act shall not apply to or affect any coal mine in which not more than ten men are employed underground during each twenty-four hours, but on the application of the proprietor, or of the miners in any such mine, or when the mine-inspector may deem it necessary, said mine-inspector shall make, or cause to be made, an inspection of such mine, and shall direct and enforce any regulations in accordance with the provisions of this act, that he deems necessary for the safety and health of miners.

SECTION 189, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). That the board of examiners heretofore appointed under the provisions of this act concerning coal mines, approved February 24th, 1883, and amended by this act, shall hold their office for and during the time for which they were appointed, to wit: until January 1st, A. D. 1887. And it shall be the duty of the board of examiners to meet at such times, and at such places within this State, as may be directed by the governor of this State, and examine such persons as may present themselves for examination, touching their qualifications for the office of mine-inspector, as provided in this act, and shall inquire into their character and qualifications, and shall certify the names of such persons as they shall find to be competent to fill such office of mine-inspector, to the governor, which list of names, so certified, shall be placed on file in the office of the secretary of state. Members of such board of examiners shall, before entering upon their duties, take and subscribe the following oath, viz: We, the undersigned, do solemnly swear, (or affirm), that we will perform the duties of examiners of applicants for appointment of inspector of coal mines to the best of our abilities, and that in recommending or rejecting said applicants we will be governed by the evidence of qualifications to fill the position under the law creating the same, and not by any consideration of political or personal favors; that we will certify all whom we may find qualified, according to the true intent and meaning of the act, and none others, to the best of our judgments. The qualifications of candidates for said office of inspector of mines, to be inquired into and certified by said examiners, shall be as follows, namely: They shall be citizens of the United States, of temperate habits, of good repute as men of personal integrity, shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have had at least one year's experience in the working of the coal mines of Colorado, and five years of practical experience in the workings of coal mines in the United States, and have a practical knowledge of mining engineering, and of the different systems of working and ventilating coal mines, and of the nature and properties of the noxious and poisonous gases of mines, particularly fire damp. The board of examiners shall receive six dollars per day, and the same mileage as is allowed to members of the legislature, to be paid out of the State treasury, upon the filing of the certificates of the examining board in the office of the secretary of state, as hereinbefore provided. As often as vacancies in said office of inspector of mines shall occur, by death, resignation, or malfeasance in office, which shall be determined in the same manner as in the case of any other officer of the State government, the governor shall fill the same, by appointment, for the unexpired term, from the names on file in the office of the secretary of state, as hereinbefore mentioned as having passed examination. On January 1st, A. D. 1887, and every four years thereafter, the governor shall appoint one reputable mining engineer, of known ability, and shall notify the judges of four of the judicial districts of the State, within which coal mines are being operated, to each appoint one reputable coal-miner, of known experience and practice, from their respective districts, and the five so appointed shall constitute a new board of examiners, whose duties, term of service, and compensation, shall be the same as those provided for by this section: and from the names that may be certified by them the governor shall appoint the inspector of mines provided for in this act. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the reappointment of any inspector of coal mines. The inspector of coal mines shall receive for his services an annual salary of two thousand dollars, and ten cents per mile mileage for all distances travelled in the discharge of his official duties, to be paid monthly by the State treasurer; and said inspector shall reside in the State, and shall keep an office at the capitol, or other building in which the offices of the State are located. Each inspector is hereby authorized to procure such instruments, and chemical tests, and stationery, from time to time, as may be necessary to the proper discharge of his duties under this act, at the expense of the State, which shall be paid by the State treasurer, upon accounts duly certified by him and audited by the proper department of the State. All instruments, plans, books, memoranda, notes, et cetera, pertaining to the office, shall be the property of the State, and shall be delivered to their successors in office.

SECTION 190, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). The inspector of coal mines shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, give bond, in the sum of five thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by the judge of the district court in which he resides, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duty, and take an oath (or affirmation) to discharge his duties impartially and with fidelity, to the best of his knowledge and ability.

SECTION 191, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). No person acting as a manager or agent of any coal mine, or as a mining engineer for any coal mining company, or to be interested in operating any coal mine, shall at the same time act as an inspector of coal mines under this act.

SECTION 192, (as amended by act of April 18, 1889, page 67, acts of 1889). The inspector of coal mines and his deputy shall devote the whole of their time to the duties of their office. It shall be the duty of the inspector or his deputy to enter into and thoroughly examine all coal mines in this State in which more than ten men are employed at least once each quarter, to see that all the provisions of this act are observed and strictly carried out and the inspector or his deputy, or both, may enter, inspect and examine any coal mine in the State, and the works and machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, by night or day, but so as to not unnecessarily obstruct or impede the workings of the mine; and the owner or any agent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry and inspection. The inspector shall make to the governor of the State a biennial report, which shall show the number of coal mines, and development on the same, during each year, and of persons employed in and about each mine, and the extent to which the law is obeyed, the progress made in the improvements sought to be secured by the passage of this act; the number of accidents and deaths resulting from injuries received in coal mines; as also statistics showing output of coal and development made annually at each mine, with all facts concerning the production and transportation of coal to market, and other facts of public interest coming under the provisions of this act; which record shall be filed in the inspector's office. * * * The inspector is hereby authorized to employ a deputy inspector, and such clerical assistance as may be required in his office. * * *

SECTION 193, (as amended by act of April 18, 1889, page 67, acts of 1889). The owner, agent or lessee of each coal mine or colliery in this State, employing ten or more men, shall, when working in close proximity to an abandoned mine or part of a mine containing water or fire damp, cause bore holes to be kept at least twelve feet in advance of the coal face and sides of all working places, in such mine or colliery known to be approaching old and abandoned workings, side holes to be not more than ten feet apart; and said owner or agent shall cause all abandoned shafts, air shafts, slopes, slack piles or cave holes to be securely and safely fenced off; and in all bituminous and lignite coal mines coming under the provisions of this act, the State inspector of coal mines shall have the authority to compel the owners, agents or lessees of coal mines to remove any or all fine coal or slack which may accumulate in the working places or gobs, and where gob fires or spontaneous combustion are known or even suspected to exist, a careful inspection shall be made daily of the workings by the mine boss or another competent person, and if an increase of temperature be localized in any part of the gobs or other places, prompt action shall be taken to remove the heated gob or débris, or extinguish the fire by water or other contrivance; but if the fire has already reached such proportions that it is impossible to extinguish it in that way, then it shall be the duty of the superintendent, or mine boss in the absence of the superintendent, to at once build suitable stoppings of double walls of a concave shape, and at least two feet apart, with ends top and bottom, built into cuttings made into the coal or rock, and the center between the walls to be filled in with sand or other fine earthy matter, which shall be closely tamped, so as to fill up all cracks and crevices, the outside of said walls to be carefully plastered with lime and cement, so as to completely isolate the fire from air. Should combustion still be suspected to be going on, then steam, where practical, shall be injected towards the fire from pipes in connection with boilers, and passing through said walls or stoppings, or to flood with water the site of the fire; and that in all coal mines known to generate explosive gas, that the owner or agent shall provide and adopt a system by which water under pressure or otherwise shall be sprinkled and make damp all accumulations of fine coal dust from time to time that may accumulate on any haulage road. Also, that no owner or agent shall use any part of the underground workings of such coal mines, as a magazine for the storage of gunpowder or any other kind of blasting agent; on all underground roads where coal is hauled by machinery, and where the grade will average more than six (6) feet to the hundred (100) and which are used for travelling ways for men, double draw-bars shall be attached to the bottom or other parts of every car, so that two separate couplings may be used to connect each and every car lowered or hoisted on any road coming under this act, and that the hooks which connect with the draw-bar of the car shall be so constructed, with a clevice or other contrivance, so as to prevent them from becoming detached while the cars are in motion on the slope; also that double chains, with approved safety hooks, shall be attached to the socket of the hoisting rope. Provided, That any appliance other than those herein required may be used in the construction and hoisting of cars which may accomplish the same result with equal safety and security to life and limb.

SECTION 194, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). The mining boss, or other competent person, shall make daily inspection of ropes, chains, cages and other hoisting appliances, guides and shaft timbers, and make a record of such daily inspection in a book, kept at the office of the mine, for that purpose, and the fire boss shall keep a daily record of any defects in the ventilating appliances, and any standing gas that may be found in said mine, designating the entry and room in which said gas is found. Each of the records herein required to be kept shall be open at all times to the mine inspector's and miners' committee's inspection, and a copy thereof shall be filed in the office of said mine inspector on the first Monday of December of each year.

SECTION 195, (as amended by act of April 8, 1885, page 134, acts of 1885). The neglect or refusal to perform the duties required to be performed by any section of this act, or the violation of any of the provisions hereof, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and any person so neglecting or refusing to perform such duties, or violating such provisions, shall, upon conviction, be punished by fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor exceeding five hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court, and all penalties recovered under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the State.

CHAPTER 25.—Convict labor.

SECTION 938. It shall be the duty of the keepers of the said several prisons, when any person shall be sentenced to hard labor therein, and any mode of labor shall be provided to cause such prisoner to be kept constantly employed during every day, Sundays excepted, and annually to account with the board of county commissioners for the proceeds of such labor; and in all such cases it shall be lawful for the said jailer, with the consent of the county commissioners of the county in which such jail may be situated, to provide labor for such prisoners, if they deem it expedient and profitable so to do, either inside the jail or outside of its limits.

SECTION 939. The keepers of said prisons shall respectively have power, with the consent of the county commissioners of said counties, from time to time to cause such of the convicts under their charge as are capable of hard labor to be employed on any of the public avenues, streets, highways or other works, quarries or mines, in the county in which such prisoners shall be confined, or in any of the adjoining counties, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the said keepers and the officers or other persons under whose directions such convicts shall be placed.

SECTION 1635. The homestead mentioned in this act may consist of a house and lot or lots, in any town or city, or of a farm consisting of any number of acres, so that the value does not exceed two thousand dollars.

SECTION 1638. In case of the sale of said homestead, any subsequent homestead acquired by the proceeds thereof shall also be exempt from execution or attachment, nor shall any judgment or other claim against the owner of such homestead be a lien against the same in the hands of a bona fide purchaser. * * *

SECTION 1668. No commitment or sentence of any person or persons to said industrial school shall be made for a greater period than three years, or of an age under ten years.

SECTION 1669. It shall be lawful for the board of control, whenever in their discretion they may deem any one of the boys detained in the said institution to have become so far reformed as to justify his discharge, to liberate such boy, or to bind him by articles of indenture for that purpose to be entered into, to any suitable person who will engage to instruct such boy in some proper art or trade, according to the terms of said indenture.

SECTION 1671. All the provisions of this act concerning boys shall be equally, [and] in like manner applicable to girls, and girls shall be received and cared for by the board of control of the State industrial school, as boys are received and cared for. * * *

CHAPTER 93.—Coal mine regulations and inspection.

PARAGRAPH 1, (as amended by act of June 4, 1889, page 202, acts of 1889). The owner, operator or superintendent of any coal mine shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of such mine, which shall exhibit all the openings and excavations, the shafts, slopes or tunnels, the entries, rooms and break-throughs; and shall show the direction of the air currents therein, and accurately delineate the surface section lines of the coal lands controlled by the owner of said mine, and show the exact relation to and proximity of the workings of said mine to said surface line. Said map or plan shall also show the exact date of each survey made, and indicate the boundary line of the most advanced face of the workings at each such date; and in case more than one seam of coal is opened or worked, a separate map or plan as aforesaid shall, if desired by the inspector, be made of the workings in each such seam. The said map or plan, or a true copy thereof, with a record of all the surveys of said boundary lines and underground workings, shall be delivered by said owner, operator or superintendent to the State inspector of mines, for the district in which said mine is located, to be filed in his office; and the original or a true copy of the same shall be retained for reference and inspection at the office of said coal mine. * * *

The maps or plans herein provided for shall be made during the month of July next succeeding the passage of this act, and thereafter in July of each and every year the owner, agent or operator of every coal mine shall cause surveys to be made of all alterations and extensions of the workings made during the year preceding, and shall have the record and results of said survey duly entered upon the map of the inspector and upon that kept at the mine. * * *

When any coal mine is worked out and is about to be abandoned, the owner, operator or superintendent shall have the maps or plans thereof extended to include all the excavations made, showing the most advanced workings of every part of the mine, and the relation of such boundaries to given boundaries on the surface.

PARAGRAPH 2, (as amended by act of June 4, 1889, page 203, acts of 1889). Whenever the owner, operator or superintendent of any coal mine shall neglect or refuse, or, from any cause not satisfactory to the mine inspector, fail, for the period of three months, to furnish to the inspector the map or plan of such coal mine, or of the extensions thereto, as provided for in this act, the inspector is hereby authorized to make, or cause to be made, an accurate map or plan of such coal mine, at the expense of the owner thereof, and the cost thereof may be recovered, by law, from said owner, operator or agent, in the same manner as other debts, by suit in the name of the inspector and for his use.

PARAGRAPH 3, (as amended by act of June 4, 1889, page 204, acts of 1889). For all coal mines in this State, when more than six men are employed, whether worked by shaft, slope or drift, there shall be provided and maintained, in addition to the hoisting shaft or opening, a separate escapement shaft or opening to the surface or an underground communication between every such mine and some other contiguous mine, such as shall be approved by the mine inspector as coming within the requirements of this act, and such as shall constitute two distinct and available means of ingress and egress to all persons employed in such coal mines. Such escapement shaft or communication with a contiguous mine, as aforesaid, shall be constructed in connection with every vein or stratum of coal worked in such mine; and all passageways communicating with the escapement shafts or places of exit from main hauling ways to the escapement shaft shall be at least five feet wide and five feet high. Every escapement shaft shall be separated from the main shaft by such extent of natural strata as shall secure safety to the men employed in such mines; and before any escapement shaft be located, or the excavations for it be begun, the district inspector of mines shall be duly notified to appear and determine what shall be a suitable distance for the same; the distance from main shafts for such escapement shaft shall not be less than 300 feet, without the consent of the mine inspector, nor more than 300 feet without the consent of the operator. Such escapement shafts * * * shall be supplied with stairways, partitioned off from the main air way and having substantial handrails and platforms, and such stairways shall be at an angle not greater than forty-five degrees: Provided, That in mines more than one hundred feet in depth there shall be substituted for such stairways a suitable cage, suspended between guide rails and operated by such hoisting apparatus as shall, in the judgment of the inspector of mines, insure the safe and speedy removal of all persons within the mine in case of danger. No accumulation of ice shall be permitted in any escapement shaft, nor any obstructions to travel upon any stairways or ladders. The time which shall be allowed for completing such escapement shaft or making such communication with an adjacent mine, as is required by the terms of this act, shall be for mines already opened or in process of development when this act shall become a law, one year for sinking any shaft two hundred feet or less in depth, and one additional year, or pro rata portion thereof, for every additional two hundred feet or fraction thereof; but for mines which shall be opened after the passage of this act, the time allowed shall be two years for all shafts more than two hundred feet in depth, and one year for all shafts two hundred feet in depth or less; and the time shall be reckoned, in all cases, from the date on which coal is first hoisted from the original shaft for sale or use; and it shall be the duty of the inspectors of mines to see that all escapement shafts are begun in time to secure their completion within the time herein specified. In all cases where the working face of one mine has, by the agreement of adjacent owners, been driven into the workings of another mine, the respective owners of such mine, while operating the same, shall keep open a roadway at least five feet wide and five feet high, thereby forming a communication, as contemplated in this act, and in no case shall the workings of any mine be driven closer than ten feet to the line of land of any adjacent owner, without the written consent of such owner. And in all cases where the shaft of one mine has been used, or may be hereafter used, as an air or escapement shaft for another mine, neither owner or operator shall close or obstruct his shaft or workings so as to prevent the use of the same as an escapement or air shaft, without first giving one year's notice, in writing, to the other operator or owner, of his intention to abandon his mine; but the operator continuing the working of his mine shall be at the expense of keeping abandoned workings in repair.

PARAGRAPH 4, (as amended by act of June 4, 1889, page 205, acts of 1889). The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine, whether operated by shaft, slope or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine a good and sufficient amount of ventilation for such men and animals as may be employed therein, the amount of air in circulation to be in no case less than one hundred cubic feet for each man and six hundred cubic feet for each animal, per minute, measured at the foot of the downcast, and the same to be increased at the discretion of the inspector according to the character and extent of the workings or to the amount of powder used in blasting; and said volume of air shall be forced and circulated to the face of every working place throughout the mine, so that such mine shall be free from standing powder smoke and gases of every kind. All doors set on main entries for the purpose of conducting the ventilation, shall be so constructed and hung as to close of themselves when opened, and shall be made sufficiently tight to effectually obstruct the air currents. In all the larger mines a boy or trapper shall be kept in attendance upon such doors to see that they are kept securely closed, and the air currents properly controlled. Whenever the inspector shall find men working without sufficient air, or under any unsafe conditions, he shall first give the operator a reasonable notice to rectify the same, and upon his refusal so to do may himself order them out until said portions of said mine shall be put in proper condition. All mines in which men are employed shall be examined every morning by a duly authorized agent of the proprietor, to determine whether there are any dangerous accumulations of gas, or lack of proper ventilation or obstructions to roadways, or any other dangerous conditions, and no person shall be allowed to enter the mine until such examiner shall have reported all the conditions safe for beginning work. Such examiner shall make a daily record of the condition of the mine in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be open at all times to the examination of the inspector. The currents of air in mines shall be so split as to give a separate current to at least every one hundred men at work, and inspectors shall have discretion to order a separate current for a smaller number of men if special conditions render it necessary. In case the galleries, roadways or entries of any mine are so dry as to become filled with dust, the operators of such mines shall be required to have such roadways regularly and thoroughly sprinkled; and it shall be the duty of the inspector to see that in all mines every practicable precaution shall be taken against accidents from the careless handling of powder within the mine, and in no case shall more powder be stored in the mine, at any one time, than in the discretion of the inspector is necessary for each day's use. It shall be unlawful for coal miners, in any mine, to charge a blasting hole with loose powder, or otherwise, than with a properly constructed cartridge; and in dry and dusty mines, it shall be unlawful to load cartridges in the mines except with a powder can constructed for the purpose. * * *

It shall be unlawful for any operator or agent of a coal mine to employ persons underground whose duties may involve contact with inflammable gases, or the handling of explosives, who have not had experience in such duties, unless all such employes are placed under the immediate charge and instruction of such a number of competent men as to secure the safety of other persons employed in the same mine. The ventilation required by this section may be produced by any suitable appliances, but in case a furnace shall be used for ventilating purposes, it shall be built in such a manner as to prevent the communication of fire to any part of the works, by lining up from said furnace: Provided, it shall not be lawful to use a furnace for ventilating purposes, or for any other purpose, that shall emit smoke into any compartment constructed in, or adjoining any hoisting shaft or slope, where the hoisting shaft or slope is the only means provided for the ingress or egress of persons employed in said coal mines. It shall be unlawful where there is but one means of ingress and egress provided at a coal shaft or slope, to construct and use a ventilating furnace that shall emit smoke into a shaft, as an up-cast, where the shaft or slope used as a means of ingress and egress by persons employed in said coal mines is the only means provided for furnishing air to persons employed therein.

PARAGRAPH 5. The owner, agent or operator shall provide that bore holes shall be kept twenty feet in advance of the face of each and every working place, and if necessary, on both sides, when driving towards an abandoned mine or part of a mine suspected to contain inflammable gases, or to be inundated with water.

PARAGRAPH 6, (as amended by act of June 16, 1887, page 233, acts of 1887). The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine operated by shaft shall provide safe means of hoisting and lowering persons in a cage covered with boiler iron, so as to keep safe, so far as possible, persons descending into and ascending out of such shaft, and such cage shall be furnished with guides to conduct it on slides through such shaft, with a sufficient brake on every drum to prevent accident in case of the giving out or breaking of the machinery; and such cage shall be furnished with safety catches, intended and provided as far as possible to prevent the consequences of cable-breaking or the loosening or disconnecting of machinery. No person under the age of fourteen years, nor females of any age, shall be permitted to enter any mine to work therein; and before any boy shall be permitted to work in any mine, he shall be required to produce an affidavit from his parent or guardian, sworn and subscribed to before a justice of the peace or notary public, that said boy is fourteen years of age. Such affidavits of all the boys employed in any mine shall be produced upon the demand of the inspector. The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine operated by shaft and by steam power, shall place competent persons at the top and bottom of such shaft for the purpose of attending to the signals while men are being lowered into or hoisted out of the mine; they shall be at their post of duty at least thirty minutes before the hoisting of coal is commenced in the morning, and remain at least thirty minutes after the hoisting of coal has ceased at night. It shall also be their duty to see that the men do not carry any tools, timber or material with them on the cage, and that only the proper number of men are allowed upon the cage at one time. A sufficient light shall be furnished at the top and bottom of the shaft to insure as far as possible the safety of persons getting on or off the cage. The following code of signals between the top man, bottom man and engineer are prescribed for use at all mines operated by shaft and by steam power:

From the bottom to the top.—One bell shall signify to hoist coal or empty cage, and also to stop either when in motion.

Two bells shall signify to lower cage.

Three bells shall signify that men are coming up. When return signal is received from the engineer, men will get on the cage and ring one bell to start.

Four bells shall signify to hoist slowly, implying danger.

From the top to the bottom.—One bell shall signify all ready, get on the cage.

Two bells shall signify send away empty cage: Provided, that the manager of any mine may add to this code of signals in his discretion for the purpose of promoting their efficiency, or the safety of the men, but any code which may be established shall be conspicuously posted at the top and bottom of the shaft and in the engine room. Any person neglecting or refusing to perform the duties required to be performed by sections three, four, five, six, seven and eight of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by fine in the discretion of the court trying the same, subject, however, to the limitations as provided by section ten of this act.

PARAGRAPH 7, (as amended by act of June 16, 1887, page 234, acts of 1887). No owner, agent or operator of any coal mine operated by shaft or slope shall place in charge of any engine whereby men are lowered into or hoisted from the mine, any other than competent, experienced and sober engineers and firemen, and they shall not be less than eighteen years of age. No person shall ride upon a loaded cage or car used for hoisting purposes in any shaft or slope, and in no case shall more than twelve persons ride on any cage or car at one time, nor shall any coal be hoisted out of any coal mine while persons are descending into such mine. The number of persons permitted to ascend out of or descend into any coal mine at one time shall be determined by the inspector; and they shall not be lowered or hoisted more rapidly than six hundred feet per minute. Whenever a cage load of persons shall come to the bottom to be hoisted out, who have finished their day's work or otherwise been prevented from working, an empty cage shall be given them to ascend, except in mines having slopes or provided with stairways in escapement shafts.

PARAGRAPH 8, (as amended by act of June 4, 1889, page 207, acts of 1889). All boilers used in generating steam in and about coal mines shall be kept in good order, and the agent, owner or operator as aforesaid shall have said boilers examined and inspected by a competent boilermaker or other qualified person as often as once every six months, and oftener if the inspector shall deem it necessary; and the result of every such examination shall be certified in writing to the mine inspector. The top of each and every shaft, and the entrance to each and every intermediate working vein shall be securely fenced by gates properly protecting such shaft and the entrance thereto; and the entrance to every abandoned slope, air or other shaft shall be securely fenced off; and every steam boiler shall be provided with a proper steam gauge, water gauge and safety valve. All underground, self-acting or engine planes with single tracks on which coal cars are drawn and persons travel, shall be provided with some proper means of signaling between the stopping places and the ends of said planes, and sufficient places of refuge at the sides of such planes shall be provided at intervals of not more than ten yards, and all other single planes or gangways twenty yards, and they shall not be less than six feet wide and six feet in depth, and shall be whitewashed or otherwise distinguished from the surrounding walls.

The bottom of every shaft shall be supplied with a traveling way to enable men to pass from one side of the shaft to the other without passing under or over the cages. All sumps shall be securely planked over so as to prevent accidents to men.

PARAGRAPH 9. CHAPTER 86.—Coal mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 5458. The term "mine," as used in this act, includes every shaft, slope, or drift which is used, or has been used, in the mining and removing of coal from and below the surface of the ground.

SECTION 5460. At the request of the owner of any coal mine, the owner of the land, the miners working therein, or other person interested in the working of such mine, the mine inspector shall cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the workings of such mine, on a scale of not less than one inch to the one hundred feet, showing the area mined or excavated, and the location and connection of the lines of all adjoining lands with such excavation of the mine, and the name of the owners of such lands, so far as known, marked on each tract of land. Such map shall show the complete working of the mine; which map, when complete, shall be sworn to by the mine inspector to be a correct map of the working of such mine, and shall be kept on file in the office of the mine inspector, for inspection, at all times. The mine inspector shall be allowed a reasonable fee for making such survey, provided that he employs a surveyor to make the same, but he shall not be allowed anything for making the map of same. All expenses shall be paid by the party causing such survey and map to be made.

SECTION 5462. The original map or plan of any coal mine, or the copy filed with the inspector, or a certified copy, issued under the hand and seal of such inspector, shall be evidence in any court of justice in this State.

SECTION 5463. The term "owner," as used in this act, is hereby defined to mean the immediate proprietor, lessee, or occupier of any coal mine or any part thereof; and the term "agent" is hereby defined to mean any person, other than the owner thereof, having the care and management of any coal mine, or any part thereof; and in case the mine is owned or occupied by a corporation, then any of its officers shall be deemed its agent.

SECTION 5464. The owner or agent of every coal mine shall * * * provide and establish a circulation of sufficient amount of pure air to dilute and expel therefrom the noxious and poisonous gases, to such an extent that the entire mine shall be in a fit state, at all times, for the men to work therein, and be free from danger to their health and lives from said gases and impure air—said ventilation to be produced by any suitable appliance that will produce and insure a constant supply of pure air throughout the entire mine. But in no case shall a furnace be used at the bottom of the shaft in a mine for the purpose of producing a hot up-cast of air, where the hoisting apparatus and buildings are built directly over the top of the shaft. Every such mine shall have ventilation affording one hundred cubic feet per minute for each and every person employed in such mine, which shall be circulated through the main-headings and cross-headings, to an extent that will dilute and render harmless the noxious gases generated therein.

SECTION 5465. When a place is likely to contain a dangerous accumulation of water or gases, the working, approaching such place, shall not exceed eight feet in width, and there shall be constantly kept, at a sufficient distance (not less than three yards in advance), one bore-hole near the centre of the working, and sufficient flank bore-holes on each side; and when two veins are worked in the same shaft, the upper shall be so protected that no danger will occur to the miners working in the lower vein.

SECTION 5466. No owner or agent of any coal mine shall place in charge of any engine used for conveying into or hoisting out of such mine, any but experienced, competent, and sober engineers. No engineer in charge of such engine shall allow any person, except such as may be deputed for that purpose by the owner or agent, to interfere with it or any part of the machinery; and no person shall interfere, or in any way intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duties. In no case shall more than six men ride on any cage or car at one time; and no person shall ride upon a loaded cage or car when the same is being hoisted out of or being conveyed into the mine.

SECTION 5467. The owner or agent of every coal mine operated by shaft or slope, shall provide a sufficient cover, overhead, on all carriages or cages used for lowering and hoisting persons into and out of the mine, and, on the top of every shaft, an approved safety-gate; also, an approved safety-spring on the top of every slope. An adequate brake shall be attached to every drum or machine used for lowering or raising persons into or out of all shafts or slopes; and also a proper indicator, in addition to any mark on the rope, which shall show to the person who works the machine the position of the cage or load in the shaft. And there shall be cut in the side of every hoisting-shaft, at the bottom thereof, a traveling-way sufficiently high and wide to enable persons to pass the shaft in going from one side to the other, without passing over or under the cage or other hoisting apparatus.

SECTION 5468. The owner or agent of every coal-mine shaft or slope, * * * shall keep the top of every such shaft or slope, and the entrance thereof, securely fenced off by vertical or flat gates, covering and protecting the mouth of such shaft or slope. The entrance of an abandoned shaft or slope shall be securely fenced off, so that no injury can arise therefrom. The owner or agent, or either of them, violating the provisions of this section shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100 for each day or part of a day the same is violated.

SECTION 5469. Any miner, workman, or other person, who shall, knowingly, injure or interfere with any safety-lamp, air-course, or with any brattice, or obstruct or throw open doors, or disturb any part of the machinery, or ride upon a loaded car or wagon in any shaft or slope, or do any act whereby the lives or health of the persons, or the security of the mines and machinery are endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $10.

SECTION 5470. The mine inspector, miners employed and working in and about the mine, the owner of the land, or other persons interested in the royalty or rental of such mine, shall, at all proper times, have full right of access and examination of all scales, machinery, or apparatus used in or about said mine, including the bank-book in which the weight of coal is kept, to determine the amount of coal mined, for the purpose of attesting the accuracy thereof.

SECTION 5472, (as amended by section 1753, supplement of 1889). The rope used for hoisting and lowering in every coal mine shall be a wire rope, and shall be examined by some competent person every morning, before the men descend into the shaft. When gas is known to exist, there shall be a competent fire-boss, whose duty it shall be to examine each and every place in the mine, before the men are permitted to enter for work. Said fire-boss shall be at the bottom or mouth of the mine each day, to inform every man as to the state of his room or entry. Said work shall be carefully examined every morning, with safety-lamps, by a competent person, before any workmen are allowed to enter.

SECTION 5473. * * * The governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a mine inspector, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. Such inspector shall be a resident of the State of Indiana, and a practical miner in said State; and no person shall be eligible to hold the office of mine inspector who is or may be pecuniarily interested in any coal mine within this State, directly or indirectly. Said mine inspector, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall execute a bond, with sufficient surety, payable to the State of Indiana, in the sum of one thousand dollars, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office; which bond shall be approved by and filed with the secretary of State. He shall take an oath of office, which shall be endorsed on the back of his bond.

SECTION 5475. It shall be the duty of the mine inspector appointed under this act to enter, examine, and inspect any and all coal mines, and the works and machinery belonging thereto, at any reasonable time, by day or by night, but so as not to hinder or obstruct the working of any coal mine more than is reasonably necessary, in the discharge of his duties; and the agent or owner of such coal mine is hereby required to furnish the necessary facilities for such entry, examination, and inspection. Should the owner or agent fail or refuse to permit such inspection or furnish such facilities, the owner or agent so failing shall be deemed to have committed a misdemeanor. And it is hereby made the duty of such inspector to charge such owner or agent with such violation, under oath, in any court having jurisdiction; and, upon conviction, the owner or agent, or either or both, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense.

SECTION 5476. The inspector appointed under this act shall devote his entire time and attention to the duties of his office. He shall make personal inspection, at least twice each year, of all coal mines in this State, and shall see that every precaution is taken to insure the health and safety of the workmen therein employed, that the provisions and requirements of this act are faithfully carried out, and that the penalties of the law are enforced against all who willfully disobey its requirements. He shall also collect and tabulate the following facts: The number and thickness of each vein or stratum of coal, and their respective depths below the surface, which are now worked or may be hereafter worked; the kind or quality of coal; how the same is mined, whether by shaft, slope, or drift; the number of mines in operation in each county; the owners thereof; the number of men employed in each mine; and the aggregate yearly production of tons from each mine; estimate the amount of capital employed at each mine; and give any other information relative to coal and mining that he may deem necessary; all of which facts, so tabulated, together with a statement of the condition of mines as to safety and ventilation, he shall freely set forth in an annual report to the governor, together with his recommendation as to such other legislation on the subject of mining as he may think proper.

SECTION 5477. No boy under fourteen years of age shall be employed to work in any of the mines of this State.

SECTION 5478. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense.

SECTION 5479. Nothing in this act * * * shall apply to any coal mine when there is less than ten men used in and about such mine.

SECTION 5480, (as amended by section 1754, supplement of 1889). It shall be the duty of the mine-inspector, in addition to his other duties, to examine all scales used at any coal mine in this State for the purpose of weighing coal taken out of said mine; the same to be tested by sealed weights, to be furnished to said mine inspector by the auditor of the State, the cost of which is to be audited by the auditor of State, and paid out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated. And, on inspection, if found incorrect, he shall notify the owner or agent of any such mine that the same is incorrect, and, after such notice, it shall be unlawful for any person or agent to use or suffer the same to be used, until the same is so adjusted that the same will give the true and correct weight. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars for each day or part of a day the same may be used.

[NOTE.—Sections 1764, 1766, and 1778 of Elliott's Supplement of 1889 are sections 2, 4, and 16 of an act approved March 11, 1889. This act has no enacting clause and does not therefore comply with section 1 article 4 of the constitution of the State. If this act is operative, sections 1764 and 1766 would supersede section 5480 of the Revised Statutes of 1881 as amended by section 1754 of Elliott's Supplement of 1889, and section 1778 would supersede section 5464 of the Revised Statutes of 1881. The above named sections of Elliott's Supplement of 1889 are given in full further along.]

SECTION 1616. If any railway company, or any other company, or partnership or corporation in this State shall authorize or allow any of its or their agents to black-list any discharged employés, or attempt by word or writing, or any other means whatever to prevent such discharged employé, or any employé who may have voluntarily left said company's service, from obtaining employment with any other person or company, except as [above] provided * * *, such company or copartnership shall be liable in treble damages to such employé so prevented from obtaining employment, to be recovered by him by a civil action.

CHAPTER 34.—Coal mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 1755. Whenever the mining of coal is paid for by weight, the persons employed in mining the same shall have the right of selecting and keeping in the weigh office, or at the place of weighing the coal, a check-weighman, who shall have the right to inspect the weighing of the coal so mined by such miners; the miners to select and pay their said check-weighman.

SECTION 1756. It shall not be lawful for any owner, agent, or operator to allow more than ten persons to work in any mine, shaft, slope or drift in every twenty-four hours after five thousand square yards have been excavated, until the second outlet shall have been made. The said outlet, or manway, shall be separated from the hoisting shaft by at least one hundred feet in width of natural strata, and shall be available at all times to all employés engaged in the mines, and that for every shaft used as a manway there shall be provided stairways at an angle of not more than sixty degrees, with landings at easy and convenient distances, and with guard rails attached to each set of stairs from the top to the bottom of the same. The gangways or traveling roads to said outlet shall be not less than four feet high and three feet wide, and shall be kept as free from water as average hauling roads in mines. All water coming from the surface or out of the strata in the shaft shall be conducted by rings or otherwise to be prevented from falling down the shaft so as to wet persons who are ascending or descending the stairway of the shaft. The mine inspector shall see that the provisions of this section are complied with.

SECTION 1757. Breaks through or airways shall be made in every room, at least every seventy-five feet, and all breaks through or airways, except those last made near the working faces of the mine, shall be closed up and made airtight by brattice, trap-doors or otherwise. The doors used in assisting or directing the ventilation of the mines shall be so hung and adjusted that they will close themselves, or be supplied with springs or pulleys, so that they can not be left standing open, nor shall any driver or other person, by prop or otherwise, cause the same to stand open. Air courses shall be driven properly adjoining all entries, and as nearly parallel thereto as may be, such air courses not to exceed such width as will render them safe, with a sufficient pillar of coal left between them to secure the roof from falling on account of weight of the superincumbent strata forming the roof over the coal seam.

SECTION 1758. The owner, agent or operator of any coal mine shall keep a sufficient supply of timber at the mine so that the workmen may, at all times, be able to properly secure the workings from caving in, and the agent, owner or operator shall deliver, when selected, all props, of proper lengths, and timbers to the rooms of the workmen when needed and required.

SECTION 1759. Before a mine, or any part of a mine, that adjoins other lands is abandoned, the owner or agent shall make a survey showing the farthest extremity of the entries or rooms worked in such mine toward the lines of adjoining lands, and also to have the mine properly staked on the surface and a map thereof made and filed, within thirty days thereafter, at the office of the county recorder in the county where such mine is located; said map shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the mining engineer making the map, and of the mine boss in charge of the underground workings of said mine. Such map shall be properly labeled and filed by the recorder, and be preserved as a part of the record of the land on which such mines are located, and the recorder shall receive for said filing, from said owner or agent, a fee of fifty cents.

SECTION 1760. Approved safety catches shall be attached to every cage used for the purpose of hoisting or lowering persons.

SECTION 1761. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than ten nor more than five hundred dollars.

SECTION 1763. The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine in this State, at which the miners are paid by weight, shall provide suitable and accurate scales of standard manufacture for the weighing of coal which shall be delivered from such mine.

SECTION 1764. At every coal mine in this State, where coal is mined by weight, it shall be the duty of the weighman and the check-weighman to examine and balance said scales every morning, and in no case shall any coal be weighed until such scales are tested and found correct: Provided, That if the weighman and check-weighman shall disagree, work may continue until the mine inspector can be present, and any erroneous weights made during such time shall be rectified. When differences shall arise between check-weighman and weighman, or owners or agents of the mine, as to the correctness of the scales, the same shall be referred to the mine inspector, whose duty it shall be to regulate the same at once, and in the event of said scales proving to be correct then the party or parties applying for the testing thereof shall bear all costs, but if not correct then the owners or agent of said mine shall pay the costs and charges of making said examination.

SECTION 1766. Any owner or agent operating a coal mine in this State who shall fail to comply with the[se] provisions * * * or who shall obstruct or hinder the carrying out of any of its requirements, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than two hundred dollars, and in default of payment he shall be imprisoned three months in the county jail.

SECTION 1767. All screens used in the screening of block coal at the mines in this State, unless otherwise agreed upon in writing between the operator or operators of any mine and the miners employed in such mine that a different screen other than the screen provided for by this act, may be used, shall not be, when the diamond bar is used, more than one inch space between the bars, and when the flat bar is used not more than one and one-eighth of an inch between the bars. All screens used in screening of bituminous coal shall not, when the diamond bar is used, be more than one and one-fourth inches between the bars, and when the flat bar is used not more than one and one-half inches between the bars. * * * Such screens shall not be more than twelve feet long and without breaks and not more than five feet wide, with stays or fastenings crosswise underneath the bars not more than three feet apart to hold the bars in place.

SECTION 1768. Any owner, agent, [or] operator who shall violate the [above] provisions * * * shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than five hundred dollars.

SECTION 1769. The owner, operator or agent of any coal mine in this State shall keep a sufficient supply of timber at the mine, and the owner, operator or agent shall deliver all props, caps and timbers (of proper length) to the rooms of the workmen when needed and required, so that the workmen may at all times be able to secure the workings from coming in.

SECTION 1770. When two veins of coal are being mined in one shaft, two reflecting lamps shall be kept lighted at all times when said mine is in operation, one on each side of the shaft, not more than nine feet from said shaft in the upper vein.

SECTION 1771. The owner, operator or agent shall cover the cages with one-fourth-inch boiler plate, so as to keep safe so far as possible persons descending into and ascending out of such shaft, and no person shall descend any shaft when coal is ascending on the other cage.

SECTION 1772. There shall be a formality of signals at all coal shafts in this State, with a signal bell in the bottom of each shaft. One bell shall signify to hoist coal or empty cage, and also to stop either when in motion. Two bells shall signify that men are coming up. When return signal is received from the engineer, men will get in the cage and ring one bell to hoist. Four bells shall signify to hoist slowly, implying danger. The engineer's signal for men to get on the cage shall be one bell.

SECTION 1773. A copy of [the above] section * * * shall be printed and conspicuously posted at the top and bottom of the shaft and in the engine room, by the owner, operator or agent of the mine.

SECTION 1774. The mining boss shall visit and examine every working place in the mine at least every alternate day while the miners of such place are, or should be, at work and shall examine and see that each and every working place is properly secured by props or timber, and that safety in all respects is assured, and that no person shall be permitted in an unsafe place, unless it be for the purpose of making it safe. He shall advise that a sufficient supply of props, caps and timber are always on hand at the miners' working places. He shall see also that all loose coal, slate and rock overhead wherein miners have to travel to and from their work, are carefully secured.

SECTION 1775. For any injury to persons or property occasioned by any violation of this act, or any willful failure to comply with any of its provisions, a right of action against the owner, operator or agent shall accrue to the party injured for the direct injury sustained thereby, and in case of loss of life by reason of such violation, a right of action shall accrue to the widow, children or adopted children, or to parents or parent, or to any other person or persons who were before such loss of life dependent for support on the person or persons so killed for like recovery for damages for the injury sustained by reason of such loss of life or lives.

SECTION 1776. Whenever loss of life shall occur by reason of any accident whatsoever in or about any coal mine, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such coal mine to report the facts thereof without delay to the mine inspector, and the said mine inspector shall immediately go to the scene of said accident. He shall investigate and ascertain the cause of such loss of life, and have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and administer oaths or affirmations to them, and the cost of such investigation shall be paid by the county in which the loss of life may have occurred, in the same manner as costs of coroners' inquests are now paid. The inspector shall give testimony in any suit for damages for the violation of any provisions of this act.

SECTION 1777. The failure of the person in charge of any coal mine in which loss of life may have occurred to give notice to the mine inspector * * * shall subject such person to a fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars * * * and in default of payment of such fine he shall be sentenced to not less than sixty days nor more than ninety days in the county jail.

SECTION 1778. The owner, operator or agent of every coal mine, whether shaft, slope or drift, shall provide and maintain hereafter for every such mine ample means of ventilation, affording not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute for each and every person employed in said mine, and as much more as the circumstances may require, which shall be circulated around the main entries and cross-entries and working places to an extent that will render harmless all noxious or dangerous gases generated there, and every place where fire damp is known to exist, or supposed to exist, shall be carefully examined by the fire boss, immediately, before each shift, with a safety lamp, and in making said examination it shall be the duty of the fire boss, at each examination, to leave at the face of every place examined, evidence of his presence, and it shall be unlawful for any miners to enter any mine, or part of a mine, generating fire damp until it has been examined by the fire boss, as aforesaid, and reported by him to be safe.

SECTION 1779. The currents of air in mines shall be split, so as to give a separate current to at least every one hundred persons at work, and the mine inspector shall have discretion to order a separate current for a smaller number of men if special conditions render it necessary. Whenever the mine inspector shall find men working without sufficient air, or under any unsafe conditions, he shall give to [the] operator a reasonable notice to rectify the same, and upon his refusal to do so, may himself order the men out until said portions of said mines shall be put in proper condition.

SECTION 1780. Breaks-through, or air-ways, shall be made in every room at least every eighty feet, and all breaks-through, or air-ways, except those last made near the working places of the mine, shall be closed up and made air-tight. The doors used in assisting or directing the ventilation of a mine when coal is being hauled through, shall be opened and closed by persons designated to do the same, so that the driver or other person may not cause the doors to stand open.

SECTION 1781. In order to better secure the proper ventilation of every coal mine and promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein, the owner, operator or agent shall employ a competent mining boss who shall be an experienced coal miner, and shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus and the air-ways, and shall see that, as the miners advance their excavations all loose coal, slate and rock overhead are carefully secured against falling therein or on the traveling ways. He shall measure the air current at least once a week at the inlet and outlet, and at or near the face of the entries. He shall keep a record of such measurements which shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose, the said book to be opened for the inspection of the mine inspector. He shall, also, on or about the first day of each month, mail to the inspector a true copy of the air measurements given, stating also the number of persons employed in or about said mine, the mules and horses used and the number of days worked in each month * * *

SECTION 1782. The provisions of this act shall apply to all coal mines in this State.

SECTION 1783. The neglect or refusal to perform the duties required to be performed by * * * this act, by the parties therein required to perform them, or the violation of any of the provisions or requirements hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars, and not exceeding two hundred dollars * * * .

CHAPTER 66a.—Coal-mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 3442. The owner or owners or lessee of each and every coal mine or colliery in this State, which is worked by means of a shaft, shall make and construct an escapement shaft, making at least two distinct means of ingress and egress for all persons employed or permitted to work in such coal mine or colliery. Such escapement shaft, or other communication with a contiguous mine, shall be constructed in connection with every stratum of coal worked in such coal mine or colliery; and every escapement shaft, or other communication with a contiguous mine, as aforesaid, shall be so constructed as to be accessible from every entry, plane or level in said coal mine or colliery, in case of a fire or other accident to the main shaft. * * *

SECTION 3443. The time allowed for such construction shall be four months for the first fifty feet or fractional part thereof, and three months for each and every additional fifty feet in depth of said escapement shaft so to be constructed. And every such escapement shall be separated from the main shaft by at least one hundred feet of natural strata. * * *

SECTION 3444. Any owner or owners or lessee of any coal mine or colliery, who shall neglect or refuse to comply with sections one and two of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 3445. Any miner, workman or other person who shall knowingly obstruct or throw open any airways, or carry lighted lamps into places that are worked by the light of safety-lamps, or shall move or disturb any part of the machinery of the hoisting engine, or whim, or open a door in the mine, and not have the same closed again, whereby danger is produced, either to the mine or those at work therein, or who shall enter into any part of the mine against caution, or who shall disobey any order given in pursuance of this act, or who shall do any wilful act whereby the lives and health of persons working in the mine, or the security of the mine or miners, or the machinery thereof is endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 3458. The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine shall make or cause to be made within six months after the passage of this act, an accurate map or plan of the workings of such coal mine, and each and every vein thereof, on a scale not exceeding one hundred feet to the inch, and showing the bearings and distances, which shall be kept in the office of such coal mine; and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or operator of such coal mine to furnish the state inspector with a true copy of said map or plan, the same to be deposited at his office. And such owner, agent or operator shall cause, on or before the 10th day of July of each year, a plan of the progress of the workings of such coal mine during the year past to be marked on the original map or plan of the said coal mine, and the inspector shall correct his map or plan of said workings in accordance with the above plan or map thus furnished. And when any coal mine is worked out or abandoned, the fact shall be reported to the inspector, and the map or plan of such coal mine in his office shall be carefully corrected and verified: Provided, If the owner, agent or operator of any coal mine shall neglect or refuse, or for any cause fail, for the period of two months after the time prescribed, to furnish the said map or plan as hereby required, or if the inspector shall find, or have reason to believe, that any map or plan of any coal mine furnished in pursuance of this act is materially inaccurate or imperfect, he is hereby authorized to cause a correct map or plan of the actual workings of said coal mine to be made at the expense of the owner, agent or operator thereof, the cost of which shall be recovered from said owner, agent or operator as other debts are recoverable by law: Provided, That if the map or plan which the inspector claimed to be incorrect shall prove to have been correct, then the aforesaid expense shall be paid by the inspector.

SECTION 3459, (as amended by chapter 174, acts of 1889). It shall not be lawful, after six months from the passage of this act, for the owner, agent or operator of any coal mine to employ any person at work within said coal mine, or permit any person to be in said coal mine for the purpose of working therein, unless they are in communication with at least two openings, separated by natural strata of not less than eighty feet in breadth if the mine be worked by shaft or slope, and if worked by drift not less than fifty feet: Provided, however, That such coal mine shall not exceed one hundred feet in depth, from the surface to the coal; and for every additional one hundred feet, or fractional part thereof, six months additional time will be granted; but in all cases the number of men shall be limited, not to exceed twenty-five until the second opening is perfected and made available: and a roadway to the same shall be kept open, not less than three feet high and four feet wide, thereby forming a communication as contemplated in this act, but the limit herein prescribed as to the number working in the shaft before the completion of the second opening shall not apply to mines exceeding seven hundred feet in depth. And for a failure to do as provided in this section, the owner, agent or operator shall be subject to the penalty provided for in section [3472] * * *. And in case furnace ventilation being used before the second opening is reached, the furnace shall not be within forty feet of the foot of the shaft, and shall be secured from danger from fire by brick or stone walls of sufficient thickness; and the flues shall be composed of incombustible material to an extent of not less than thirty feet from the furnace and the mine while being driven for making or perfecting a second opening. In all cases where the human voice cannot be distinctly heard, the owner, agent or operator shall provide and maintain a metal tube from the top to the bottom of the shaft or slope, suitably adapted to the free passage of sound, through which conversation may be held between persons at the bottom and top of such shaft or slope; and there shall also be maintained the ordinary means of signaling to and from the top and bottom of such shaft or slope. In all mines of one hundred feet in depth or over from the surface of the ground an improved safety-catch shall be used, and sufficient horns or flanges shall be attached to the sides of the drum of every machine that is used for lowering or hoisting persons into and out of said mine where steam is used, and adequate brakes shall be attached thereto. The main link attached to the swivel of the wire rope shall be made of the best quality of iron, and shall be tested by weights or other means satisfactory to the inspector of mines of the State; and bridle chains shall be attached to the main link from the cross-pieces of the cage, and no single-link chain shall be used for lowering or raising persons into or out of said mine; and not more than six persons shall be lowered or hoisted by the machinery at any one time; and only sober, competent and experienced engineers shall be employed, and said engineer shall have attained at least the age of eighteen years; and on no account shall any coal be hoisted, or timber or any other material sent up or down, or empty cars, while persons are descending into or ascending out of said mine. In all coal mines hereafter opened, or that shall hereafter go into operation in the State, the owner thereof, or owners, lessee, agent or operator shall construct such escapement shaft as is now required by law in this State, at the rate of fifty feet every six months until such escapement shaft shall have been fully completed; and until such escapement shaft is fully completed and connected with the main shaft, it shall be unlawful to work over twenty-five men in said mine. * * *

SECTION 3460. Every steam boiler used in or around the coal mines of this State shall be provided with a proper steam gauge and water gauge, to show respectively the pressure of steam and the height of water in the boiler, and to be also provided with a proper safety valve; and the owner, agent or operator shall have the said boiler or boilers examined and inspected by a competent boiler maker, or other qualified person, once in every six months, and the result of every examination shall be certified in writing, and conveyed to the mine inspector to be filed in the records of his office.

SECTION 3461. The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall * * * provide and thereafter maintain for every such mine ample means of ventilation, affording 100 cubic feet of air per minute per person in all mines where the coal strata are three feet thick or over, and a proportionate amount for thinner strata which shall be circulated whenever any person or persons may be working in said mine. The inspector may increase the amount when necessary, to such an extent as will dilute, carry off and render harmless the noxious gases generated therein; and all mines generating fire-damp shall be kept free of standing gas, and every working-place shall be carefully examined every morning with a safety lamp, by a competent person, before any workman is allowed to enter therein; and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or operator of every coal mine to provide and maintain air-ways of sufficient dimension to supply the requisite amount of air.

SECTION 3462. In order to better secure the proper ventilation of every coal mine, and promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein, the owner, agent or operator shall employ a competent and practical inside overseer, to be called "mining boss," who shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus, the air-ways, traveling-ways, pumps and pump timbers and drainage, and shall see that as the miners advance their excavations all loose coal, slate and rock, overhead, are carefully secured against falling in upon the traveling-ways. And every underground plane on which persons travel, worked by self-acting pulleys, engines, windlasses or machinery of whatever description, shall be provided with proper means of signaling between the stopping-places and the ends of the plane; and shall furthermore be provided in every case, at intervals of not more than thirty feet, with sufficient man-holes for places of refuge. And every road on which persons travel underground, where the coal is drawn by mules or other animals, shall be provided, at intervals of not more than sixty feet, with sufficient man-holes for places of refuge. And every mine shall be supplied with sufficient prop timber, of suitable length and size for the places where it is to be used, and kept in easy access to. And it shall also be the duty of the mining boss to measure the air current at least once per week at the inlet and outlet, and at the face of the workings, and keep a record of such measurements, and report the same to the inspector of the State once in every month. The safety lamps used for examining the mines, or which may be used for working therein, shall be furnished by and be the property of the owner of said mine, and shall be in charge of the agent of such mine. And in all mines generating explosive gases, the doors used in assisting or directing the ventilation of the mine shall be so hung and adjusted that they will close themselves, or be supplied with springs or pulleys so they cannot be left standing open; and boreholes shall be kept, not less than twelve feet in advance of the face of every working-place, and when necessary, on the sides, if the same is driven toward and in dangerous proximity to an abandoned mine suspected of containing inflammable gases, or which is inundated with water.

SECTION 3463. No miner, workman or other person shall take into any mine more than five pounds of powder at one time, and this shall be used before taking any more into the mine; and all powder or other explosive substance shall be kept in a close, tight vessel. Any miner, workman or other person who shall intentionally injure any safety lamp, instrument, air-way brattice, or obstruct or throw open air-ways, or carry lighted lamps, pipes or matches into places worked by the light of safety lamps, or shall move or disturb any part of the machinery, or open a door and not close it again, or enter any place of the mine against caution, or disobey any order given in carrying out the provisions of this act, or who shall do any wilful act whereby the lives or health of persons, or the security of the mine or the machinery is endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine or imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 3464. All machinery about mines and the entrance of every abandoned shaft or slope shall be properly fenced off, and the top of each shaft and each landing of the same shall be fenced around with a fence not less than three feet high on every side, except the side or sides used for loading and unloading the cages, and this side or sides shall have gates or bars, which shall be kept closed at all times except during the active use of the cages at these places; and there shall be cut in the side of every hoisting shaft at the bottom thereof a traveling-way sufficiently high and wide to enable persons to pass the shaft in going from one side of the mine to the other without passing over or under the cages or other hoisting apparatus.

SECTION 3465. * * * the governor of the State, with the advice and consent of the executive council, shall appoint a qualified person to be inspector of mines, * * *. The qualifications for said office of inspector of mines shall be as follows, namely: He * * * shall have had at least five years' experience working in and around coal mines; and he shall furnish evidence of such practical as well as theoretical knowledge of the working of coal mines and noxious gases as will satisfy the governor and executive council of his capacity and fitness for the performance of the duties imposed upon an inspector of mines * * *. He shall reside in the State, and keep an office as centrally located as practicable to the mining districts of the State. * * *

SECTION 3467. No person who shall act as a manager or agent of any coal mine, or as a mining engineer, or be interested in operating any coal mine, shall at the same time act as inspector of coal mines * * *.

SECTION 3468. For any injury to person or property occasioned by any violation of this act, or any wilful failure to comply with its provisions by any owner, lessee or operator of any coal mine or opening, a right of action against the party at fault shall accrue to the party injured for the direct damage sustained thereby; and in any case of loss of life by reason of such violation or wilful failure, a right of action against the party at fault shall accrue to the widow and lineal heirs of the person whose life shall be lost, for like recovery of damages for the injury they shall have sustained.

SECTION 3469. The inspector of mines shall devote the whole of his time to the duties of his office. It shall be his duty to examine each mine in the State as often as possible, and at least twice each year, to see that all provisions of this act are observed and strictly carried out: and he shall make a record of all examinations of mines, showing the condition in which he finds them, the number of persons employed in and about each mine, the extent to which the law is obeyed, the progress made in the improvements sought to be secured by the passage of this act, the number of accidents and deaths resulting from injuries received in the mines, and all other facts of public interest concerning the condition and progress of mining in this State. In order to facilitate the inspector in his duties, it shall be the duty of all coal operators to make quarterly statements to the inspector of the amount of coal mined, and the number of miners and other persons employed around the mines each quarter. The inspector's record and all matters concerning the coal-mining business of public interest, shall be embodied in the inspector's annual report made to the governor on the first day of February each year.

SECTION 3470, (as amended by chapter 171, acts of 1889). That the inspector may be enabled to perform the duties here imposed on him, he shall have the right at all times to enter any coal mine to make examination or obtain information. He shall notify the owners, lessees or agents immediately of the discovery of any violations of this act and of the penalty imposed thereby for such violation: and in case of such notice being disregarded for the space of ten days, he shall institute a prosecution against the owner, owners, lessee or agent of the mine, under the provisions of section [3472]. In any case, however, where in the judgment of the inspector delay may jeopardize life or limb, he shall at once proceed to the mine where the danger exists and examine into the matter, and if after full investigation thereof he shall be of the opinion that there is immediate danger, he shall apply in the name of the State to the district court of the county in which the mine may be located, or to the district judge in vacation, for an injunction to suspend all work in and about such mine; whereupon said court, or judge in vacation, if the cause appear to be sufficient after hearing the parties and their evidence as in like cases, shall issue a writ to restrain the working until all cause of danger is removed. And the cost of said proceedings, including the charges of attorney prosecuting said application, shall be borne by the owner of the coal mine: Provided, That no fee exceeding the sum of twenty-five dollars shall be taxed in any one case for the attorney prosecuting such case: Provided further, That if said court (or judge in vacation) shall find the cause not sufficient, then the case shall be dismissed and the cost shall be borne by the State or county in the discretion of the court (or judge in vacation).

SECTION 3471. Whenever, by reason of any explosion, or other accident, in any coal mine, or the machinery connected therewith, loss of life, or serious personal injury, shall occur, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such coal mine to give notice thereof forthwith to the inspector, and if any person is killed thereby to the coroner of the county, who shall give due notice of the inquest to be held. It shall be the duty of the inspector upon being notified as herein provided, to immediately repair to the scene of the accident, and make such suggestions as may appear necessary to secure the future safety of the men; and if the results of the explosion do not require an investigation by the coroner, he shall proceed to investigate and ascertain the cause of the explosion or accident, and make a record thereof, which he shall file as provided for; and to enable him to make the investigation, he shall have power to compel the attendance of persons to testify, and to administer oaths or affirmations. The cost of such investigation shall be paid by the county in which the accident occurred, in the same manner as costs of inquests held by the coroner or justices of the peace are paid.

SECTION 3472. Any owner, or owners, lessee, agent or operator of any coal mine who shall neglect or refuse to comply with sections one, two, three, four, five, six and eight of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All penalties recovered under this act shall be applied, in the county in which the fine is collected, to the support of common schools.

SECTION 3473. SECTION 2. In event of the failure or refusal of such owner, agent, or superintendent, for two months after the time designated, to make the plan or map, or the addition thereto, the inspector is authorized to cause accurate map or plan of such mine to be made at the expense of the owner of such mine, the cost of which shall be recoverable against the owner by the person making said map or plan in any court of competent jurisdiction. In case of refusal or failure of the owner, agent, or superintendent to make, or cause to be made, such map and additions thereto for sixty days after notice from the inspector, said owner, agent, or superintendent so refusing shall be liable to a fine of five dollars a day for each day elapsing until such map is made, said fine to be collected by indictment by the grand jury of the county in which the mine to be mapped is situate.

Such letting shall be for such period of time as said directors may deem most advantageous to the State, not exceeding ten years; * * *. If the said directors shall fail to secure such bid under the foregoing provision as they may deem best to accept, they may, by private contract, * * * let to hire the convict labor, to be employed within the walls of said penitentiary, for such period of time, not exceeding ten years, as in their judgment the best interests of the Commonwealth may require; and in making any such contract they are authorized to include all the labor to be employed in the penitentiary at Frankfort on the same terms, for the same period of time, * * * to take effect immediately upon the termination of the present lease. * * *

SECTION 4. If the directors shall fail to let or hire the labor of the convicts, as hereinbefore provided, they may, in their discretion, defer the withdrawal of the convicts until such time as arrangements can be made for employing them inside the penitentiary at Eddyville, under the auspices of the Commonwealth; and to that end they are hereby authorized * * * to make all necessary contracts for providing machinery, implements and materials therefor, and for the disposition of all manufactured articles, * * *.

CHAPTER 1529.—Convict labor.

PREAMBLE. Whereas, by existing laws, certain classes of convicts are hired or leased * * * to be worked outside of the prison walls; and whereas, it is the sense of this legislature that the present system of working convicts outside the walls of the penitentiary in competition with free labor it is unjust to the great labor interests of the State and in violation of the spirit of our penal laws; therefore, * * * ;

SECTION 1. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to advance, with all reasonable rapidity, the construction and completion of the Eddyville prison, * * *

SECTION 2. With a view to accomplishing this end as speedily as may be possible, * * * the governor is hereby authorized * * * to consider bids from persons to contract * * * for a lease of said prison, * * *. He may contract with such parties, being the lowest and best bidders, for a term of years not greater than ten, and only on such terms as will, at least, relieve the State of all further expense in completing this prison and equipping it with the necessary machinery for the steady and constant employment of at least four hundred convicts; * * *

SECTION 5. If, however, it is found that a contract cannot be effected by which the State can be saved of all further cost, then the governor shall make, by partial work upon the buildings and temporary structures, the best arrangement in his power whereby the confinement of four hundred prisoners and their steady employment therein can be secured, * * * SECTION 3. In like manner the courts of record of this State shall, in a suit brought by a union or association of working men or women, restrain by injunction, every unauthorized use or display by others of the genuine labels, marks, names, brands, or devices, registered in the manner specified in the first section of this act, in all cases where such use or display is not authorized by the owner or owners thereof, and shall award damages and profits in such cases the same as in cases of the use of counterfeited labels, marks, names, brands, or devices.

SECTION 195. Any person, body corporate, agent, manager or employer, who shall violate any of the provisions of the foregoing section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than fifty dollars.

ARTICLE 1.—Coal-mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 196. The governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint one mine inspector for the counties of Allegany and Garrett, who shall hold his office for two years from the date of his appointment.

SECTION 197. No person shall be eligible to the office of mine inspector until he shall have attained the age of thirty-five years, and shall possess a competent knowledge of all the different systems of mining and working and properly ventilating coal mines, and the nature and constituent parts of noxious gases of mines, and of the various ways of expelling the same from said mines.

SECTION 199. It shall be the duty of the said mine inspector to carefully examine all mines that may be in operation in the counties of Allegany and Garrett, at least once in every month, and oftener if necessary, to see that every precaution is taken to insure safety to all workmen that may be engaged in said mines, and to see that the provisions of sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207 and 209, are strictly observed; * * *

SECTION 201. The owner or lessee of every coal mine that may be in operation in the said counties of Allegany and Garrett shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the workings of such mine, which shall be kept at the office of the company, lessee or individual so mining, and shall be at all times accessible to the said inspector for reference only.

SECTION 202. The owner, lessee or agent of every coal mine that may now or hereafter be in operation in the said counties of Allegany or Garrett, whether worked by slope, shaft or draft [drift], shall provide and establish for every such mine, a proper system of pure air ventilation by such modes as are now in use in the coal mines of Allegany and Garrett counties, which said ventilation shall be maintained through every working heading throughout the entire mine, so as to expel from said mines the noxious gases and impure air, and thus keep the entire mine in a healthful condition for the men working therein, and free from danger to their lives from such impure air and gases.

SECTION 203. To secure the proper ventilation of every coal mine in the counties of Allegany and Garrett, and to provide for the health and safety of the men employed therein, the owner, lessee or agent of each mine shall employ a competent and practical inside overseer, whose duty it shall be to keep a careful watch over all the ventilating apparatus that may be placed in said mine, as well as all the air-ways, all the traveling-ways, and all the timberings, and to see that all loose coal and rocks overhead are carefully secured against falling upon any of the miners engaged at work therein, as they advance in their excavations; and it shall be the duty of the inside overseer so employed, to take charge of and keep a careful watch over all things connected with and appertaining to the safety of the men at work in the mine, and to report to the owner, lessee or agent of said mine when and where anything under his charge is unfit for mining purposes; and it shall also be the duty of the inside overseer so employed, to take charge of and pay strict attention to all the air doors used in the ventilation of said mines; and all air doors used in the ventilation of said mines shall be suspended in such a manner that they will close of their own accord.

SECTION 204. The owner, lessee or agent of every mine in operation in the said counties of Allegany and Garrett shall furnish at his own expense all props and all the requisite timber that may be used in the working of said mines; and as the miners employed at work therein proceed with the working of their excavations, it shall be the duty of the owner, lessee or agent of said mines to furnish a sufficient quantity of timber at the place where the miners are at work; and whenever the said workmen engaged in the said excavation shall deem it safe and proper to have any of the props or timbers removed from said excavations, it shall be the duty of the person so employed by the owner, lessee or agent, to remove the said props and timbers to whatever point or place the workmen engaged therein may require, but no props or timber whatever shall be removed when such removal may endanger the lives of any of the workmen engaged therein.

SECTION 205. Whenever any impure air or gases are known to exist in any of the mines in the said counties of Allegany and Garrett, which are likely to endanger the lives of the miners employed therein, it shall be the duty of the mine inspector, upon the same being made known to him, to proceed at once to make a careful examination of the ventilating apparatus of the said mine, and if he shall find that the gases and impure air existing in said mine are occasioned by the bad condition of the ventilating apparatus connected therewith, he shall immediately notify the owner, lessee or agent, to expel from the said mine all noxious gases and impure air existing therein, and to properly ventilate the same.

SECTION 206. The mine inspector shall also be inspector of weights at all the mines now or hereafter operated in said Allegany and Garrett counties, and shall have power to weigh the coal mined therein, from time to time, on the scales at the different mines in said counties, and to test the accuracy of such scales, and to do any other act that he may deem necessary to ascertain whether or not the miners are allowed full weight of coal in the mining cars when placed upon the scales of the different mines; * * *

SECTION 207. It shall be the duty of every person or body corporate, operating a mine or mines in either of said counties, as owner, lessee or agent, to provide correct and accurate scales for weighing the coal mined therein before the same shall be taken from the mine cars used by the miners therein.

SECTION 208. Any owner, lessee, agent or operator of any coal mine in said counties of Allegany or Garrett, or any other person therein, neglecting or refusing to comply with or violating in any manner any of the provisions of sections 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207 and 209, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon indictment and conviction thereof may be fined for each and every said offence a sum not less than ten dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, in the discretion of the court.

SECTION 209. It shall be lawful, however, notwithstanding the provisions of sections 206 and 207, for any corporation or individual engaged in mining coal in Allegany and Garrett counties, in this State, in or by a shaft, to contract with miners to dig the coal therein or therefrom by measurement; and in all cases where the wages of the miners are by contract or agreement ascertained by the cubic yard or other measurement, it shall not be obligatory upon such corporations or individuals so contracting to provide scales, or any weighmaster or weighmasters at such shaft, or to weigh any coal therein or taken therefrom; but the miners' cars used in any mine worked by a shaft shall be measured by a sworn measurer, and the capacity of each car shall be stamped or branded thereon.

ARTICLE 4.—Seats for female employés.

SECTION 398. It shall be the duty of all employers of females in any mercantile or manufacturing business or occupation in the city of Baltimore to provide and maintain suitable seats for the use of such female employés, and to permit the use of such seats by such employés to such an extent as may be reasonable for the preservation of their health.

SECTION 399. Any violation of the preceding section by any employer shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine of one hundred and fifty dollars, to be collected as other fines are collected.

ARTICLE 4.—Inspection etc. of steam boilers in Baltimore.

SECTION 509. SECTION 510. The city of Baltimore is divided into two districts, which shall be known as the first and second steam boiler inspection districts; * * *

SECTION 511. The inspectors, before entering on the discharge of their duties, shall provide themselves with an office in a central part of said city, also with the necessary apparatus and appliances for the testing of steam boilers; and they shall give notice for three successive days, through the two daily papers having the largest circulation in said city, of the time and manner in which they shall receive the reports of the locations of steam boilers.

SECTION 512. Every owner or renter using a steam boiler in said city, shall, within ten days after the publication of the aforesaid notice, report to the inspector of the district the location of such boiler, under a penalty of fifty dollars for each day a boiler is used and neglected to be reported.

SECTION 513. The inspector of each district shall give six days' notice in writing to each owner or renter of a steam boiler, or the engineer or person in charge, of the time when he will inspect such boiler; and such owner or renter shall have such boiler ready for inspection, in compliance with the requirements of said notice, and shall furnish such assistance as the inspector may require, under a penalty of fifty dollars for such failure or neglect, and a further penalty of fifty dollars for each day any such boiler is used without a certificate of inspection.

SECTION 514. It shall be the duty of each inspector, once at least in every year, to inspect all stationary steam boilers of three-horse power and upwards, used within the limits of his district, subjecting them to a hydrostatic test of at least twenty-five percent. in excess of the steam pressure allowed, and satisfy himself, by a thorough external and internal examination, (if possible) with a hammer, that the boilers are free from danger from corrosion or other defects, are well made of good material, the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat are of proper dimensions, and free from obstruction; that the flues and tubes, if any, are circular in form, the furnaces in proper shape, and the fire line of the furnace is at least two inches below the minimum water line of the boilers; and shall also satisfy himself that the safety-valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number and well arranged, and that the weights are properly adjusted so as to allow no greater pressure in the boiler than the amount prescribed in the certificate of inspection: that there is a sufficient number of gauge cocks, a steam gauge, a coupling-cock in suitable position for attaching the hydrostatic test, that means for blowing-out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove the mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under the pressure of steam, and that fusible metals are properly inserted so to fuse by the heat of the furnaces when the water in the boilers shall fall below the prescribed limits, and that adequate and certain provision is made for an ample supply of water at all times; when the inspection is completed and the inspector approves the boiler, he shall make and subscribe a certificate of inspection, stating the condition of the boiler, the number of years or months it has been in use, and the pressure of steam allowed; and no greater pressure than that allowed by the certificate shall be applied to such boiler. In limiting pressure, whenever the boiler under test will, with safety, bear the same, the limit desired by the owner shall be the one certified; and such certificate of inspection shall be framed under glass, and kept in some conspicuous place on the premises where said boiler referred to is used; and if the inspector shall deliver or cause to be delivered to the owner or renter of any boiler a certificate of inspection without having first subjected the said boiler to the tests as herein provided, he shall forfeit his bond, and upon conviction shall be removed from office by the governor.

SECTION 515. In addition to the annual inspection, it shall be the duty of the inspector to examine all boilers within the limits of their respective districts once at least in every three months, and if deemed necessary, apply the hydrostatic test; and if on such examination the inspector shall find evidence of deterioration in strength, he shall revoke the certificate and issue another, assigning a lower rate of pressure; and if the defect be of such character as to make the boiler dangerous, the inspector shall notify the owner or renter in writing, stating in the notice what is required, and order the use of the boiler discontinued until the necessary repairs are made; and if he considers it beyond repair, he shall condemn it; and if the owner or renter shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of the inspector, and shall, contrary thereto, and while the same remains unreversed, use the boiler, he shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars for each day such boiler is used, and in addition thereto shall be liable for any damage to persons or property which shall occur from any defects, as stated in the notice of the inspector.

SECTION 516. Any owner or renter of a boiler, who shall consider himself aggrieved by the action of the inspector, under the provisions of the preceding section, may, within ten days after such inspection, notify the inspector, of the fact, and demand a re-examination of the said boiler; the owner or renter shall select a practical engineer, who, with the inspector, shall select a third person, skilled in the manufacture and use of steam boilers, which said two persons, after taking an oath as reviewers, shall, together with the inspector, carefully examine the said boiler, and the decision of any two of these shall be final; should the decision of the inspector be sustained, the said owner or renter shall pay the expense of such review; but should it be reversed, the inspector shall restore the certificate, and the expense of the review shall be paid by the State; such reviewers shall receive five dollars for each day or part of a day they are engaged in making such review.

SECTION 517. Any person erecting or using a steam boiler without having the same inspected by the inspector of the district in which the said boiler is located, shall pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and fifty dollars for each day any such boiler is used without being inspected; and any person who shall alter or change a steam gauge or weight on a safety-valve for the purpose of carrying a greater pressure of steam on a boiler than that allowed by the certificate of inspection, shall be liable to a fine of five hundred dollars; and any owner or renter of a steam boiler who shall neglect or refuse to place his certificate of inspection on the premises, as prescribed in section 514 hereof, shall pay a fine of five dollars for each day's refusal or neglect.

SECTION 518. The inspector shall have power to examine the engineers and assistants in charge of boilers, and if any engineer or assistant is found incompetent or addicted to intemperance, the inspector shall notify the owner or renter, and withdraw the certificate of inspection until such engineer or assistant is displaced.

SECTION 520. It shall be the duty of each inspector to keep a correct record of the locations of all boilers in his district, when each boiler was inspected, the condition of the same at the time of inspection, the instructions given to the engineers in charge, the certificates issued, and the amount of steam pressure allowed in each certificate, and the boilers condemned or ordered to be repaired; also a correct account of all money received or paid out; and they shall report the same annually to the comptroller of the State.

SECTION 523. Every steam boiler insurance company doing business in this State shall have a resident inspector, whose duty it shall be to make inspections of steam boilers submitted for insurance to such steam boiler insurance company; and any owner or renter of a steam boiler who has the same insured in a steam boiler insurance company doing business in this State, in compliance with the laws thereof, and having a resident inspector and an established system of inspection, must immediately after the first annual inspection in each year by such resident inspector of such steam boiler insurance company, present to the State inspector of the district in which the said steam boilers are located, the certificate of inspection of the said company; and the said company shall be charged and chargeable with a fee of one dollar for each and every boiler so inspected and insured, which shall be paid to the State inspector with such certificate: Provided, That when there is more than one steam boiler belonging to the same owner or renter so insured, then the fee so chargeable to the insurance company shall be one dollar per boiler for the first five, and one dollar for each additional five or fraction thereof over and above the first five; and upon the acceptance of the provisions of this section by the owner or renter of said steam boiler, the said owner or renter shall be exempted from the requirements of this sub-title of this article.

CHAPTER 74--Employment of labor.

SECTION 1. Any person or corporation engaged in manufacturing, which requires from persons in his or its employ, under penalty of forfeiture of a part of the wages earned by them, a notice of intention to leave such employ, shall be liable to the payment of a like forfeiture if he or it discharges without similar notice a person in such employ except for incapacity or misconduct, unless in case of a general suspension of labor in his or its shop or factory.

SECTION 2. Whoever by intimidation or force prevents or seeks to prevent a person from entering into or continuing in the employment of a person or corporation shall be punished by fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

SECTION 3. No person or corporation shall, by a special contract with persons in his or its employ, exempt himself or itself from any liability which he or it might otherwise be under to such persons for injuries suffered by them in their employment and which result from the employer's own negligence or from the negligence of other persons in his or its employ.

SECTION 4, (as amended by chapter 280, acts of 1887). No minor under eighteen years of age and no woman shall be employed in laboring in any manufacturing or mechanical establishment more than ten hours in any one day, except as hereinafter provided in this section, or when a different apportionment of the hours of labor is made for the sole purpose of making a shorter day's work for one day of the week; and in no case shall the hours of labor exceed sixty in a week. Every employer shall post in a conspicuous place in every room where such persons are employed a printed notice stating the number of hours' work required of them on each day of the week, the hours of commencing and stopping such work, and the hours when the time or times allowed for dinner or for other meals begins and ends, or in the case of establishments exempted from the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifteen of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, the time, if any, allowed for dinner and for other meals; the printed form of such notice shall be furnished by the chief of the district police, and shall be approved by the attorney-general; and the employment of any such person for a longer time in any day than that so stated shall be deemed a violation of this section, unless it appears that such employment is to make up for time lost on some previous day of the same week in consequence of the stopping of machinery upon which such person was employed or dependent for employment. But no stopping of machinery for a shorter continuous time than thirty minutes shall authorize such overtime employment, nor shall any such stopping authorize such employment unless or until a written report of the day and hour of its occurrence, with its duration, is sent to the chief of the district police or to the inspector of factories for the district. Any person who makes a false report of such stopping of machinery shall be punished by fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars. If any minor under eighteen years of age, or any woman, shall, without the orders, consent or knowledge of the employer, or of any superintendent, overseer, or other agent of the employer, labor in a manufacturing or mechanical establishment during any part of any time allowed for dinner or for other meals in such establishments, according to the notice above mentioned, and if a copy of such notice was posted in a conspicuous place in the room where such labor took place, together with a rule of the establishment forbidding such minor or woman to labor during such time, then neither the employer, nor any superintendent, overseer, or other agent of the employer, shall be held responsible for such employment.

SECTION 5. Whoever, either for himself, or as superintendent, overseer, or other agent of another, employs or has in his employment any person in violation of the provisions of the preceding section, and every parent or guardian who permits any minor to be so employed, shall be punished by fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence. Said penalty shall extend to corporations. A certificate of the age of a minor made by him and by his parent or guardian at the time of his employment in a manufacturing establishment shall be conclusive evidence of his age upon any trial for a violation of the preceding section.

CHAPTER 86.—Alien contract labor.

SECTION 12. Every corporation which brings into this Commonwealth any person not having a settlement therein, or by whose means or at whose instigation any such person is so brought, for the purpose of performing labor for such corporation, shall give a bond to the Commonwealth, to be delivered to the State board [of health, lunacy and charity] in the sum of three hundred dollars, conditioned that neither such person, nor any one legally dependent on him for support, shall within two years become a city, town, or State charge.

CHAPTER 98.—Sunday labor.

SECTION 2, (as amended by chapter 391, acts of 1887). Whoever on the Lord's day keeps open his shop, warehouse, or workhouse, or does any manner of labor, business, or work, except works of necessity and charity, * * * shall be punished by fine not exceeding fifty dollars for each offence. But nothing in this section shall be held to prohibit the manufacture and distribution of steam, gas or electricity for illuminating purposes, heat or motive power, nor the distribution of water for fire or domestic purposes, nor the use of the telegraph or the telephone, nor the retail sale of drugs and medicines, nor articles ordered by the prescription of a physician, nor mechanical appliances used by physicians or surgeons, nor the letting of horses and carriages, nor the letting of yachts and boats, nor the running of steam ferryboats on established routes, of street-railway cars, nor the preparation, printing and publishing of newspapers, nor the sale and delivery of newspapers, nor the retail sale and delivery of milk, nor the transportation of milk, nor the making of butter and cheese, nor the keeping open of public bath houses, nor the making or selling by bakers or their employes of bread or other food usually dealt in by them before ten of the clock in the morning and between the hours of four of the clock and half-past six of the clock in the evening.

SECTION 13, (as amended by chapter 391, acts of 1887.) Whoever conscientiously believes that the seventh day of the week ought to be observed as the Sabbath, and actually refrains from secular business and labor on that day, shall not be liable to the penalties of this chapter for performing secular business or labor on the Lord's day, if he disturbs no other person.

CHAPTER 100.—Sale of liquor to employés.

SECTION 25. The * * * employer of a person who has or may hereafter have the habit of drinking spirituous or intoxicating liquor to excess, may give notice in writing, signed by him or her, to any person, requesting him not to sell or deliver such liquor to the person having such habit. If the person so notified at any time within twelve months thereafter sells or delivers any such liquor to the person having such habit, or permits such person to loiter on his premises, the person giving the notice may, in an action of tort, recover of the person notified such sum, not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, as may be assessed as damages: Provided, That an employer giving such notice shall not recover unless he is injured in his person or property. * * *

CHAPTER 102.—Inspection of steam engines and boilers.

SECTION 49. The fire commissioners of the city of Boston, the mayor and aldermen of any other city, or the selectmen of a town, or any person by them authorized, may, after notice to the parties interested, examine any steam-engine or steam-boiler therein, whether fixed or portable; and for that purpose may enter any house, shop, or building; and if upon such examination it appears probable that the use of such engine or boiler is unsafe, they may issue a temporary order to suspend such use; and if after giving the parties interested, so far as known, an opportunity to be heard, they adjudge such engine or boiler unsafe or defective or unfit to be used, they may pass a permanent order prohibiting the use thereof until it is rendered safe. If, after notice to the owner or person having charge thereof, such engine or boiler is used contrary to either of such orders, it shall be deemed a common nuisance, without any other proof thereof than its use.

SECTION 50. The fire commissioners, mayor and aldermen and selectmen, may abate and remove a steam-engine or steam-boiler erected or used contrary to the provisions of the preceding section in the same manner as boards of health may remove nuisances, under sections twenty-one, twenty-two, and twenty-three of chapter eighty.

SECTION 51. No person shall manufacture, set up, use, or cause to be used, a steam-boiler, unless it is provided with a fusible safety-plug made of lead or some other equally fusible material, and of a diameter of not less than one-half an inch, placed in the roof of the fire-box, when a fire-box is used, and in all cases in a part of the boiler fully exposed to the action of the fire, and as near the top of the water line as any part of the fire-surface of the boiler; and for this purpose Ashcroft's "protected safety fusible plug" may be used.

SECTION 52. Whoever without just and proper cause removes from a boiler the safety plug thereof, or substitutes therefor any material more capable of resisting the action of the fire than the plug so removed, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

SECTION 53. Whoever manufactures, sets up, or knowingly uses or causes to be used for six consecutive days a steam-boiler unprovided with a safety fusible plug as described in section fifty-one, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 103.—Factories and workshops.

SECTION 9. The governor shall appoint two or more of the district police to act as inspectors of factories and public buildings. * * *

SECTION 10, (as amended by chapter 218, acts of 1887). Such inspectors shall enforce the provisions of sections thirteen to twenty-two, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and four, except as therein specified, and the various provisions of law relating to the employment of women and minors in manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishments, and the employment of children, young persons or women in factories or workshops, and the ventilation of factories or workshops, and the securing of proper sanitary provisions in factories or workshops; and for this purpose said inspectors may enter all buildings used for public or manufacturing purposes, or for factories or workshops, examine the methods of protection from accident, the means of escape from fire, the sanitary provisions and the means of ventilation, and may make investigations as to the employment of children, young persons and women.

SECTION 11. The chief of the district police shall report in print to the governor, on or before the first day of January of each year, in relation to factories and public buildings, with such remarks, suggestions, and recommendations as he may deem necessary.

CHAPTER 104.—Factories and workshops.

SECTION 13. The belting, shafting, gearing, and drums of all factories, when so placed as to be, in the opinion of the inspectors mentioned in section nine of chapter one hundred and three, dangerous to persons employed therein while engaged in their ordinary duties, shall be as far as practicable securely guarded. No machinery, other than steam-engines, in a factory, shall be cleaned while running, if objected to in writing by one of said inspectors. All factories shall be well ventilated and kept clean.

SECTION 14, (as amended by chapter 208, acts of 1882). The openings of all hoistways, hatchways, elevators, and well-holes, upon every floor of a factory, or mercantile or public building shall be protected by good and sufficient trap-doors, or self-closing hatches and safety-catches, or such other safeguards as said inspectors direct; and all due diligence shall be used to keep such trap-doors closed at all times, except when in actual use by the occupant of the building having the use and control of the same. All elevator cabs or cars, whether used for freight or passengers, shall be provided with some suitable mechanical device, to be approved by the said inspectors, whereby the cabs or cars will be securely held in the event of accident to the shipper rope, or hoisting machinery, or from any similar cause.

SECTION 21. No explosive or inflammable compound shall be used in any factory in such place or manner as to obstruct or render hazardous the egress of operatives in case of fire.

SECTION 22, (as amended by chapter 266, acts of 1882). They shall hold office for one year or until their successors are appointed. On the first day of July in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-seven the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall appoint three members of said board in the manner above provided, one to serve for three years, one for two years and one for one year, or until their respective successors are appointed; and on the first day of July in each year thereafter the governor shall in the same manner appoint one member of said board to succeed the member whose term then expires, and to serve for the term of three years, or until his successor is appointed. If a vacancy occurs at any time, the governor shall in the same manner appoint some one to serve out the unexpired term; and he may in like manner remove any member of said board. Each member of said board shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, be sworn to a faithful discharge thereof. They shall at once organize by the choice of one of their number as chairman. Said board may appoint and remove a clerk of the board, who shall receive such salary as may be allowed by the board, but not exceeding twelve hundred dollars a year.

SECTION 2. The board shall, as soon as possible after its organization, establish such rules of procedure as shall be approved by the governor and council.

SECTION 3, (as amended by chapter 269, acts of 1887). Whenever any controversy or difference, not involving questions which may be the subject of a suit at law or bill in equity, exists between an employer, whether an individual, co-partnership or corporation, and his employees, if at the time he employs not less than twenty-five persons in the same general line of business in any city or town in this commonwealth, the board shall, upon application as hereinafter provided, and as soon as practicable thereafter, visit the locality of the dispute and make careful inquiry into the cause thereof, hear all persons interested therein who may come before them, advise the respective parties what, if anything, ought to be done or submitted to by either or both to adjust said dispute, and make a written decision thereof. This decision shall at once be made public, shall be recorded upon proper books of record to be kept by the secretary of said board, and a short statement thereof published in the annual report hereinafter provided for, and the said board shall cause a copy thereof to be filed with the clerk of the city or town where said business is carried on.

SECTION 4, (as amended by chapter 269, acts of 1887 and chapter 385, acts of 1890). Said application shall be signed by said employer, or by a majority of his employees in the department of the business in which the controversy or difference exists or their duly authorized agent or by both parties, and shall contain a concise statement of the grievances complained of, and a promise to continue on in business or at work without any lockout or strike until the decision of said board, if it shall be made within three weeks of the date of filing said application. When an application is signed by an agent claiming to represent a majority of such employees, the board shall satisfy itself that such agent is duly authorized in writing to represent such employees, but the names of the employees giving such authority shall be kept secret by said board. As soon as may be after the receipt of said application the secretary of said board shall cause public notice to be given of the time and place for the hearing thereon; but public notice need not be given when both parties to the controversy join in the application and present therewith a written request that no public notice be given. When such request is made, notice shall be given to the parties interested in such manner as the board may order, and the board may, at any stage of the proceedings, cause public notice to be given, notwithstanding such request. When notice has been given as aforesaid, each of the parties to the controversy, the employer on the one side, and the employees interested on the other side, may in writing nominate, and the board may appoint, one person to act in the case as expert assistant to the board. The two persons so appointed shall be skilled in and conversant with the business or trade concerning which the dispute has arisen. It shall be their duty, under the direction of the board to obtain and report to the board information concerning the wages paid and the methods and grades of work prevailing in manufacturing establishments within the commonwealth of a character similar to that in which the matters in dispute may have arisen. Said expert assistants shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of their duty; such oath to be administered by any member of the board, and a record thereof shall be preserved with the record of the proceedings in the case. They shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the commonwealth such compensation as shall be allowed and certified by the board, together with all necessary traveling expenses. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the board from appointing such other additional expert assistant or assistants as it may deem necessary. Should the petitioner or petitioners fail to perform the promise made in said application, the board shall proceed no further thereupon without the written consent of the adverse party. The board shall have power to summon as witness any operative in the departments of business affected and any person who keeps the records of wages earned in those departments, and to examine them under oath, and to require the production of books containing the record of wages paid. Summonses may be signed and oaths administered by any member of the board.

SECTION 5. Upon the receipt of such application and after such notice, the board shall proceed as before provided and render a written decision, which shall be open to public inspection, shall be recorded upon the records of the board and published at the discretion of the same, in an annual report to be made to the general court on or before the first day of February in each year.

SECTION 6. Said decision shall be binding upon the parties who join in said application for six months, or until either party has given the other notice in writing of his intention not to be bound by the same at the expiration of sixty days therefrom. Said notice may be given to said employees by posting the same in three conspicuous places in the shop or factory where they work.

SECTION 7, (as amended by chapter 269, acts of 1887). The parties to any controversy or difference as described in section three of this act may submit the matters in dispute, in writing, to a local board of arbitration and conciliation; such board may either be mutually agreed upon, or the employer may designate one of the arbitrators, the employees or their duly authorized agent another, and the two arbitrators so designated may choose a third, who shall be chairman of the board. Such board shall, in respect to the matters referred to it, have and exercise all the powers which the state board might have and exercise, and its decision shall have whatever binding effect may be agreed by the parties to the controversy in the written submission. The jurisdiction of such board shall be exclusive in respect to the matters submitted to it, but it may ask and receive the advice and assistance of the state board. The decision of such board shall be rendered within ten days of the close of any hearing held by it; such decision shall at once be filed with the clerk of the city or town in which the controversy or difference arose, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the state board. Each of such arbitrators shall be entitled to receive from the treasury of the city or town in which the controversy or difference that is the subject of the arbitration exists, if such payment is approved in writing by the mayor of such city or the board of selectmen of such town, the sum of three dollars for each day of actual service, not exceeding ten days for any one arbitration. Whenever it is made to appear to the mayor of a city or the board of selectmen of a town that a strike or lockout such as described in section eight of this act is seriously threatened or actually occurs, the mayor of such city or the board of selectmen of such town shall at once notify the state board of the facts.

SECTION 8, (as amended by chapter 269, acts of 1887). Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the state board, either by notice from the mayor of a city or the board of selectmen of a town, as provided in the preceding section or otherwise, that a strike or lockout is seriously threatened or has actually occurred in any city or town of the commonwealth, involving an employer and his present or past employees, if at the time he is employing, or up to the occurrence of the strike or lockout was employing not less than twenty-five persons in the same general line of business in any city or town in the commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the state board to put itself in communication as soon as may be with such employer and employees, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement between them, or to endeavor to persuade them, provided that a strike or lockout has not actually occurred or is not then continuing, to submit the matters in dispute to a local board of arbitration and conciliation, as above provided, or to the state board; and said state board may, if it deem it advisable, investigate the cause or causes of such controversy and ascertain which party thereto is mainly responsible or blameworthy for the existence or continuance of the same, and may make and publish a report finding such cause or causes and assigning such responsibility or blame. The board shall have the same powers for the foregoing purposes as are given it by section three of this act.

SECTION 9. Witnesses summoned by the State board shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents for each attendance, and the further sum of twenty-five cents for each hour of attendance in excess of two hours and shall be allowed five cents a miles for travel each way from their respective places of employment or business to the place where the board is in session. Each witness shall certify in writing the amount of his travel and attendance, the amount due him shall be paid forthwith by the board, and for such purpose the board shall be entitled to draw from the treasury of the commonwealth as provided for in chapter one hundred and seventy-nine of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-four.

Every factory in which five or more persons are employed, and every factory, workshop, mercantile or other establishment or office in which two or more children, young persons or women are employed, shall be kept in a cleanly state and free from effluvia arising from any drain, privy or other nuisance, and shall be provided, within reasonable access, with a sufficient number of proper water-closets, earth-closets or privies for the reasonable use of the persons employed therein; and wherever two or more male persons and two or more female persons are employed as aforesaid together, a sufficient number of separate and distinct water-closets, earth-closets, or privies shall be provided for the use of each sex and plainly so designated, and no person shall be allowed to use any such closet or privy assigned to persons of the other sex.

SECTION 2, (as amended by chapter 305, acts of 1888). It shall be the duty of every owner, lessee or occupant of any premises so used as to come within the provisions of this act to carry out the same and make the changes necessary therefor. In case such changes are made upon the order of an inspector of factories by the occupant or lessee of the premises he may at any time within thirty days of the completion thereof bring an action before any trial justice, police, municipal or district court against any other person having an interest in such premises, and may recover such proportion of the expense of making such changes as the court adjudges should justly and equitably be borne by such defendant.

SECTION 3. When it appears to an inspector of factories that any act, neglect or default in relation to any drain, water-closet, earth-closet, privy, ash-pit, water-supply, nuisance or other matter in a factory or in a workshop included under section one of this act, is punishable or remediable under chapter eighty of the public statutes, or under any law of the commonwealth relating to the preservation of the public health, but not under this act, such inspector shall give notice in writing of such act, neglect or default to the board of health of the city or town within which such factory or workshop is situate, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such board of health to make inquiry into the subject of the notice, and to take such action thereon in the way of enforcing any provision of law within its authority as the facts may call for.

SECTION 4. Any person violating any provision of sections one and two of this act shall be punished by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars; but no criminal prosecution shall be made for such violation until four weeks after notice in writing by an inspector of factories of the changes necessary to be made to comply with the provisions of said sections has been sent by mail or delivered to such person, nor then if in the meantime such changes have been made in accordance with such notification. A notice shall be deemed a sufficient notice under this section to all the members of a firm or to a corporation, when given to one member of such firm, or to the clerk, cashier, secretary, agent or any other officer having charge of the business of such corporation or to its attorney; and in the case of a foreign corporation notice to the officer having the charge of such factory or workshop shall be sufficient; and such officer shall be personally liable for the amount of any fine in case a judgment against the corporation is returned unsatisfied.

The aforesaid expressions shall have the meanings above defined for them respectively in all laws of this commonwealth relating to the employment of labor, whether heretofore or hereafter enacted, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context.

CHAPTER 121.—Employment of children.

SECTION 2. If in a factory or workshop included in section one of this act any process is carried on by which dust is generated and inhaled to an injurious extent by the persons employed therein, and it appears to an inspector of factories that such inhalation could be to a great extent prevented by the use of a fan or other mechanical means, and that the same could be provided without excessive expense, such inspector may direct a fan or other mechanical means of a proper construction to be provided within a reasonable time, and such fan, or other mechanical means shall be so provided, maintained and used.

SECTION 3. Any person employing labor in a factory or workshop and violating any provision of this act shall be punished by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars; but no criminal prosecution shall be made for any such violation unless such employer shall have neglected for four weeks to make such changes in his factory or workshop as shall have been ordered by an inspector of factories by a notice in writing delivered to or received by such employer.

CHAPTER 215.—Employment of women and children—Meal times.

SECTION 1. one time, if such child, young person or woman is allowed sufficient opportunity for eating a lunch during the continuance of such employment, and if such employment ends at an hour not later than two o'clock in the afternoon and such child, young person or woman is then dismissed from the factory or workshop for the remainder of the day.

SECTION 3. This act shall not apply to iron works, glass works, paper mills, letter-press printing establishments, print works, bleaching works or dyeing works; and the chief of the district police, where it is proved to his satisfaction that in any other class of factories or workshops it is necessary, by reason of the continuous nature of the process, or of special circumstances affecting such class, to exempt such class from the provisions of this act, and that such exemption can be made without injury to the health of the children, young persons and women affected thereby, may, with the approval of the governor of the commonwealth, issue a certificate granting such exemption, public notice whereof shall be given in the manner directed by said chief, without expense to the commonwealth.

SECTION 3, (as amended by chapter 155, acts of 1888). The amount of compensation receivable under this act in cases of personal injury shall not exceed the sum of four thousand dollars. nor unless the imperfection was discovered when the cloth was first examined and was shown to such weaver forthwith; nor shall the amount so retained exceed in any case the actual damage or loss caused to the employer by the imperfection.

SECTION 2. In an action for the recovery of wages the plaintiff shall not be entitled to take advantage of the provisions of this act unless within three days of the time, when he was notified of the amount of the fine imposed upon him, he gave notice to his employer or his superintendent or overseer that such action would be brought, nor unless such action was actually brought within thirty days of such time.

SECTION 2. No child under fourteen years of age shall be employed in any manner before the hour of six o'clock in the morning or after the hour of seven o'clock in the evening. during such hours unless during the year next preceding such employment he has attended school for at least twenty weeks as required by law; and such employment shall not continue in any case beyond the time when such certificate expires. The chief of the district police, with the approval of the governor, shall have authority to designate any kind or kinds of employment in factories, workshops or mercantile establishments as injurious to the health of children under fourteen years of age employed therein, and after one week's written notice from the said chief to the employer or his superintendent, overseer or other agent of such designation no such child shall be employed in any such kind or kinds of employment in any factory, workshop or mercantile establishment.

SECTION 3. No child under sixteen years of age shall be employed in any factory, workshop or mercantile establishment unless the person or corporation employing him procures and keeps on file the certificate required in the case of such child by the following section, and also keeps on file a full and complete list of such children employed therein.

SECTION 4. The certificate of a child under fourteen years of age shall not be signed until he presents to the person authorized to sign the same an employment ticket, as hereinafter prescribed, duly filled out and signed. The certificate and the employment ticket shall be separately printed, and shall be in the following forms respectively, and the blanks therein shall be filled out and signed as indicated by the words in brackets:

When [name of child], height [feet and inches], complexion [fair or dark], hair [color], presents a certificate duly signed, I intend to employ [him or her.]
[Signature of intending employer or agent.]

AGE AND SCHOOLING CERTIFICATE, LAW OF 1888.

This certifies that I am the [father, mother or guardian] of [name of child], and that [he or she] was born at [name of town or city], in the county of [name of county, if known,] and state [or country] of [name], on the [day and year of birth], and is now [number of years and months] old.
[Signature of father, mother or guardian.]
[Town or city and date.]

Then personally appeared before me the above-named [name of person signing] and made oath that the foregoing certificate by [him or her] signed is true to the best of [his or her] knowledge and belief. I hereby approve the foregoing certificate of [name of child], height [feet and inches], complexion [fair or dark], hair [color] having no sufficient reason to doubt that [he or she] is of the age therein certified.

[Signature of person authorized to sign, with official character or authority.]

In case the age of the child is under fourteen, the certificate shall continue as follows, after the word "certified":—And I hereby certify that [he or she] can read at sight, and can write legibly, simple sentences in the English language, and that [he or she] has attended the [name] public [or private] day school according to law for [number of weeks, which must be at least twenty] weeks during the year next preceding this date, and that the last twenty weeks of such attendance began [date]. In case a child cannot read and write as above stated, the following may be substituted for the clause beginning "and I hereby certify" through to and including the word "language": "And I hereby certify that [he or she] is a regular attendant at the [name] public evening school;" but in such case the certificate shall only continue in force for as long a time as attendance of such child at such evening school is endorsed weekly during the session of such evening school, not exceeding the length of the public school year minus twenty weeks in place of attendance at day school as now provided by law, with a statement from a teacher thereof certifying that his attendance continues regular. If attendance has been at a half time school, forty weeks of such attendance must be certified to instead of twenty. The foregoing certificate must be filled out in duplicate, and one copy thereof shall be kept on file by the school committee. Any explanatory matter may be printed with such certificate in the discretion of the school committee or superintendent of schools.

Section 2. Any corporation or employer holding any age or schooling certificate enumerated in section four of chapter three hundred and forty-eight of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and eighty-eight and refusing to deliver the same to the person in whose behalf it has been drawn, when such person shall leave the employ of said corporation or employer, shall be punished by a fine of ten dollars.]

SECTION 5. In cities and towns having a superintendent of schools, said certificate shall be signed only by such superintendent, or by some person authorized by him in writing; in other cities and towns it shall be signed by some member or members of the school committee authorized by vote thereof: Provided, however, That no member of a school committee, or other person authorized as aforesaid shall have authority to sign such certificate for any child then in, or about to enter, his own employment, or the employment of a firm of which he is a member, or of a corporation of which he is an officer or employé. The person signing the certificate shall have authority to administer the oath provided for therein, but no fee shall be charged therefor; such oath may also be administered by any justice of the peace.

SECTION 6. The certificate as to the birthplace and age of a child shall be signed by his father if living and a resident of the same city or town; if not by his mother; or if his mother is not living, or if living is not a resident of the same city or town, by his guardian; if a child has no father, mother or guardian living in the same city or town, his own signature to the certificate may be accepted by the person authorized to approve the same.

SECTION 7, (as amended by chapter 291, acts of 1889). No child who has been continuously a resident of a city or town since reaching the age of thirteen years shall be entitled to receive a certificate that he has reached the age of fourteen unless or until he has attended school according to law in such city or town for at least twenty weeks since reaching the age of thirteen, unless such child can read at sight and write legibly simple sentences in the English language or is exempted by law from such attendance. Before signing the approval of the certificate of age of a child, the person authorized to sign the same shall refer to the last school census taken under the provisions of section three of chapter 46 of the public statutes, and if the name of such child is found thereon, and there is a material difference between his age as given therein and as given by his parent or guardian in the certificate, allowing for lapse of time, or if such child plainly appears to be of materially less age than that so given, then such certificate shall not be signed until a copy of the certificate of birth or of baptism of such child, or a copy of the register of its birth with a town or city clerk, has been produced, or other satisfactory evidence furnished that such child is of the age stated in the certificate.

SECTION 8. The truant officers may, when so authorized and required by vote of the school committee, visit the factories, workshops and mercantile establishments in their several cities and towns, and ascertain whether any children under the age of fourteen are employed therein contrary to the provisions of this act, and they shall report any cases of such illegal employment to the school committee and to the chief of the district police or the inspector of factories for the district. The inspector of factories, and the truant officers when authorized as aforesaid, may demand the names of all children under sixteen years of age employed in such factories, workshops and mercantile establishments, and may require that the certificates and lists of such children provided for in this act shall be produced for their inspection. Such truant officers shall inquire into the employment, otherwise than in such factories, workshops and mercantile establishments, of children under the age of fourteen years, during the hours when the public schools are in session, and may require that the aforesaid certificates of all children under sixteen shall be produced for their inspection; and any such officer, or any inspector of factories, may bring a prosecution against a person or corporation employing any such child, otherwise than as aforesaid, during the hours when the public schools are in session, contrary to the provisions of this act, if such employment still continues one week after written notice from such officer or inspector that such prosecution will be brought, or if more than one such written notice, whether relating to the same child or to any other child has been given to such employer by a truant officer or inspector of factories at any time within one year.

SECTION 9. Every parent or guardian of a child under fourteen years of age who permits any employment of such child contrary to the provisions of this act, and every owner, superintendent or overseer of any factory, workshop or mercantile establishment who employs or permits to be employed therein any child contrary to the provisions of this act, and any other person who employs any child contrary to the provisions of this act, shall for every such offence forfeit not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars for the use of the public schools of the city or town. Every parent, guardian, or person authorized to sign the certificate prescribed by section four of this act, who certifies to any materially false statement therein, shall be punished by fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. A failure to produce to a truant officer or inspector of factories the certificate required by the provisions of this act shall be prima facie evidence of the illegal employment of the child whose certificate is not produced.

SECTION 10. The expressions "factory" and "workshop" used in this act shall have the meanings defined for them respectively by chapter one hundred and three of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of all employers of females in any mercantile, manufacturing, hotel or restaurant, business or occupation, and of every agent in charge of any such business or occupation, to provide and maintain in the room or place where such females are being employed, suitable seats for the use of such female employes, and to permit the use of such seats by such employes to such an extent as may be necessary for the preservation of their health.

SECTION 3. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall, for each and every day of such violation, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

CHAPTER 253.—Inspection of steam boilers and examination of engineers.

SECTION 1. Within sixty (60) days after the passage of this act, and biennially thereafter, there shall be appointed by the governor a board of five (5) inspectors, one of whom shall reside in each Congressional district, whose duty it shall be to inspect all steam boilers in use within the state, not subject to inspection under the laws of the United States, and not hereinafter excepted, and to examine and grant certificates of license to steam engineers entrusted with the care and management of steam boilers. Said inspectors shall examine and license all masters and pilots on inland waters of the state, and such examination shall be conducted, as near as may be, pursuant to the rules and regulations provided by the laws of the United States for the examination of masters and pilots. Said inspectors shall hold their respective offices for two years from the first day of February, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (1889), and until their successors are appointed and qualified; unless sooner removed by the governor. Said inspectors shall annually on or before the thirty-first (31st) day of January, render a report to the secretary of state, and to the legislature, showing a detailed statement of the number of inspections made, licenses issued, and the amount of fees received therefor, also showing the amount of disbursements of their offices.

SECTION 2. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of inspector of boilers who has not had at least ten (10) years of actual experience in operating steam engines and steam boilers, or who is directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture or sale of boilers or steam machinery, or any patented article that is required to be used, or that is in general use in the construction of steam engines or boilers, or who is not of good moral character, and suitably qualified by experience in the construction of steam boilers so as to enable him to perform the duties of the office; and no person shall enter upon or perform any of the duties of inspector who has not taken and subscribed an oath, and filed the same with the secretary of state, that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties of his office.

SECTION 3. Said inspectors, in April next after the passage of this act, and in February each year thereafter, shall meet as a board, at the capitol in St. Paul and establish such rules and regulations for the inspection of steam vessels and steam boilers, and their other duties, as herein provided for, as shall be required by the terms of this chapter. They shall also prescribe rules and regulations for the inspection of the hulls, machinery, boilers, steam connections, fire apparatus, life-saving appliances and equipments of all the steamers propelled in whole or in part by steam, and navigating the inland waters of the state; such rules to conform, as near as may be, to the requirements of the laws of the United States in regard to the inspection of hulls, machinery, boilers, steam connections, fire apparatus, life-saving appliances and equipments of steam vessels, and such rules and regulations, when approved by the governor, shall have the force of law: * * * Provided further, Any master, owner or person not complying with this section and the rules and regulations as prescribed by the inspectors, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and fined not less than fifty (50) dollars nor more than one hundred (100) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty (30) days, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 4. Every owner, lessee or other person having charge of steam boilers, or any boat propelled in whole or in part by steam, not subject to inspection under the laws of the United States, shall cause the same to be inspected at least once each year by the inspectors herein provided for, and every such owner, lessee or person having charge of such boilers or steam vessels who shall raise steam and operate such boilers and machinery without such inspection shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than fifty (50) dollars nor more than one hundred (100) dollars, or may be imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed thirty (30) days, or both at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 5. The inspector or inspectors shall once each year at least, upon application in writing by the owner, lessee or manager, carefully inspect the hull, boiler, machinery and equipments of all steam vessels and all steam boiler liable to inspection under this act, and shall satisfy themselves that every such vessel is of a structure suitable for the service in which she is to be employed, and has suitable accommodations for passengers and the crew, and is in condition to warrant the belief that she may be used in navigating as a steamer with safety to life, and that such equipments as life preservers, floats, pumps, hose, anchors and other things necessary to insure safety have been provided. When the inspection of a steam vessel is completed and the inspector or inspectors approve the vessel and her equipment throughout, he or they shall make and subscribe a sworn and verified certificate to the secretary of state in such form as the board of inspectors shall prescribe, and a copy of said certificate shall be furnished by the inspector to the managing owner or master of said steam vessel, who shall post the same in a conspicuous place on said boat. The original certificate shall be kept on file in the office of the secretary of state. The said inspector shall also examine all masters and pilots of steam vessels on inland waters of the State as to their qualifications and fitness, and if found competent and reliable enough to perform the duties of master or pilot, the inspector shall issue them a certificate authorizing them to act as such on such inland waters of the State as designated by their certificate. The inspector shall also make such rules and regulations for the navigation of steam vessels as will permit such navigation without danger to life or property. The inspectors shall revoke the license of any master, pilot or engineer if found under the influence of intoxicating liquor when on duty or who otherwise disregards the rules and regulations as prescribed by the inspectors. The said inspectors shall be authorized to collect a fee of ten (10) dollars for inspection of all vessels of fifty (50) tons burden and over, and five (5) dollars for all of a less tonnage, and a fee of one (1) dollar for the examination of and issuing a master's or pilot's license and one (1) dollar for the biennial renewal of the same. Every lessee, pilot or owner not complying with this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than one hundred (100) dollars nor more than two hundred (200) dollars, or may be imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed sixty (60) days, or both at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 6. The said inspectors shall in addition to their duties as inspectors of steam vessels, inspect all steam boilers and steam generators before the same shall be used, and all steam boilers at least once every year thereafter. They shall subject all boilers to hydrostatic pressure or hammer test and shall satisfy themselves by a thorough internal and external examination that the boilers are well made and of good and suitable material, that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat are of proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in form; that the arrangements for delivering the feed water is such that the boilers can not be injured thereby, and that such boilers and their steam connections may be safely used without danger to life or property: Provided, further, They shall also satisfy themselves that the safety valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number and properly arranged, and that the safety-valve weights are properly adjusted so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspector's certificate; that there is a sufficient number of gauge cocks properly inserted to indicate the amount of water, and suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and that the fusible metals are properly inserted so as to fuse by the heat of the furnace whenever the water in the boilers falls below its prescribed limits, and that adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply of water to feed the boilers at all times, so that in high-pressure boilers the water shall not be less than three (3) inches above the top of the fire surface, and that means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove the mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under pressure of steam. In subjecting to the hydrostatic test boilers usually designated as high pressure, the inspector shall assume one hundred and twenty-five (125) pounds to the square inch as the maximum pressure allowable, as a working pressure for new boilers forty-two (42) inches in diameter, double riveted, made in the best manner, of plates one-fourth ($\frac{1}{2}$) of an inch thick, and of good material; but the inspector shall rate the working power of all high-pressure boilers according to their strength compared with this standard, and in all cases the test applied shall exceed the working power allowed, in the ratio of one hundred and sixty-five (165) to one hundred and ten (110). In subjecting to hydrostatic tests boilers usually designated as low pressure, the inspectors shall allow as a working power for each new boiler, a pressure of only three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) the number of pounds to which it has been subjected by the hydrostatic test. Should the inspector be of the opinion that any boiler by reason of its construction or material will not safely allow so high a working pressure as herein provided, they may for reasons to be specially stated in their certificate, fix the pressure of such boilers at less than three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the test pressure. No boiler or steam pipe nor any of the connections therewith shall be approved which are made in whole or in part of bad material or cast iron, or are unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the board of inspectors have satisfactory evidence and are satisfied that such boilers or steam generator is equal in strength and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality constructed of riveted steel or iron plates.

SECTION 7. Every person who constructs a boiler or steam pipe of iron or steel plates known to be faulty or imperfect, or drifts any rivet hole to make it come fair, or who delivers any such boiler for use knowing it to be imperfect in its flues, flanging, riveting, bracing, or in any other of its parts, shall be fined two hundred (200) dollars, one-half of which shall be paid to the informer.

SECTION 8. In addition to the annual inspection it shall be the duty of the inspectors to examine at proper times, when in their opinion such examination shall become necessary, all such boilers as shall become unsafe from any cause and to notify the owners or persons using such boilers of any defect and what repairs are necessary in order to render them safe, and it shall be the duty of any person operating such boiler to cease to use the same until such repairs are made, and in case of a failure to comply with the requirements of said inspector, the person operating any such boiler shall, on conviction thereof, be fined not to exceed one hundred (100) dollars and liable to damage to persons and property resulting therefrom.

SECTION 9. Every steam boiler shall be provided with a fusible plug, made of good banchin inserted in the flues, crown sheet or other parts of the boiler most exposed to the heat of the furnace when the water falls below the prescribed limits.

SECTION 10. It shall be the duty of owners or managers of steam boilers mentioned in this act to allow said inspectors free access to the same, and it is hereby made the duty of engineers operating the same to assist the inspectors in their examinations and to point out any defect they may know in the boiler or machinery in their charge. Any person not complying with the foregoing provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of ten (10) dollars and costs. No person shall be entrusted with the operating of any steam boiler or steam machinery who has not been examined by an inspector and found competent and fit to perform the duties of an engineer and received from such inspector a written or printed license so to act, which shall be renewed biennially. Any person who shall operate any steam boiler or steam machinery of any kind without first obtaining a license from an inspector shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than twenty-five (25) dollars nor more than fifty (50) dollars. Provided, further: Engineers shall be divided into four classes, namely: Chief engineers, first-class engineers, second-class engineers, special engineers.

First. No license shall be granted to any person under twenty-one (21) years of age except to special engineers. No license shall be granted to any person to perform the duties of chief engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least five (5) years' actual experience in operating steam boilers and steam machinery, or whose knowledge and experience and habits of life are not such to justify the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam-machinery.

Second. No license shall be granted to any person to act as first class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least three (3) years' actual experience in operating steam boilers and steam machinery, and whose experience and habits of life are not such as to warrant the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery not exceeding three hundred (300) horse power.

Third. No license shall be granted to any person to act as second class engineer who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least one (1) year of actual experience in operating steam boilers and steam machinery, or whose experience and habits of life are not such as to warrant the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery not to exceed one hundred (100) horse power.

Fourth. No license shall be granted to any person to act as special engineer unless found upon examination to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of an engineer to warrant the belief that he can be safely entrusted with steam boilers and steam machinery not to exceed thirty (30) horse power. Whenever complaint is made by any person against any engineer holding a license, that he has through negligence, want of skill, inattention to duty, or violation of any part of this act, permitted his boiler to burn or otherwise become in bad condition, it shall be the duty of the inspector who granted the license, upon satisfactory proof of such negligence or otherwise, to revoke the license of such engineer. Said engineer may, however, in case of a grievance against said inspector and person making such complaint, appeal to the entire board and governor of the state, who shall decide the case, which decision shall be final and conclusive.

SECTION 11. In making the inspection of boilers, machinery or steam vessels herein provided for, the inspectors may act jointly or separately, but the inspector or inspectors making such inspection shall in all cases subscribe an oath to the certificate of inspection. And any inspector who shall wilfully certify falsely regarding any steam boilers or their attachments or the hull and equipments of any steam vessels, or who shall grant a certificate of license to any person to act as engineer, master or pilot contrary to the provisions of this act, shall on conviction thereof be fined not less than fifty (50) dollars nor to exceed five hundred (500) dollars, or may be imprisoned not to exceed one (1) year in the state prison or both at the discretion of the court, and in all cases removed from office. All the fines of this act not otherwise disposed of shall accrue to the state.

SECTION 12. When the inspector or inspectors shall find after proper tests and examination of a steam boiler or steam generator, as herein provided, that the same is safe and suitable for use, such inspector or inspectors shall make and subscribe a sworn and verified certificate to the secretary of state, in such form as the board of inspectors shall prescribe, and which among other things shall contain a specification of the test applied and the working power allowed, and a copy of the said certificate shall be furnished by the inspector to the owner of the boiler or steam generator. Such copy so furnished the owner of such boiler or generator shall be by him placed or posted in a conspicuous position on such boiler or generator, and shall so remain. * * *

SECTION 14. This act shall not apply to railroad locomotives nor shall engineers employed by railroad companies be required to procure licenses from the state board of inspectors. Nor shall it apply to boilers inspected by insurance companies and certified by their authorized inspectors to be safe. Provided, further, That the penalties provided for in this act shall not apply in any case where prior to the time the inspector or inspectors, have after the application has been made provided for in this act, notified the persons affected that they are ready to make the inspection as herein provided for.

SECTION 16. The board of boiler inspectors may appoint one (1) or more deputies in the several counties of this state, which deputies shall have the same qualifications as are herein prescribed for boiler inspectors, and shall qualify by taking the oath prescribed by section two (2) of this act, and such deputies shall have the authority within the county for which they are appointed as the chief boiler inspectors under the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 255.—Convict labor.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the court in which any person shall be convicted of any offense punishable in the state prison, before passing the sentence, to ascertain by the examination of such convict on oath, and in addition to such oath, by such other evidence as can be obtained, the business, if any, in which such convict had been engaged prior to such arrest and conviction; whether such convict had learned and practiced any mechanical trade, and if so, the nature of such trade and length of time the same has been followed, and the clerk of the court shall enter the facts as ascertained and decided by the court on the minutes thereof, and shall deliver a certificate fully stating the facts so ascertained, to the sheriff of the county, who shall cause the same to be delivered to the warden of the state prison at the same time that such convict is committed to the care of said warden, pursuant to his sentence.

SECTION 2. Every person convicted of crime and committed to the state prison shall be regularly employed at and be compelled to perform a reasonable amount of hard labor in some industrial employment; and no person so committed as aforesaid, shall be exempt from such labor and employment, unless on account of incapacitating sickness or other disability rendering it impossible that such labor be performed.

SECTION 4. Subject to the qualifications and regulations in this chapter specified, the manager shall be empowered and required to provide for the employment of such convicts in one or more of three different systems of employment. One usually known as and to be designated the "State Account System," another usually known as and to be designated the "Contract System," and a third usually known as and to be designated the "Piece Price System": Providing, That said convicts shall be employed as much as practicable under the State Account System.

SECTION 5. In providing for and regulating the labor of the convicts under these systems of employments, the warden shall, in classifying and apportioning the prisoners to the work, in all cases have in view, as well the education and reformation of the individual convict as the pecuniary welfare of the state, and shall, under such rules and regulations as shall have been prescribed by the board of managers, have authority to change any convict from one class of employment to another, as may seem proper and expedient.

SECTION 7. The managers may, if in their judgment they deem it proper and expedient, let to service under the Piece Price or Contract system, or both, not to exceed one-half of all able-bodied convicts confined in the prison at the date of such contract or contracts to the lessee or lessees of the prison shops, or to any person or corporation, * * * not to exceed the term of two years. Such convicts shall not be leased to any contractor or lessee for less than the sum of 45 cents per day for actual work: Provided, That such lease shall not be a lease of individual convicts for any specified time, so as to preclude the withdrawal of any convict and the substitution in his place of another, when deemed for the best interests of the convict, under such rules and regulations as shall have been established by the board of managers, or otherwise provided by law.

SECTION 10. In every contract made pursuant to the authority herein conferred, there shall be reserved to the warden, under such rules and regulations as shall have been established by the board of managers, full power and authority to prevent the demanding or imposition of unusual or severe labor whereby the health and welfare of the convicts may be impaired, or their reformation and education may be hindered or retarded; and the said warden may from time to time, subject to the approval of the board, prescribe all needful rules for the government and conduct of all contractors, their overseers and agents, in relation to the convict, and may require summary dismissal of any individual employed by any contractor in said prison, whenever it shall appear that the presence or the conduct of such individual is prejudicial to the discipline of the prison or the welfare of the convicts.

SECTION 13. All of the able-bodied convicts in the state prison may [be] employed in industrial labor on state account, in such manner, and in such trades, occupations or industries as to the said board shall be deemed for the best interest of the convicts and the state. The board, in its discretion, may provide for one trade or industry, or may establish a number of trades or industries, and the warden is authorized and empowered, by and with the advice and approval of the board, to purchase all needed tools and machinery for conducting such trade or trades, industry or industries, as the board may see fit to establish. He shall, with like approval, also be vested with power and authority to purchase in the market all supplies and material needed in the manufacture of any article or articles in which manufacture the board may decide to engage the convicts or any portion thereof, and shall also have authority to sell and dispose of, to the best advantage of the state, all articles of manufacture produced by the labor of convicts under such system. Provided, however, That the board shall first employ as many of the convicts as may be found practicable in the manufacture of articles which the state would otherwise necessarily purchase for the state prison and other state institutions.

SECTION 7054. It shall be unlawful for any mine owner, lessee or operator of coal mines in this state, employing miners at bushel or ton rates, or other quantity, to pass the output of coal mined by said miners over any screen or other device which shall take any part from the value thereof, before the same shall have been weighed and duly credited to the employe sending the same to the surface, and accounted for at the legal rate of weights as fixed by the laws of Missouri.

SECTION 7055. The weighman employed at any mine shall subscribe an oath or affirmation before a justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths, to do justice between employer and employe, and weigh the output of coal from the mines as herein provided. The miners employed by or engaged in working for any mine owner, operator or lessee of any mine in this state shall have the privilege, if they desire, of employing at their own expense a checkweighman, who shall have like rights, powers and privileges in the weighing of coal as the regular weighman, and be subject to the same oath and penalties as the regular weighman. Said oath or affirmation shall be kept conspicuously posted in the weigh office, and any weigher of coal, or person so employed, who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, proceedings to be instituted in any court having competent jurisdiction.

SECTION 7056. Any person or persons having or using any scale or scales for the purpose of weighing the out-put of coal at mines, so arranged or constructed that fraudulent weighing may be done thereby, or who shall knowingly resort to or employ any means whatsoever, by reason of which such coal is not correctly weighed and reported in accordance with the provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, for each such offense, be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, proceedings to be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction.

SECTION 7057. The manner of weighing, as hereinbefore provided for, shall apply to the class of workers in mines known as loaders, engaged in mines wherein the mining is done by machinery, whenever the workmen are under contract to load coal by the bushel, ton, or any quantity, the settlement of which is had by weight.

CHAPTER 115, ARTICLE 1.—Payment of wages.

SECTION 7058. It shall not be lawful for any corporation, person or firm engaged in manufacturing or mining in this state to issue, pay out or circulate for payment of the wages of labor, any order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness, payable in whole or in part otherwise than in lawful money of the United States, unless the same is negotiable and redeemable at its face value, without discount, in cash or in goods, wares or merchandise or supplies, at the option of the holder, at the store or other place of business of such firm, person or corporation, or at the store of any other person on whom such paper may be drawn, where goods, wares or merchandise are kept for sale, sold or exchanged, and the person who, or corporation, firm or company which, may issue any such order, check, memorandum, token or other evidence of indebtedness, shall, upon presentation and demand, within thirty days from date of delivery thereof, redeem the same in goods, wares, merchandise or supplies at the current cash market prices for like goods, wares, merchandise or supplies, or in lawful money of the United States, as may be demanded by the holder of any such order, memorandum, token or other evidence of indebtedness; Provided, That if said corporation, person or firm engaged as specified in this section have a regular pay-day once in every thirty days, then said corporation, person or firm shall not be required to redeem such token or evidence of indebtedness in cash until the first pay-day after the same become payable, as herein provided, and such token or evidence of indebtedness shall be presented for payment in cash only on such pay-days.

SECTION 7059. The employes of operators of mines mentioned in this article shall be regularly paid at least once in every thirty days, and at no pay-day shall there be withheld of the earnings of any employé any sum to exceed the amount due him for his labor for the four days next preceding any such pay-day. And such operators shall, whenever demand therefor shall be made by any employé, issue to such employé a due-bill for the amount due him up to the day of the demand, which due-bill shall be negotiable, whatever the form thereof shall be, and shall be redeemed by such operator in cash or its equivalent, at the option of the holder, on any pay-day, if the same shall be presented for redemption by any holder thereof; and any such operator failing or refusing to pay his employes, or to issue to them his due-bills as in this section provided, shall become immediately liable to any such employé in double the sum due such employé at the time of such failure or refusal, to be recovered by civil action in the name of such employé in any court of competent jurisdiction of the state. And no employé within the meaning of this article shall be deemed to have waived any right accruing to him under this section by any contract he may make contrary to the provisions thereof.

SECTION 7060. Any officer or agent of any corporation, or any person, firm or company engaged in the business of manufacturing or mining in this state, who by themselves or agent shall issue or circulate in payment for wages of labor any order, check, memorandum, token or evidence of indebtedness; payable in whole or in part otherwise than in lawful money of the United States, without being negotiable and payable at the option of the holder in goods, wares, merchandise, supplies or lawful money of the United States, as required by section 7058 of this article, or who shall fail to redeem the same when presented for payment within thirty days from date of delivery thereof, by said company or its agent at his or their office or place of business, in lawful money of the United States, or who shall compel or attempt to coerce any employé of any such corporation, person, firm or company to purchase goods, wares, merchandise or supplies from any particular person, firm or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten nor more than five hundred dollars for each and every such offence.

CHAPTER 115, ARTICLE 2.—Mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 7061. The owner, agent or operator of each and every mine in this state, employing ten or more men, shall make or cause to be made, at the discretion of the inspector or other person acting in that capacity, an accurate map or plan of the workings of such mine and each and every vein thereof, showing the general inclination of the strata, together with any material deflections in the said workings and the boundary lines of said mine, and deposit a true copy of said map or plan with the clerk of the county court of each county wherein may be located the said mine; which said map or plan shall be so filed or deposited within three months after the time when this article shall take effect, and a copy of such map or plan shall also be kept for inspection at the office of the said mine; and during the month of January of each and every year after this article shall have taken effect, the said owner, agent or operator shall furnish the inspector and the clerk of the county court as aforesaid with a statement, and a further map or plan of the progress of the workings of such mine, continued from the last report to the end of the month of December next preceding, and the inspector shall correct his map or plan of said workings in accordance with the statement and map or plan thus furnished; and when any mine is worked out or abandoned, that fact shall be reported to the inspector, and the map or plan of such mine in the office of the clerk of the county court shall be carefully corrected and verified.

SECTION 7062. Whenever the owner, agent or operator of any mine shall neglect, fail or refuse to furnish the said inspector and clerk as aforesaid with a statement, the map or plan or addition thereto, as provided in the first section of this article, at the times and in the manner therein provided, the said inspector is hereby authorized to cause an accurate map or plan of the workings of such mine to be made at the expense of the said owner, agent or operator, and the cost thereof may be recovered by law from said owner, agent or operator, in the same manner as other debts, by suit in the name of the inspector and for his use.

SECTION 7063. In all coal mines that are now or have been in operation prior to the first day of January, 1887, and which are worked by or through a shaft, slope or drift, and in which more than ten miners are employed in each twenty-four hours, if there is not already an escapement shaft to each and every said mine, or communication between each and every mine and some other contiguous mine, then there shall be an escapement shaft or other communication, such as shall be approved by the mine inspector, making at least two distinct means of ingress and egress for all persons employed or permitted to work in such mine. Such escapement shaft or other communication with a contiguous mine aforesaid shall be constructed in connection with every vein or stratum of coal worked in such mine, and the time to be allowed for such construction shall be one year when such mine is under one hundred feet in depth, two years when such mine is over one hundred feet and under three hundred feet, and three years when it is over three hundred feet and under four hundred feet, and four years when it is over four hundred feet in depth, and five years for all mines over five hundred feet, from the time this article goes into effect; and in all cases where the working force of one mine has been driven up to or into the workings of another mine, the respective owners of such mine, while operating the same, shall keep open a roadway at least two and one-half feet high and four feet wide, thereby forming a communication as contemplated in this article, and for a failure to do so shall be subject to the penalty provided for in section 7069 of this article, for each and every day such roadway is unnecessarily closed. Each and every such an escapement shaft shall be separated from the main shaft by such extent of natural strata as shall secure safety to the men employed in such mines—such distance to be left to the discretion and judgment of the mine inspector or person acting in that capacity; and in all coal mines that shall go into operation for the first time after the first day of January, 1883, such an escapement or other communication with a contiguous mine, as aforesaid, shall be constructed within one year after such mine shall have been put into operation. And it shall not be lawful for the owner, agent or operator of any such mine as aforesaid to employ any person to work therein, or permit any person to go therein for the purpose of working, except such persons as may be necessary to construct such an escapement shaft, unless the requirements of this section shall have first been complied with; and the term "owner" used in this article shall mean the immediate proprietor, lessee or occupant of any mine, or any part thereof, and the term "agent" shall mean any person having, on behalf of the owner, the care or management of any mine, or any part thereof: Provided, Nothing in this section shall be construed to extend the time allowed by law for constructing escapement shaft.

SECTION 7064. The owner, agent or operator of every mine, whether operated by shaft, slope or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine a sufficient amount of ventilation, to be determined by the inspector, at the rate of one hundred cubic feet of air per man per minute, measured at the foot of the downcast, which shall be forced and circulated to the face of every working place throughout the mine, so that said mine shall be free from standing gas of whatsoever kind: and in all mines where fire-damp is generated, every working place where such fire-damp is known to exist shall be examined every morning with a safety lamp by a competent person, before any other persons are allowed to enter. The ventilation required by this section may be produced by any suitable appliances, but in case a furnace shall be used for ventilating purposes, it shall be built in such a manner as to prevent the communication of fire to any part of the works, by lining the upcast with incombustible material for a sufficient distance up from said furnace.

SECTION 7065. The owner, agent or operator shall provide that bore-holes shall be kept twenty feet in advance of the face of each and every working place, and, if necessary, on both sides, when driving towards an abandoned mine and part of a mine suspected to contain inflammable gases or to be inundated with water.

SECTION 7066. The owner, agent or operator of every mine operated by shaft shall provide suitable means of signaling between the bottom and the top thereof, and shall also provide safe means of hoisting and lowering persons in a cage covered with boiler iron, so as to keep safe, as far as possible, persons descending into and ascending out of said shaft; and such cage shall be furnished with guides to conduct it on slides through such shaft, with a sufficient brake on every drum to prevent accident in case of the giving out or breaking of machinery; and such cage shall be furnished with spring catches, intended and provided, as far as possible, to prevent the consequences of cable breaking or the loosening or disconnecting of the machinery; and no props or rails shall be lowered in a cage while men are descending into or ascending out of said mine: Provided, That the provisions of this section in relation to covering cages with boiler iron shall not apply to coal mines less than one hundred feet in depth, where the coal is raised by horse-power. No male person under the age of twelve years, or female of any age, shall be permitted to enter any mine to work therein; nor shall any boy under the age of fourteen years, unless he can read or write, be allowed to work in any mine. Any party or person neglecting or refusing to perform the duties required to be performed by the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine in the discretion of the court trying the same, subject, however, to the limitations as provided by section 7069 of this article.

SECTION 7067. No owner, agent or operator of any mine operated by shaft or slope shall place in charge of any engine whereby men are lowered into or hoisted out of the mines, any but an experienced, competent and sober person not under eighteen years of age; and no person shall be permitted to ride upon a loaded cage or wagon used for hoisting purposes in any shaft or slope, and in no case shall more than twelve persons ride on any cage or car at one time, nor shall any coal be hoisted out of any mine while persons are descending into such mine; and the number of persons to ascend out of or descend into any mine on one cage shall be determined by the inspector; the maximum number so fixed shall not be less than four nor more than twelve, nor shall be lowered or hoisted more rapidly than five hundred feet to the minute.

SECTION 7068. All boilers used in generating steam in and about coal mines shall be kept in good order, and the owner, agent or operator, as aforesaid, shall have the said boiler examined and inspected by hydrostatic pressure and warm water, by a competent boiler-maker or other qualified person, as often as once every six months, and the result of every such examination shall be certified in writing to the mine inspector; and the top of each and every shaft, and the entrance of each and every immediate working vein, shall be securely fenced by gates properly covering and protecting such shaft and entrance thereto; and the entrance to every abandoned slope, air or other shaft, shall be securely fenced off; and every steam boiler shall be provided with a proper steam gauge, water gauge, and safety valve, and all underground self-acting or engine planes or gangways on which coal cars are drawn and persons travel, shall be provided with some proper means of signaling between the stepping places and the end of said planes or gangways, and sufficient places of refuge at the sides of such planes or gangways shall be provided at intervals of not more than twenty feet apart.

SECTION 7069. Whenever loss of life or serious personal injury shall occur by reason of any explosion or of any accident whatsoever, in or about any mine, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such mine to report the facts thereof without delay to the state mine inspector, and if any person is killed thereby, to notify the coroner of the county also, or in his absence or inability to act, any justice of the peace of said county; and the said inspector shall, if he deem it necessary from the facts reported, immediately go to the scene of said accident and make suggestions and render such assistance as he may deem necessary for the safety of the men; and the inspector shall investigate and ascertain the cause of such explosion or accident and make a report thereof, which he shall preserve with the other records of his office; and to enable him to make such investigations, he shall have the power to take depositions, compel the attendance of witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations to them; and the cost of such investigations shall be paid by the county court of the county in which such accident shall have occurred, in the same manner as costs of coroners' inquests are now paid. And a failure on the part of the person having charge of any mine in which any such accident may have occurred to give notice to the inspector or coroner, as provided for in this section, shall subject such person to a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than three hundred dollars, to be recovered of him in the name of the state of Missouri, before any justice of the peace of such county wherein the mine is situated and the accident occurred; and such fine, when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury for the use and benefit of said county.

SECTION 7070. In all cases in which punishment is not provided for by fine under this article, for a breach of any of its provisions, the fine for the first offense shall not be less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, and for the second offense not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered in any court of the state having competent jurisdiction.

SECTION 7071. The governor shall appoint an inspector of mines, who shall serve for two years, and shall have a practical mining experience, but not be interested in any mine, and shall receive a salary of $1,500 per annum and his actual traveling expenses. He shall have his office in the office of the commissioner of labor statistics, and when not inspecting mines act as a clerk in said office, giving his whole time to the state.

SECTION 7072. The inspector provided for in this article shall see that every necessary precaution is taken to insure the health and safety of the workmen employed in any of the mines in this state, that the provisions and requirements provided for in this article be faithfully observed and obeyed, and the penalties of the law enforced. He shall also collect and tabulate in his report, to be made to the bureau of labor statistics on the 15th day of October of each year, the extent of workable mining lands in this state, by counties; also, the manner of mining, whether by shaft, slope or drift, the number of mines in operation, the number of men employed therein, the amount of capital invested, and the amount of mineral, coal, etc., produced.

SECTION 7073. It shall be lawful for the inspector provided for in this article to enter, examine and inspect any and all mines and machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, by day or by night, but so as not to obstruct or hinder the necessary workings of such mine, and the owner, agent or operator of every such mine is hereby required to furnish all necessary facilities for such entering, examination and inspection: and if the said owner, agent or operator aforesaid shall refuse to permit such inspection, or to furnish the necessary facilities for such entry, examination and inspection, the inspector shall file his affidavit setting forth such refusal before the judge of the circuit court in said county in which said mine is situated, either during the term of the court or during vacation, and obtain an order on such owner, agent or operator so refusing as aforesaid, commanding him to permit and furnish such facilities for the inspection of such mine, or to be adjudged to stand in contempt of court and punished accordingly; and if the said inspector shall, after examination of any mine and the works and machinery pertaining thereto, find the same to be worked contrary to the provisions of this article, or unsafe for the workmen therein employed, said inspector shall, through the circuit attorney of his county, or any attorney in case of his refusal to act, acting in the name and on behalf of the state, proceed against the owner, agent or operator of such mine, either separately or collectively, by injunction, without bond, after giving at least two days' notice to such owner, agent or operator; and said owner, agent or operator shall have the right to appear before the judge to whom application is made, who shall hear the same on affidavits and such other testimony as may be offered in support as well as in opposition thereto; and if sufficient cause appear, the court, or judge in vacation, by order, shall prohibit the further working of any such mine in which persons may be unsafely employed contrary to the provisions of this article, until the same shall have been made safe and the requirements of this article shall have been complied with; and the court shall award such costs in the matter of said injunction as may be just; but any such proceedings so commenced shall be without prejudice to any other remedy permitted by law for enforcing the provisions of this article.

SECTION 7074. For any injury to persons or property occasioned by any willful violation of this article, or willful failure to comply with any of its provisions, a right of action shall accrue to the party injured for any direct damages sustained thereby; and in case of loss of life by reason of such willful violation or willful failure as aforesaid, a right of action shall accrue to the widow of the person so killed, his lineal heirs or adopted children, or to any person or persons who were, before such loss of life, dependent for support on the person or persons so killed, for a like recovery of damages sustained by reason of such loss of life or lives.

SECTION 7075. Any miner, workmen or other person who shall knowingly injure any water gauge, barometer, air course or brattice, or shall obstruct or throw open any air-ways, or carry any lighted lamps or matches into places that are worked by the light of safety lamps, or shall handle or disturb any part of the machinery of the hoisting engine, or open a door to a mine and not have the same closed again, whereby danger is produced, either to the mine or those at work therein, or who shall enter into any part of the mine against caution, or who shall disobey any order given in pursuance of this article, or who shall do any willful act whereby the lives and health of persons working in the mine, or the security of the mine or miners, or the machinery thereof, is endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 7076. The owner, agent or operator of any mine shall keep a sufficient supply of timber, when required to be used as props, so that the workmen may at all times be able to properly secure the said workings from caving in, and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or operator to send down all such props when required.

SECTION 7077. All miners or other persons employed in or about a mine, using gun or blasting powder or other explosive, shall have and keep a strong box in which all surplus gun or blasting powder or other explosive in the mine shall be kept, excepting so much only as is necessary for immediate use. These boxes shall be kept locked, and not opened unless it be to put in or take out powder; nor must these strong (or powder) boxes be nearer than one hundred feet to the place of blasting. And in all dry and dusty coal mines or mines discharging light carbonated hydrogen gas, shot-fires must be employed to fire all shots after the employes and other persons have retired from the mine: Provided, however, That the above section shall refer only to mines working ten or more men.

CHAPTER 126, ARTICLE I.—Convict labor.

SECTION 7224. The penitentiary shall be under the control and direction of three inspectors, with one warden * * *

SECTION 7232. * * * It shall also be the duty of the warden to classify the the convicts in their labor, so far as it can conveniently be done * * *. And he shall use his best endeavors to the end that the expenses of the penitentiary may be paid out of the proceeds of the labor of convicts, when employed in manufacturing or otherwise, on behalf of the state, and shall act under the direction of the inspectors in making contracts for the employment of the labor of the convicts.

SECTION 7235. * * * He [the warden] shall, under the direction of the inspectors, purchase such raw material as may be required for manufacture by convicts, * * * and shall have charge of all articles manufactured for the state, * * * and shall sell such manufactured articles in such manner as may be for the best interest of the state * * *.

SECTION 7238. The warden shall, in his discretion, advertise for bids for the unemployed convict labor, under such terms and conditions as he shall deem for the best interests of the state. Such advertisement shall fully set forth the terms, and as near as may be, the number of such convicts to be employed, and the length of time for which they may be employed. He may renew any contracts for labor within the walls which may be already in existence, without advertising the same. No contract shall be made for a longer period than ten years. All contracts shall be approved by the board of inspectors: Provided, That no convict shall be employed outside the prison walls, except in making improvements connected with the penitentiary or other State improvements, or in erecting buildings for the state, or for the preservation and security of the property of the state, and in collecting and providing materials therefor: And provided, further, That the warden is hereby authorized to use the labor of convicts, not otherwise employed, on the penitentiary farm, in improving any of the public grounds belonging to the state, or in any quarry or brick-yard belonging to or under the control of the state, anywhere within the state, or for the purpose of procuring fuel, water, ice or other necessary supplies for the penitentiary, or for the protection of the state's property at Jefferson City from changes or washes in the Missouri River or otherwise, or as teamsters for the state; and contractors within the walls shall have the right to employ trusty convicts as teamsters, and such other help as may be necessary in transporting material, supplies and manufactured goods to and from the railroad depots and the levee: Provided, That nothing in this article shall be so construed as to annul, set aside or in any manner affect any contract heretofore made by the warden and inspectors with any other persons for using convict labor outside of the prison walls, leaving every such contract to expire by its own terms, except that all such labor as is now under contract shall be continued only at such place or places where it is now employed. No state officer or person connected with the penitentiary as an officer or employé, the inspectors included, shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract for convict labor. Any violation of this provision shall be deemed a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than three nor more than ten years.

SECTION 7252. It shall be unlawful for the warden to hire out either male or female convicts as domestic servants to any person outside of the prison walls, or to permit any male or female convict to be used as a domestic servant without reward * * *.

SECTION 7274. Eight hours per day from October 15th to April 15th, and ten hours per day from April 15th to October 15th, shall constitute a day's labor for each convict; and no convict shall be required to do any work on the Sabbath day, excepting necessary labor for the state.

CHAPTER 152, ARTICLE 1.—Bureau of labor statistics.

SECTION 8215. There is hereby established a separate and distinct department in this State, to be known as the "bureau of labor statistics and inspection of factories, mines and workshops."

SECTION 8216. The object of this department shall be to collect, assort, systematize and present in annual report to the governor, to be by him transmitted biennially to the general assembly, statistical details and information relating to all the departments of labor in the state, especially in its relations to the commercial, industrial, social, educational and sanitary condition of the laboring classes, and to the permanent prosperity of the productive industries of the state, and also to secure the inspection of all mines, factories, warehouses, workshops, foundries, machine shops and other manufacturing establishments, where persons, male and female, are employed throughout the state, and the observance of the regulations herein relating thereto.

SECTION 8217. The governor shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint, immediately after this article goes into effect, and every two years thereafter, commencing on the first Wednesday in February, 1885, some suitable person to perform the duties herein required, who shall be known as "commissioner of labor statistics and inspection," and who shall keep an office in such place as may be designated by the governor.

SECTION 8218. The owner, lessee, operator or manager of any mine, factory, workshop, warehouse, elevator, foundry, machine shop or other manufacturing establishment, shall not put at work or place therein for the purpose of labor or service, more persons in any one room or place than hygienic laws will warrant with safety to the health of such persons: all such rooms or places of employment shall have sufficient ventilation to carry off all foul or impure air, and to reduce the air of such room or place of employment to the standard of fresh air as near as may be practicable. Such rooms or places shall also have a sufficient number of doors, stairways and fire-escapes for the ready egress and escape of the maximum number of employes therein: and it is hereby made the duty of said commissioner to include in his annual report any non-observance of the requirements and regulations contained in this section which may come to his knowledge, together with the facts in relation thereto, and such suggestions and recommendations as he may deem proper.

SECTION 8221. Any owner, operator, manager or lessee of any mine, factory, workshop, warehouse, elevator, foundry, machine shop or other manufacturing establishment, or any agent or employe of such owner, operator, manager or lessee, who shall refuse to said commissioner admission therein for the purpose of inspection, or who shall, when requested by him, neglect or refuse to furnish to him any statistical or other information relative to his duties which may be in their possession or under their control, shall, for every such neglect or refusal, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.

SECTION 8222. The commissioner of labor statistics and inspection shall receive an annual salary of two thousand dollars, payable monthly, and said commissioner is hereby authorized to employ such assistance and incur such expense, not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum, as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article, such expenses to be paid on the vouchers presented by the commissioner: Provided, however, That said expenses shall not exceed, in any one year, the amount appropriated therefor; said commissioner shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, execute a bond to the state of Missouri in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, conditioned upon the faithful, honest and impartial performance of his duties under this article, which bond shall be approved by the state auditor and filed in his office. Said commissioner shall include in his annual report to the governor an itemized statement of the expenses of the bureau incurred by him.

The decision shall at once be made public, shall be recorded upon proper books of record, to be kept by the clerk of said board, and a short statement thereof published in the annual report hereinafter provided for, and said board shall cause a copy thereof to be filed with the clerk of the county where said business is carried on.

Immediately upon the receipt of said application the clerk of said board shall cause public notice to be given of the time and place for hearing. Should the petitioner, or petitioners, fail to perform the promise made therein, the board shall proceed no further thereupon without the written consent of the adverse party.

Said notice may be given to employes by posting the same in three conspicuous places in the shop, office, factory, store, or mill or mine where said employes work.

SECTION 87. The parties to any controversy or difference, as provided in section 84 of this act, may agree upon a board of arbitration and conciliation, who shall in the matters referred to them have and exercise all the powers which the territorial board might have and exercise, and their jurisdiction of the matter referred to them shall be exclusive, except that they may ask and receive the advice and assistance of the territorial board in the disposition of the matters submitted to them for their determination. The report of any board, constituted under the provisions of this section, shall at once be filed with the clerk of a county in which the controversy or difference arose, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the territorial board and entered upon its records.

SECTION 707. A judgment against any railway corporation for any injury to person or property, or for material furnished, or work or labor done upon any of the property of such corporation, shall be a lien within the county where recovered on the property of such corporation, and such lien shall be prior and superior to the lien of any mortgage or trust deed provided for in this act.

The safety apparatus, whether consisting of eccentrics, springs or other device, shall be securely fastened to the cage and shall be of sufficient strength to hold the cage loaded at any depth to which the shaft may be sunk. ACTS OF 1889.

Inspection of steam boilers and examination of engineers.

SECTION 1. There shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice of the legislative council, one boiler inspector for Montana, whose duty it shall be to inspect all steam boilers in use in Montana, not subject to inspection under the laws of the United States, and to examine and grant certificates of license to steam engineers entrusted with the care and management of steam boilers and steam machinery; said inspector shall receive a salary at the rate of $200 per month, and shall be appointed for the term of two years, unless sooner removed by the governor for cause; * * *.

SECTION 2. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of inspector of boilers and steam machinery who has not had at least five years' actual practice in the operation of steam engines and steam boilers, or who is directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture or sale of boilers or steam machinery, or any patented article required to be sold or in general use in the construction of steam boilers or steam engines, or who is not of good moral character and temperate habits, and suitably qualified by experience with steam boilers and machinery so as to enable him to perform the duties of the office; * * *.

SECTION 3. There shall also be an assistant inspector, to be called the assistant inspector of boilers. Such assistant inspector shall be a person who has had at least four years' experience in practical running and operation of steam engines and boilers, and he shall be a person of temperate habits and good character, and qualified by experience to perform the duties of his office. He shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the council, and shall be subject to removal at the will of such governor. * * *

SECTION 5. The said inspector of boilers shall inspect all steam boilers or steam generators before the same shall be used, except in the case of new boilers, which shall be inspected within ninety (90) days after they are put in use, unless accompanied by a certificate that such boiler has been inspected by a regular state inspector, and all boilers shall be inspected once at least in every year thereafter. And the inspector of boilers shall subject all boilers to hydrostatic pressure, and shall satisfy himself, by a thorough internal and external examination, that the boilers are well made and of good and suitable materials; that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat are of the proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in form; that the fire line of the furnace is at least two inches below the prescribed minimum water line of the boilers; that the arrangement for delivering the feed water is such that the boilers cannot be injured thereby, and that such boilers and their steam connections may be safely employed without danger to life. He shall also satisfy himself that the safety valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number and area and properly arranged and that the safety valve weights are properly adjusted, so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there are a sufficient number of gauge cocks properly inserted to indicate the amount of water, and suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply to feed the boilers at all times, and that suitable means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove the mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers when they are under pressure of steam. In subjecting boilers to the hydrostatic test, the inspector shall assume one hundred and twenty-five (125) pounds to the square inch as the maximum pressure allowable as a working pressure for new boilers of forty-two inches in diameter, made in the best manner of plates one-fourth of an inch thick and of good material; but the inspector shall rate the working power of all high-pressure boilers according to their strength as compared with this standard, and in all cases, the test applied shall exceed the working pressure allowed, in the ratio of one hundred (100) to seventy-five (75). Should the inspector be of the opinion that any boiler, by reason of its construction or material, will not safely allow so high a working pressure, or will allow a greater working pressure than is herein provided, he may, for reasons to be stated specifically in his certificate, fix the pressure of such boiler at more or less than three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) of the test pressure, as the case may be. No boiler or steam pipe, nor any of the connections thereto, shall be approved which is made in whole or in part of bad material, or is unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the inspector has satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam generator is equal in strength and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality constructed of iron or steel plates: Provided, In any case where for good cause the inspector is unable to make any such inspection or examination of any steam boiler, it shall be the duty of the assistant inspector to proceed and act in accordance with the requirements of this law, as fully as the inspector is hereby empowered and directed to do.

SECTION 6. In addition to the annual inspection, it shall be the duty of the inspector, or of the assistant inspector, to examine at proper times, when in their opinion such examination shall become necessary, all such boilers as shall become unsafe from any cause, and to notify the owner, or the person using such boilers of any defect and what repairs are necessary to render them safe. In case of failure to comply with the requirements of said inspector or assistant inspector, the owner or person using such boiler shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred (500) dollars and liable for any damage to person or property resulting therefrom.

SECTION 7. It shall be the duty of the owners or managers of steam boilers mentioned in this act, to allow said inspectors free access to the same, and it is hereby made the duty of engineers operating the same to assist the inspectors in their examinations and to point out any defects they may know in the boilers or machinery in their charge. Any engineer not complying with this section shall be subject to have his license revoked or be suspended.

SECTION 8. No person shall be granted a license to operate steam boilers or steam machinery under the provisions of this act who has not been examined by an inspector and found competent to perform the duties of an engineer and receive from such inspector a written or printed license so to act. Any person who shall operate any steam boiler or steam engines without first obtaining a license from an inspector or assistant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not to exceed fifty (50) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty (30) days. Engineers shall be divided into three classes, namely: First-class engineers, second-class engineers, third-class engineers. No license shall be granted to any person to perform the duties of "first-class engineer" who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least three years' experience in the operation of steam boilers and steam machinery, or whose knowledge or experience is not such as to justify the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery. No license shall be granted to any person to act as "second-class engineer" who has not taken and subscribed an oath that he has had at least two years' experience in the operation of steam boilers and steam machinery, and whose experience and habits of life are such as to warrant the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of steam boilers and steam machinery, not exceeding one hundred (100) horse power. No license shall be granted to any person to act as "third-class engineer" who has not served at least one (1) year as fireman under a competent engineer, and found upon examination to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of an engineer, to warrant the belief that he can be safely trusted with steam boilers and steam machinery, not exceeding twenty (20) horse power. All firemen who have charge of steam boilers, as to the regulation of the feed water, etc., and where the boilers are so situated as not at all times to be under the eye of the engineer in charge, shall be required to pass a "third-class engineer's" examination and procure the same license. Whenever complaint is made against an engineer holding a license from the territorial inspectors, that he has through negligence, want of skill, or inattention to duty, permitted his boiler to burn, or otherwise to become in bad condition, or that he has been found intoxicated while on duty, it shall be the duty of the inspector or assistant inspector to make a thorough investigation of the charge, and upon satisfactory proof of such charge to revoke the license of such engineer, provided nothing in this section contained shall permit the assistant inspector to issue any license certificate to a first-class engineer without first submitting the recommendation that such certificate be issued to the approval of the inspector and securing his approval and consent thereto. The inspector and the assistant inspector shall, as often as convenient, publish a notice in some suitable newspaper, stating upon what days they will be in certain specified localities, and that they will then, and at the time and place specified in such notice, receive applications and make examinations for the purpose of granting engineers' certificates, and that they will, also, on or about said specified times, examine all boilers subject to inspection in the vicinity of the place where such notice may be published.

SECTION 9. * * * Any inspector or assistant inspector who shall wilfully certify falsely regarding any steam boilers or their attachments, or shall grant a license to any person to act as engineer, contrary to the provisions of this act, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year in the Territorial prison, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 10. The inspector or assistant inspector shall be authorized to charge a fee of ten (10) dollars for the inspection of each single boiler and its steam connections, and five (5) dollars for each additional boiler, when connected, said fee payable at the time of the delivery of the inspector's certificate of inspection. The fee for the examination of applicants for engineer's license shall be seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) for first-class engineers, five (5) dollars for second-class engineers, and three (3) dollars for third-class engineers; which said fee shall be paid at the time of application for license. In case of the failure of an applicant to pass a successful examination, three (3) months must elapse before he can be again examined as an applicant for license herein in the class for which he was examined: Provided, That the said inspector may grant to an applicant a lower grade of license than that applied for upon such examination. All certificates of inspection and engineer's licenses shall be displayed in some conspicuous place in the engine room.

SECTION 11. If any person who has applied for a license as a first, or second, or third class engineer under the provisions of this act and been rejected, feels aggrieved, he may at any time after the lapse of ten days, and within ninety days after the day of his rejection, by petition in writing, set forth the causes for his grievance and demand another examination. Such petition shall be addressed to and served upon the inspector, and shall be duly verified by the rejected applicant, and shall be accompanied by the required fee for a second examination. Within two days after receiving such petition and fee, it shall be the duty of the inspector of boilers to notify the applicant in writing, that on a day certain, which shall be not less than five nor more than forty days after the day of the service of the petition upon such inspector, he will be ready to grant him another examination. At least two days before the day set for such examination the applicant shall designate in writing to such inspector, an engineer holding a certificate of equal grade with the one such applicant may ask reexamination for, whom he will have present upon the day and at the hour fixed for his reexamination.

Upon the same day, or any day prior to the date set for such examination such inspector and selected engineer shall in writing agree upon and designate and notify a third disinterested engineer holding a license equal in grade to the rejected applicant's, to sit with them on the day set for such reexamination as an examining board to reexamine such rejected applicant for a certificate of the class he may have applied for and been rejected. Upon the day and hour set for such reexamination all three of such board, that is, the inspector and the engineer selected by the applicant and the engineer agreed upon by them, shall proceed to carefully reexamine such applicant and fully and fairly test his qualifications and capabilities to receive a license such as he may apply for. After such examination is completed, if a majority of such board decide that such applicant is entitled to the license he has applied for, or any license of any inferior grade, the inspector shall without delay issue a certificate accordingly; but if a majority of such board reject such applicant, it shall be deemed a final rejection and he shall not be granted another examination for the space of ninety days after such last rejection, when he may again apply to the inspector or assistant as provided by section ten of this act, and no person shall be granted more than one reexamination before a board under the provisions of this act. * * *

SECTION 12. This act shall not apply to railroad locomotives in Montana, nor shall it apply to traction engines, engines and boilers mounted on wheels, boilers used for heating purposes in private residences, nor shall it apply to other boilers having a capacity of five-horse power or less, nor shall locomotive engineers or persons operating any of the engines or boilers herein exempted from the operation of this act, be required to procure licenses from the Territorial inspector or assistant inspector: Provided, Nothing in this act anywhere contained shall be construed to exempt from inspection and examination any steam boiler in use anywhere within the limits of an incorporated city or town: * * *

SECTION 13. All certificates of licenses to engineers of all classes shall be renewed yearly. The fee for renewal shall be one dollar in all cases. All moneys collected by virtue of this act shall be paid by the board of inspectors into the territorial treasury at least as often as once in each month. It shall be the duty of the inspector of boilers to make an annual report to the governor of Montana, setting forth * * * the number of boilers inspected by them, and number and grades of licenses issued and to whom, and the general results of the experiences of his office; and such recommendations as to him may seem proper and fit. Said report shall also refer to and account for the causes of any boiler explosions which may have occurred in Montana during the year, and the loss of life or property.

SECTION 15. After the expiration of nine months from the first of March, 1889, it shall be unlawful for any person in the territory or state to operate a stationary boiler or steam engine, or any boiler or steam engine other than railroad locomotives or other engines and boilers exempted in section ten (10) of this act, as herein provided for, without a license granted under the provisions of this act. The owner, renter or user of the steam engine or boiler shall be equally liable for violations of this section: Provided, however, That in case of accident, sickness, refusal to work or any unforeseen event of the licensed engineer employed by any owner, renter or user of a steam engine or boiler, operated in remote districts, which would retard the work to be performed, the owner, renter or user may for the space of four (4) weeks employ any person he may consider competent to run the engine or boiler, said person not having a license: Provided, however, That the person so employing the unlicensed engineer shall immediately notify the inspector or assistant inspector.

WHEREAS, disputes between workmen and their employers frequently result in protracted strikes, which cause great loss to both parties and to the community at large, and disturb the amicable relations which ought to exist between labor and capital; and

WHEREAS, it is desirable to provide some legal method for submitting such differences to arbitration, with a view to an honorable, satisfactory and speedy settlement: Therefore—

SECTION 1. That if a majority of the employes in any manufacturing establishment, or in any particular department thereof, shall give notice to their employer or employers, in writing, signed by themselves, that they are dissatisfied with the terms and conditions on which they are employed, or with the wages they are receiving, or with any proposed reduction of their wages or proposed alteration of the terms or conditions on which they are employed, and that they propose to submit the matters complained of to arbitration, and shall name an arbitrator to represent them; and if such employer or employers can not adjust such differences, it shall be the duty of such employer or employers, if they choose to accept this method of compromise, to nominate and appoint, in writing, an arbitrator to represent him or them, and to give notice to said employes of such appointment.

SECTION 2. That the two arbitrators, so as aforesaid, appointed shall forthwith meet and proceed to select a third arbitrator; and the said three arbitrators shall without unnecessary delay notify the employes and the employer or employers of the time and place when and where they will meet to hear arguments on the matters in dispute, which meetings shall be held under such conditions, rules and regulations as the said arbitrators may mutually agree upon; the questions at issue shall be submitted to the arbitrators in writing, and their decision shall be confined to the questions so submitted: either of such arbitrators may administer an oath or affirmation to any person testifying before them, and any person so sworn who shall testify falsely, shall be deemed guilty of perjury; either of the parties to such arbitration may be represented before the arbitrators by counsel, if they so desire, and the arguments may be oral or in writing, as the parties themselves may respectively prefer.

SECTION 3. That the finding of the said arbitrators shall be reduced to writing, and a copy thereof served upon each of the parties to the dispute, or upon their respective representatives, and shall be deemed to be binding upon both parties submitting the matters in dispute to arbitration, and shall take effect from the date of the finding, unless some other time is fixed in the finding for the taking effect thereof.

SECTION 4. That the costs of arbitration shall be fixed and paid as the parties may previously or mutually agree, and if not so agreed upon, they shall be fixed and paid as the arbitrators themselves may decide.

SECTION 5. Whenever any grievance or dispute of any nature shall arise between any employer, joint stock association, company or corporation engaged in manufacturing, and his, their or its employes, it shall be lawful by the mutual consent of the parties to submit the same in writing to a board of arbitrators for hearing and settlement, which board shall be composed of five persons; a majority of said employes, at a meeting duly held for that purpose, shall have the power to designate two persons to act as arbitrators in their behalf, the employer, firm, joint stock association, company or corporation as aforesaid shall have the power to designate two arbitrators, and the said four arbitrators shall designate a fifth person as arbitrator, who shall be the chairman of the board.

SECTION 7. When the said board is ready for the transaction of business, it shall select one of its number to act as secretary, whose duty it shall be, when ordered by the board, to give at least two days notice in writing to the parties to the dispute of the time and place of hearing the same, which notice may be served personally on the parties or by fixing the same to the principal outer door or gate of the establishment of said employer, firm, joint stock association, company or corporation, or where, from any reason, service as aforesaid cannot be had, then the same may be served as said board shall direct.

SECTION 8. It shall be lawful for any justice of the peace, or the clerk of any court of record within the county wherein such board of arbitrators may be, to issue subpoenas for the production of books and papers and for the attendance of witnesses before said board; and if any such witness, when so subpoenaed, shall not appear in accordance with the command of such writ, or, if appearing, shall refuse to be sworn or affirmed and give evidence, he or she, as the case may be, shall be liable to the same fines and penalties as he or she would be by law for such default or refusal if committed in any court of record in this state.

SECTION 9. The said witnesses shall be examined on oath or affirmation, which oath or affirmation the chairman of said board is hereby empowered to administer; a majority of said board may provide for the examination and investigation of books, documents and accounts pertaining to the matters in dispute and belonging to either party: Provided, That the board may unanimously direct that instead of producing books, papers and accounts before the board, an accountant agreed upon by the entire board may be appointed to examine such books, papers and accounts, and such accountant shall be sworn well and truly to examine such books, documents and accounts as may be presented to him, and to report the result of such examination in writing; before such examination the information desired and required by the board shall be plainly stated in writing and presented to said accountant, which statement shall be signed by said board. Attorneys at law or other agents of either party to the dispute shall not be permitted to appear or take part in any of the proceedings of the board, but the same shall be, as far as possible, voluntary.

SECTION 11. After the matter in dispute has been fully heard, the said board, or a majority thereof, shall, within five days, render a decision thereon, which decision shall be reduced to writing, signed by the arbitrators agreeing thereto, and shall set forth such details as will clearly show the points considered by said board and the nature of the decision; said decision shall be a final settlement of the matters referred to said arbitrators, and shall be binding and conclusive between the parties; it shall be executed in three parts, one copy of which shall be given to each of the parties to the dispute, and the remaining copy shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county, there to remain of record.

SECTION 12. When the said board shall have reached a decision and filed their report, as set forth in section eleven of this act, its power shall cease, unless there may be in existence at the time other similar grievances or disputes between the same classes of persons mentioned in section five, and in such case such persons may submit their differences to the said board, which shall have power to act and arbitrate and decide upon the same as fully as if said board was originally created for the settlement of such other difference or differences.

SECTION 95, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The superintendent of State prisons shall direct the classification of prisoners into three classes or grades, as follows: In the first grade shall be included those appearing to be corrigible or less vicious than the others and likely to observe the laws and to maintain themselves by honest industry after their discharge; in the second grade shall be included those appearing to be incorrigible or more vicious, but so competent to work and so reasonably obedient to prison discipline as not seriously to interfere with the productiveness of their labor, or of the labor of those in company with whom they may be employed; in the third grade shall be included those appearing to be incorrigible or so insubordinate or so incompetent otherwise than from temporary ill-health as to seriously interfere with the discipline or productiveness of the labor of the prison.

SECTION 97, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The superintendent of State prisons shall not nor shall any other authority whatsoever, make any contract by which the labor or time of any prisoner in the state prison shall be contracted, let or hired to contractors at a price per day or for other period of time.

SECTION 98, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The superintendent of state prisons shall, so far as practicable, cause all the prisoners in said prisons, who are physically capable thereof to be employed at hard labor for not to exceed eight hours of each day, other than Sundays and public holidays; but such hard labor may be either for the purpose of production and profit or for the purpose of industrial training and instruction, or partly for one and partly for the other of such purposes as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 99, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The labor of prisoners of the first grade in each of said prisons shall be directed with reference to fitting the prisoner to maintain himself by honest industry after his discharge from imprisonment as the primary or sole object of such labor, and such prisoners of the first grade may be so employed at hard labor for industrial training and instruction solely, even though no useful or salable products result from their labor, but only in case such industrial training or instruction can be more effectively given in such manner. Otherwise and so far as is consistent with the primary object of the labor of prisoners of the first grade as aforesaid, the labor of such prisoners shall be so directed as to produce the greatest amount and value of useful or salable products.

SECTION 100, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The labor of prisoners of the second grade in each of said prisons shall be directed primarily to the production of the greatest amount and value of useful and salable products, but secondarily to fitting such prisoners to maintain themselves by honest industry after their discharge from imprisonment, even though their labor be rendered thereby less productive.

SECTION 101, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The labor of the prisoners of the third grade shall be directed solely to such exercise as shall tend to the preservation of health, or the manufacturing without the aid of machinery, of such articles as are needed in the public institutions of the state, or such other manual labor as the superintendent of state prisons shall direct, which shall not compete with free labor.

SECTION 102, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The system of productive labor in each of said prisons shall be either the public-account system, or what is known as the piece-price system, or partly one or partly the other of such systems, as the superintendent of state prisons shall determine. By the public-account system is meant the system by which the state furnishes machinery and material for the labor of the prisoners and markets the products of such labor thereon. By the piece-price system is meant the system by which the state receives payment for the products of the labor of the prisoners upon materials and machinery furnished by the person making such payment or furnished partly by such person and partly by the state.

SECTION 103, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). Whenever the amount appropriated by the state therefor, shall be insufficient to conduct or continue such productive labor under the public-account system, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of state prisons to use his best endeavors to cause such productive labor to be conducted under the piece-price system. It shall also be the duty of the superintendent of state prisons and reformatories and agents and wardens thereof to obtain the full market rates for all products of the labor of prisoners of such prison whether manufactured under the piece-price system or under the public-account system. But none of the products of the labor of prisoners shall be sold for less than ten per centum in excess of the cost of the materials used in the manufacture of such products.

SECTION 104, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). It shall also be the duty of the superintendent of state prisons to determine what lines of productive labor shall be pursued in each prison, and in so determining said superintendent shall select diversified lines of industry with reference to interfering as little as possible with the same lines of industry carried on by the citizens of this state, and also with reference to employing the prisoners so far as practicable in occupations in which they will be most likely to obtain employment after their discharge from imprisonment. The superintendent of state prisons shall annually cause to be procured and transmit the same to the legislature with his annual report, a statement showing in detail the amount and quantity of each of the various articles manufactured in the several penal institutions under his control within this state under the public-account or piece-price plan which have been or were intended to be sold other than through public institutions.

SECTION 105, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The total number of prisoners employed at one time in manufacturing one kind of goods which are manufactured elsewhere in the state shall not exceed five per centum of the number of all persons within the state employed in manufacturing the same kind of goods, as shown by the last United States census or state enumeration, except in industries in which not to exceed fifty free laborers are employed: Provided, That not more than one hundred prisoners shall be employed in all the prisons of the state in the manufacture of stoves and iron hollow-ware, and that not more than one hundred prisoners shall be employed in all the prisons of the state, in the manufacture of boots and shoes. And provided further, That no prisoner shall be employed upon any one of said specified industries, in any of the penitentiaries, reformatories or houses of correction in the state; except in making articles for the use of the public institutions of the state.

SECTION 106, (as amended by chapter 382, acts of 1889). The superintendent of state prisons shall hereafter cause to be manufactured by the prisoners in said prisons, such articles as are commonly needed and used in the public institutions of this state, for clothing and other necessary supplies of such institutions and the inmates thereof; and all such articles manufactured in the state prisons and not required for use therein, shall be furnished to the several public institutions supported in whole or in part by the state, for the use of their inmates, upon the requisitions of the trustees or managers thereof upon the superintendent of state prisons, and no article so manufactured shall be purchased for the purpose of such public institutions, unless the same cannot be furnished upon such requisition.

SECTION 116, (as enacted by chapter 395, acts of 1890). No prisoner in any of the state prisons, penitentiaries or reformatories of the state shall be employed in making or finishing fur or wool hats, or in setting type or printing, except in setting type for or printing printed matter for use in the prison, penitentiary or reformatory in which the same is printed, and no products of any labor in the trade of printing or type-setting of any prisoner in any such prison, reformatory or penitentiary shall be put upon the market for sale or sold; but nothing in this act shall prevent the printing within a prison, penitentiary or reformatory of the official reports of the prison, penitentiary or reformatory, in which the same are printed respectively, or the making or finishing of fur or wool hats for use in such prison, penitentiary or reformatory, or for use in any of the public institutions of the state.

[See chapter 21 of the acts of 1884 following, for legislation prohibiting further contracts being made for the labor of convicts, and section 3 of chapter 382 of acts of 1889 following, relative to system of employment of convicts in penitentiaries, etc. Also on general subject, sections 388, 399, and 410 of chapter 410, acts of 1882; chapter 470, acts of 1884; chapter 323, acts of 1887; chapter 586, acts of 1888, following.]

SECTION 1392. Where the judgment debtor is a woman, she is entitled to the same exemptions, from levy and sale by virtue of an execution, subject to the same exceptions, as prescribed in the last two sections, in the case of a householder.

Exemption from execution, etc.—Homesteads.

SECTION 1397. A lot of land, with one or more buildings thereon, not exceeding in value one thousand dollars, owned, and occupied as a residence, by a householder having a family, and heretofore designated as an exempt homestead, as prescribed by law, or hereafter designated for that purpose, as prescribed in the next section, is exempt from sale by virtue of an execution, issued upon a judgment, recovered for a debt contracted after the thirtieth day of April, eighteen hundred and fifty; unless the judgment was recovered wholly for a debt or debts, contracted before the designation of the property, or for the purchase-money thereof. But no property heretofore or hereafter designated as an exempt homestead, as prescribed by law, or by the next section, shall be exempt from taxation, or from sale for non-payment of taxes or assessments.

[See last half of section 3131, Code of Civil Procedure, and section 1086, chapter 410, acts of 1882, following.]

Costs in actions by female employes.

SECTION 3131, (as amended by chapter 46, acts of 1890). In an action brought in a justice's court in the city of Brooklyn to recover a sum of money, for wages earned by a female employé other than a domestic servant, or for material furnished by such employé in the course of her employment, or in or about the subject-matter thereof, or for both, the plaintiff, if entitled to costs, recovers the sum of ten dollars as costs, in addition to the [usual] costs * * * unless the amount of damages recovered is less than ten dollars; in which case the plaintiff recovers the sum of five dollars as such additional costs. Where the employé is the plaintiff in such an action she is entitled, upon a settlement thereof, to the full amount of costs which she would have recovered if judgment had been rendered in her favor for the sum received by her upon the settlement. In such action brought in said court, if the plaintiff recover a judgment for a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, exclusive of costs, no property of the defendant shall be exempt from levy and sale, by virtue of an execution against property issued thereupon; and, if such an execution is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the clerk must, upon the application of the plaintiff, issue an execution against the person of the defendant for the sum remaining uncollected. A defendant arrested by virtue of an execution so issued against his person, must be actually confined in the jail and is not entitled to the liberties thereof; but he must be discharged after having been so confined fifteen days. After his discharge an execution against his person cannot be again issued upon the judgment, but the judgment creditor may enforce the judgment against property, as if the execution, from which the judgment debtor is discharged, had been returned without his being taken.

[See subject of exemptions immediately preceding and section 1086, acts of 1882, following.]

SECTION 310, (as amended by chapter 437, acts of 1885). Every owner, agent or lessee of a steam boiler or boilers in use in the city of New York shall annually, and at such convenient times and in such manner and in such form as may, by rules and regulations to be made therefor by the board of police, be provided, report to the said board the location of such steam boiler or boilers, and thereupon, and as soon thereafter as practicable, the sanitary company, or such member or members thereof as may be competent for the duty herein described, and may be detailed for such duty by the board of police, shall proceed to inspect such steam boiler or boilers, and all apparatus and appliances connected therewith; but no person shall be detailed for such duty except he be a practical engineer, and the strength and security of each boiler shall be tested by atmospheric and hydrostatic pressure; and every boiler or boilers so tested shall have, under the control of said sanitary company, such attachments, apparatus and appliances as may be necessary for the limitation of pressure, locked and secured in like manner as may be from time to time adopted by the United States inspectors of steam boilers, or the secretary of the treasury, according to act of Congress, passed July 25, 1866; and they shall limit the pressure of steam to be applied to or upon such boiler, certifying each inspection and such limit of pressure to the owner of the boiler inspected, and also to the engineer in charge of same, and no greater amount of steam or pressure than that certified in the case of any boiler shall be applied thereto. In limiting the amount of pressure, wherever the boiler under test will bear the same, the limit desired by the owner of the boiler shall be the one certified. Every owner, agent or lessee of a steam boiler or boilers in use in the city of New York shall, for the inspecting and testing of such boiler or each of such boilers, as provided for in this act, and upon receiving from the board of police a certificate setting forth the location of the boiler inspected, the date of such inspection, the persons by whom the inspection was made, and the limit of steam or pressure which shall be applied to or upon such boiler or each of such boilers, pay annually to the treasurer of the board of police, for each boiler for the use of the police pension fund, the sum of two dollars, such certificate to continue in force for one year from the granting thereof, when it shall expire, unless sooner revoked or suspended. Such certificate may be renewed upon the payment of a like sum and like conditions, to be applied to a like purpose. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons, corporation or corporations, to have used or operated within the city of New York any steam boiler or boilers except for heating purposes and for railway locomotives without having first had such boiler or boilers inspected and tested, and procured for such boiler or each of such boilers so used or operated, the certificate herein provided for.

SECTION 311, (as amended by chapter 643, acts of 1886). It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to operate or use any steam boiler to generate steam, except for railway locomotive engines, and for heating purposes in private dwellings, and boilers carrying not over ten lbs. of steam and not over ten horse power or act as engineer for such purposes in the city of New York, without having a certificate of qualification therefor, from practical engineers detailed as such by the board of police, such certificate to be countersigned by the officer in command of the sanitary company of the police department of the city of New York, and to continue in force one year, unless sooner revoked or suspended. Such certificate may be revoked or suspended at any time by the board of police, upon the report of any two practical engineers, detailed as provided in this section, stating the grounds upon which such certificate should be revoked, or suspended. Where such certificate shall have been revoked, as provided in this section, a like certificate shall not in any case be issued to the same person within six months from the date of the revocation of the former certificate held by such person.

SECTION 312, (as amended by chapter 180, acts of 1884). A correct record in proper form shall be kept and preserved of all inspections of steam boilers made under the direction of the board of police, and of the amount of steam or pressure allowed in each case, and in cases where any steam boiler or the apparatus or appliances connected therewith shall be deemed by the board, after inspection, to be insecure or dangerous, the board may prescribe such changes and alterations as may render such boilers, apparatus and appliances secure and devoid of danger. And in the meantime, and until such changes and alterations are made and such appliances attached, such boiler, apparatus and appliances may be taken under the control of the board of police, and all persons prevented from using the same, and in cases deemed necessary the appliances, apparatus or attachments for the limitation of pressure may be taken under the control of the said board of police.

SECTION 313, (as amended by chapter 180, acts of 1884). It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to apply or cause to be applied to any steam boiler a higher pressure of steam than that limited for the same in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and any person violating the provisions of the last preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. In case any owner of any steam boiler in the said city shall fail or omit to have the same reported for inspection, as provided by law, such boiler may be taken under the control of the board of police and all persons prevented from using the same until it can be satisfactorily tested, as hereinbefore provided for, and the owner shall in such case be charged with the expense of so testing it.

SECTION 388. The said department [department of public charities and correction] is authorized to maintain on Hart's Island an industrial school; and in connection therewith is authorized to employ and use the labor of any person from any of the public institutions committed to its charge; * * *.

SECTION 399. Every person [confined in work house] whose age or health will permit shall be employed in getting out stone or in cultivating the grounds under used [sic] of the said department, [department of public charities and correction] or in manufacturing such articles as may be required for the ordinary use of the institutions under the control of the said board of commissioners, [of public charities and correction] preparing and building sea walls around the islands or other places upon which the said public institutions now are or [or] may hereafter be located, or at such mechanical or other labor as on trial shall be found to suit the capacity of the individual. It shall be the duty of the department to use every proper means to furnish convicts and paupers with suitable employment by contract; such employment, however, not to conflict or come into competition with any mechanical or other employment pursued by the people of this state. * * *

SECTION 400. The hours of labor shall not exceed ten per day to each person subject to the discipline of the department. * * *

SECTION 410. The commissioners, [of public charities and correction] when so authorized by the court of sessions, may bind out any minor who has been committed as a disorderly person, to some lawful calling, as a servant, apprentice, mariner, or otherwise, until he be of age; or if any person so committed be of age, said commissioners may, when so authorized, contract for his service with any person as a laborer, servant, apprentice, mariner, or otherwise, for not exceeding one year. Such binding out or contract, pursuant to this section, has the same effect as the indenture of an apprentice with his own consent and that of his parents, and subjects the person bound out or contracted to the same control of his master, and of the court of sessions, as if he was bound as an apprentice.

Property not exempt from execution upon judgment for work done by female employés.

SECTION 1086. No property now exempt by law shall be exempt from levy or sale, under an execution issued upon a judgment obtained in any court in the city of New York for work, labor, or services done or performed by any female employé, when the amount of such judgment does not exceed the sum of fifty dollars exclusive of costs. Whenever any execution issued upon such a judgment shall be returned unsatisfied, the clerk of the court wherein such judgment was obtained shall issue a further execution to any marshal of the city of New York commanding him to collect the amount due upon such judgment, or in default of payment thereof, to arrest the defendant in such execution and him safely convey to the jail or debtors' prison of the county of New York, and commanding the jailer of said jail to keep the said defendant without benefit of jail limits until the said defendant shall pay the said judgment, or be discharged according to law, but such imprisonment shall in no case extend beyond the period of fifteen days.

SECTION 1405. In an action, brought in either of those courts, [district courts of New York city] by a female to recover for services performed by her, if the plaintiff recovers a judgment for a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, exclusive of costs, no property of the defendant is exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution against property, issued thereupon; and, if such an execution is returned wholly or partly unsatisfied, the clerk must, upon the application of the plaintiff, issue an execution against the person of the defendant for the sum remaining uncollected. A defendant, arrested by virtue of an execution so issued against his person, must be actually confined in the jail, and is not entitled to the liberties thereof; but he must be discharged after having been so confined fifteen days. After his discharge, an execution against his person can not be issued upon the judgment, but the judgment creditor may enforce the judgment against property, as if the execution, from which the judgment debtor is discharged, had been returned without his being taken.

[See section 1390 and last half of section 3131, code of civil procedure, preceding.]

CHAPTER 63.—Arbitration of labor disputes.

SECTION 1. Whenever any grievance or dispute of any nature shall arise between any employer and his employes, it shall be lawful to submit the same, in writing, to a board of arbitrators for hearing and settlement. Said board shall consist of three persons. When the employes concerned are members in good standing of any labor organization, which is represented by one or more delegates in a central body, the said body shall have power to designate one of said arbitrators, and the employer shall have power to designate one other of said arbitrators, and the said two arbitrators shall designate a third person, as arbitrator, who shall be chairman of the board. In case the employes concerned in any grievance or dispute are members in good standing of a labor organization which is not represented in a central body, then the organization of which they are members shall have the power to select and designate one arbitrator for said board, and said board shall be organized as hereinbefore provided. And in case the employes concerned in any grievance or dispute are not members of any labor organization, then a majority of said employes, at a meeting duly held for that purpose, shall designate one arbitrator for said board, and the said board shall be organized as hereinbefore provided. In all cases of arbitration the grievance or matter of dispute shall be succinctly and clearly stated in writing, signed by the parties to the arbitration or some duly authorized person on their behalf, and submitted to such board of arbitration.

SECTION 2. Each arbitrator so selected shall sign a consent to act as such, and shall take and subscribe an oath before an officer authorized to administer oaths, to faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such arbitrator, which consent and oath may be filed in the office of the clerk of the county where such dispute arises. When the said board is ready for the transaction of business it shall select one of its number to act as secretary, and the parties to the dispute shall receive notice of a time and place of hearing. The chairman shall have power to administer oaths and to issue subpoenas for the production of books and papers, and for the attendance of witnesses, to the same extent that such power is possessed by the courts of record or the judges thereof in this state. The board * * * shall hear and examine such witnesses as may be brought before the board, and such other proof as may be given relative to the matter in dispute.

SECTION 3. After the matter has been fully heard, the said board, or a majority of its members, shall within ten days render a decision thereon, in writing, signed by them, giving such details as will clearly show the nature of the decision and the points disposed of. Such decision shall be a settlement of the matter referred to said arbitrators unless an appeal is taken therefrom as is hereinafter provided. The decision shall be in duplicate, one copy of which shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county, and the other transmitted to the secretary of the state board of mediation and arbitration, hereinafter mentioned, together with the testimony taken before said board.

SECTION 4. When the said board shall have rendered its decision its power shall cease, unless there may be in existence at the time other similar grievances or disputes between the same classes of persons, and in such case such persons may submit their differences to the said board, which shall have power to act, and arbitrate and decide upon the same as fully as if said board was originally created for the settlement of such other difference or differences.

SECTION 5. * * * the governor shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint a state board of mediation and arbitration, to consist of three competent persons, each of whom shall hold his office for the term of three years, * * *. One of said persons shall be selected from the party which at the last general election cast the greatest number of votes for governor of this state, and one of said persons shall be selected from the party which at the last general election cast the next greatest number of votes for governor of this state, and the other of said persons shall be selected from a bona fide labor organization of this state. * * * Said board shall have a clerk or secretary who shall be appointed by the board to serve three years, whose duty it shall be to keep a full and faithful record of the proceedings of the board, and also all documents and testimony forwarded by the local boards of arbitration, * * *. He shall have power under the direction of the board, to issue subpoenas, to administer oaths in all cases before said board, to call for and examine books, papers and documents of any parties to the controversy, with the same authority to enforce their production as is possessed by the courts of record or the judges thereof, in this state. Said arbitrators and clerk shall take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office, and be sworn to the due and faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices before entering upon the discharge of the same. * * *

SECTION 6. An appeal may be taken from the decision of any local board of arbitration within ten days after the rendition and filing of such decision. It shall be the duty of said state board of mediation and arbitration, to hear and consider appeals from the decisions of local boards, and promptly to proceed to the investigation of such cases, and the decision of said board thereon shall be final and conclusive in the premises upon both parties to the arbitration. Such decision shall be in writing, and a copy thereof shall be furnished to each party. Any two of the arbitrators shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and may hold meetings at any time or place within the state. Examinations or investigations ordered by the board may be held and taken by and before any one of their number, if so directed. But the proceedings and decision of any single arbitrator shall not be deemed conclusive until approved by the board or a majority thereof. Each arbitrator shall have power to administer oaths.

SECTION 7. Whenever any grievance or dispute of any nature shall arise between any employer and his employes, it shall be lawful for the parties to submit the same, directly to said state board in the first instance, in case such parties elect to do so, and shall jointly notify said board or its clerk, in writing, of such election. Whenever such notification to said board or its clerk is given, it shall be the duty of said board to proceed, with as little delay as possible, to the locality of such grievance or dispute, and inquire into the cause or causes of grievance or dispute. The parties to the grievance or dispute shall thereupon submit to said board, in writing, succinctly, clearly and in detail, their grievances and complaints and the cause or causes thereof, and severally agree in writing, to submit to the decision of said board as to matters so submitted, and a promise or agreement to continue on in business or at work, without a lock out or strike until the decision of said board, provided it shall be rendered within ten days after the completion of the investigation. The board shall thereupon proceed to fully investigate and inquire into the matters in controversy, and to take testimony under oath in relation thereto, and shall have power by its chairman or clerk, to administer oaths, to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, the production of books and papers, to the same extent as such power is possessed by courts of record or the judges thereof, in this state.

SECTION 8. After the matter has been fully heard, the said board, or a majority of its members, shall within ten days, render a decision thereon in writing, signed by them or a majority of them, stating such details as will clearly show the nature of the decision and the points disposed of by them. The decision shall be in triplicate, one copy of which shall be filed by the clerk of the board in the clerk's office of the county where the controversy arose, and one copy shall be served on each of the parties to the controversy.

SECTION 9. Whenever a strike or lock out shall occur, or is seriously threatened in any part of the state, and shall come to the knowledge of the board, it shall be its duty, and it is hereby directed to proceed, as soon as practicable, to the locality of such strike or lock out and put themselves in communication with the parties to the controversy, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement of such controversy; and if in their judgment it is deemed best, to inquire into the cause or causes of the controversy, and to that end the board is hereby authorized to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, and send for persons and papers, in like manner and with the same powers as it is authorized to do by section 7 of this act.

SECTION 11. Said board shall make a yearly report to the legislature, and shall include therein such statements, facts and explanations, as will disclose the actual working of the board, and such suggestions as to legislation, as may seem to them conducive to harmonizing the relations of, and disputes between employers and the wage-earning masses, and the improvement of the present system of production.

STATE ACTS OF 1890.

CHAPTER 27.—Inspection etc., of steam-boilers.

SECTION 1. There shall be appointed by the governor a board of inspectors, consisting of one from each of the several judicial districts of the state, whose duty it shall be to inspect all steam boilers in use within his district, not subject to inspection under the laws of the United States, and to examine and grant certificates of license to all steam engineers intrusted with the care and management of steam boilers within said district. Said inspectors shall hold their respective offices for two years from the date of appointment, unless removed for cause by the governor.

SECTION 2. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of inspector of boilers who is either directly or indirectly interested in the manufacture or sale of boilers or steam machinery, or any patented article required to be used or of general use in the construction of steam boilers or engines, or who is not of good moral character, a practical engineer, and suitably qualified by experience in the construction of steam boilers, or such experience in their manufacture as to enable him to perform the duties of the office, and no person shall enter upon or perform any of the duties of inspector who has not taken and subscribed an oath, and filed the same with the secretary of the State, that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties of his office.

SECTION 3. Said inspectors shall, in April next after the passage of this act, and each year thereafter, meet as a board at Bismarck, North Dakota, and establish such rules and regulations for the inspection of the steam boilers herein provided for, as shall be required by the terms of this chapter. They shall also prescribe rules and regulations for the inspection of the hulls, machinery, boilers, steam connections, fire apparatus, life-saving appliances and equipments of all steamers, propelled in whole or in part by steam, and navigating the inland waters of the state. They shall also designate the number of passengers that each steam vessel may safely carry, and it shall be unlawful for any master or owner of any steam vessel herein provided for, to carry a greater number of passengers than is allowed by the inspector's certificate, and such regulations, when approved by the governor, shall have the force of law.

SECTION 4. Every owner, lessee or other person having charge of steam boilers on any boat, or boat propelled in whole or in part by steam, not subject to inspection under the laws of the United States, shall cause the same to be inspected at least once in each year by the inspectors herein provided for, and every such owner, lessee or person having charge of such boilers or steam vessel, who shall raise steam and operate such boilers and machinery without such inspection, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred (100) dollars, said amount to accrue to the state.

SECTION 5. The said inspectors shall once in each year at least, upon application, in writing, of the owner, lessee or manager, carefully inspect the hull, boiler, machinery and equipments of all steam vessels liable to inspection under this act, and shall satisfy themselves that every such vessel is of a structure suitable for the service in which she is to be employed and has suitable accommodations for passengers and crew and is in a condition to warrant the belief that she may be used in navigation as a steamer, with safety to life, and that such equipments as life preservers, floats, pumps, hose, anchors and other things necessary to insure safety, have been provided. When the inspection of a steam vessel is completed and the inspectors approve the vessel and her equipments throughout, they shall make and subscribe a certificate to the secretary of the state, in such form as the board of inspectors shall prescribe; such certificate shall be subscribed and verified by the oath of the inspector making it, and a copy of said certificate shall be furnished by the inspector to the managing owner or master of said steam vessel, who shall post the same in a conspicuous place on said boat. The original certificate shall be kept on file in the office of the secretary of the state.

SECTION 6. The said inspectors shall, in addition to their duties as inspectors of steam vessels, inspect all steam boilers or steam generators before the same shall be used, and once at least in each year thereafter they shall subject all boilers to hydrostatic pressure, and shall satisfy themselves by a thorough examination inside and out, and by hammer test, after hydrostatic pressure, that the boilers are well made of good and suitable material; that the openings for the passage of water and steam respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat are of proper dimensions and free from obstructions; that the flues are circular in form; that the friction (fire line) of the furnace is at least two inches below the prescribed minimum water line of the boilers; that the arrangements for delivering the feed water are such that the boilers cannot be injured thereby, and that such boilers and their steam connections may be safely employed without peril to life. They shall also satisfy themselves that the safety valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number and properly arranged, and that the safety valve weights and springs are properly adjusted so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there is a sufficient number of gauge cocks properly inserted, suitable gauges that will correctly record the pressure of steam; and that a fusible plug is properly inserted so as to fuse by the heat of the furnace whenever the water in the boilers falls below its prescribed limits, and that adequate and certain provisions for an ample supply to feed the boilers at all times so that in high pressure boilers the water shall not be less than four inches above the top of the flues, and that means for blowing out are provided so that the mud and sediment may be removed while the boiler is under pressure of steam. In subjecting to hydrostatic tests, boilers usually designated as high pressure, the inspector shall assume one hundred and twenty-five pounds to the square inch as the maximum pressure allowable as a working pressure for new boilers of forty-two inches in diameter, made in the best manner, of plates one-fourth of an inch thick, of good materials; but the inspector shall rate the working power of all high pressure boilers according to their strength, compared with this standard, and in all cases the test applied shall exceed the working power allowed, in the ratio of one hundred and sixty-five to one hundred and ten. In subjecting to the hydrostatic test boilers usually designated as low pressure, the inspector shall allow as a working power for each new boiler, a pressure of only three-fourths the number of pounds to the square inch to which it has been subjected by the hydrostatic test. Should the inspector be of the opinion that any boiler, by reason of its construction or material, will not safely allow so high a working pressure as herein provided, he may, for reasons to be stated specially in his certificate, fix the pressure of such boiler at less than three-fourths of the test pressure. No boiler or steam pipe nor any of the connections therewith, shall be approved which is made in whole or in part of bad material or is unsafe from any cause. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the use of any boiler or steam generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the board of inspectors have satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam generator is equal in strength and as safe from explosion as boilers of the best quality constructed of riveted iron or steel plates.

SECTION 7. Every person who constructs a boiler or steam pipe of iron or steel plates, known to be faulty or imperfect, or who drills any rivet hole to make it come fair, or who delivers any such boiler for use, knowing it to be imperfect in its flues, flanges, riveting, bracing, or in other of its parts, shall be fined two hundred (200) dollars, one-half for the use of the informer.

SECTION 8. In addition to the annual inspection, it shall be the duty of each inspector to examine at any time, when in his opinion such examination shall become necessary, all such boilers within his district as shall become unsafe from any cause and to notify the owners or persons using such boilers of any defect, and what repairs are necessary in order to render them safe; and it shall be the duty of the person operating or owning any such boiler to cease to use the same until such repairs are made; and in case of failure to comply with the requirements of said inspector, the person operating or owning any such boiler shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred (100) dollars, and liable for any damage to person or property resulting therefrom.

SECTION 9. Every steam boiler shall be provided with a fusible plug of good Banca tin, inserted in the flues, crown sheet or other part of the boiler most exposed to the heat of the furnace when the water falls below the prescribed limits.

SECTION 10. It shall be the duty of owners or managers of steam boilers, mentioned in this act, to allow said inspectors free access to the same, and it is hereby made the duty of the engineer operating the same to assist the inspector in his examination, and to point out any defect they may know in the boiler or machinery in their charge.

SECTION 11. No person shall be entrusted with the operating of any steam boiler or steam machinery who has not been examined by an inspector and found competent to perform the duties of an engineer and receive from such inspector a written or printed license to so act. Engineers shall be divided into three classes, viz: chief engineer, assistant engineer and special engineer. No license shall be granted to any person to perform the duties of chief engineer whose knowledge of steam machinery and experience as an engineer is not such as to justify the belief that he is competent to take charge of all classes of boilers and machinery. No license shall be granted to any person to act as assistant engineer unless his knowledge of steam machinery and habits of life are such as to warrant the belief that he is competent to manage safely and without danger to life, ordinary steam machinery. Special engineers may be licensed to operate steam thrasher engines and engines of kindred class, when found on examination to be sufficiently acquainted with the duties of an engineer to warrant the belief that he can safely be entrusted to perform such duty. Whenever complaint is made against an engineer holding a license from a state inspector that he has, through negligence, want of skill or inattention to duty, permitted his boilers to burn or otherwise become in bad condition, it shall be the duty of the inspector, upon satisfactory proof of such negligence, to revoke the license of such engineer; and no engineer shall run his engine longer than seven days without cleaning out the boiler under penalty of this act.

SECTION 12. An engineer running a stationary engine, shall keep his license in a public place in the engine room, which license shall be subject to inspection by any inspector or other public official. Engineers running or operating boilers and engines other than stationary ones, shall keep their certificates with them and subject to examination by any inspector, public official, or other person interested therein. Any person operating a steam boiler or engine without a license as provided for by this act, or any person employing anyone to operate a steam boiler or engine who does not have a certificate as provided in this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not to exceed two hundred (200) dollars, or imprisoned in county jail not to exceed one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, as the court may deem advisable. The license of chief and assistant engineers shall be good for the time issued in any part of the state, but special licenses shall be good only in the judicial district where granted, and in case of removal to another district a new license must be taken out in said district, and a failure or neglect so to do will incur the penalty in paragraph 2 of this section.

SECTION 13. In making the inspection of boilers, machinery, or steam vessels herein provided for, the inspectors may act jointly or separately, but the inspector or inspectors making such inspection shall, in all cases, subscribe and make an oath to the certificate of inspection; any inspector who shall willfully certify falsely regarding any steam boiler or its attachments, or the hull and equipments of any steam vessel, or grant license to incompetent persons to act as engineers, or grant a license to any person better than the grade that he should have shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred (500) dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year in the state prison, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 15. This act shall not apply to railroad locomotives, nor to boilers owned or controlled by railway companies, unless used upon steam vessels navigating the inland waters of the state; nor shall engineers employed by railroad companies be required to procure licenses from the state board of inspectors, but the penalties herein provided for shall not obtain in any case prior to the time the inspector or inspectors have notified the persons affected that they are ready to make inspection as herein provided for.

For the purpose of making the inspection and examinations provided for in this section, the chief inspector and the district inspectors shall have the right to enter any mine at all reasonable times, by night or by day, but in such manner as shall not unnecessarily obstruct the working of the mine; and the owner or agent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry and inspection; the inspection and examination herein provided for shall extend to fire-clay, iron ore, and other mines, as well as coal mines.

SECTION 293. (Vol. III. R. S., as amended by act passed March 24, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 106.) * * * the chief inspector * * * shall make such personal inspection of the mines as he may deem necessary and his other duties will permit; he shall keep in his office and carefully preserve all maps, surveys and other reports and papers required by law to be filed with him, and so arrange and preserve the same as shall make them a permanent record of ready, convenient and connected reference; he shall compile and consolidate the reports of district inspectors, and annually make report to the governor of all his proceedings, as well as those of the district inspectors, the condition and operation of the different mines of the state, and the number of mines and the number of persons employed in or about such mines, the amount of coal, iron ore, limestone, fire-clay, or other mineral mined in this state; and for the purpose of enabling him to make such report, the owner, lessee or agent in charge of such mine, who is engaged in mining, and the owner, lessee or agent of any firm, company or corporation in charge of any fire-clay, or iron ore mined [mine ?] or any limestone, or quarry, or who is engaged in mining or producing any mineral whatsoever in this state, shall, on or before the 31st day of January in every year, send to the office of the chief inspector of mines, upon blanks to be furnished by him, a correct return specifying with respect to the year ending on the preceding 31st day of December, the quantity of coal, iron ore, fire clay, limestone, or other mineral product in such mine, or quarry, and the number of persons ordinarily employed in or about such mine, or quarry, below and above ground, distinguishing the persons and labor below ground and above ground. Every owner, lessee or agent of a mine or quarry who fails to comply with this section, or makes any return which to his knowledge is false in any particular, shall be deemed guilty of an offense against this section, and shall be fined one hundred dollars, to be recovered at the suit of the chief inspector in the name of the state of Ohio; * * * he shall enumerate all accidents, and the manner in which they occurred, in or about the mines, and give all such other information as he thinks useful and proper, and make such suggestions as he deems important relative to mines and mining, and any other legislation that may be necessary on the subject for the better preservation of the life and health of those engaged in such industry.

SECTION 297. (Vol. I. R. S., as amended by act passed April 11, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 185.) It is unlawful for the owner or agent of any coal mine, worked by shaft, to employ or permit any person to work therein, unless there are, to every seam of coal worked in each mine, at least two separate outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, by which shafts or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in the mine; but it is not necessary for the two outlets to belong to the same mine, if the persons employed therein have safe, ready and available means of ingress and egress by not less than two openings. This section shall not apply to opening a new mine while being worked for the purpose of making communication between said two outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at any one time in such mine, neither shall it apply to any mine, or part of a mine in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable by reason of the final robbing of pillars previous to abandonment, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed therein at any one time. The cage or cages, and other means of egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed, where there is no second outlet. The escape-ment shafts shall be fitted with safe and available appliances by which the persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case an accident occurs deranging the hoisting machinery at the main outlets, and such means or appliances of escape shall always be kept in a safe condition; and in no case shall an air shaft, with a ventilating furnace at the bottom, be construed to be an escape-ment shaft, within the meaning of this section. To all other coal mines, whether slopes or drifts, two such openings or outlets must be provided within twelve months after shipments of coal have commenced from such mine; and in case such outlets are not provided as herein stipulated, it shall not be lawful for the agent or owner of such slope or drift to permit more than ten persons to work therein at any one time. In case a coal mine has but one shaft, slope, or drift, for the ingress or egress of the men working therein, and the owner thereof does not own suitable surface ground for another opening, he may select and appropriate any adjoining land for that purpose, and may make an additional shaft or outlet under, through or upon any intervening land, or landing adjoining, * * *.

SECTION 298. (Vol. III, R. S., as amended by act passed May 17, 1886; laws of Ohio, vol. 83, page 182.) The owner or agent of every coal mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine, an amount of ventilation of not less than one hundred cubic feet, per minute, per person employed in such mine, which shall be circulated and distributed throughout the mine in such a manner as to dilute, render harmless, and expel the poisonous and noxious gases from each and every working-place in the mine, and no working place shall be driven more than sixty feet in advance of a break-through, or air-way; and all break-throughs, or air-ways, except those last made near the working faces of the mine shall be closed up and made air tight, by brattice, trap-doors, or otherwise, so that the currents of air in circulation in the mine may sweep to the interior of the mine, where the persons employed in such mine are at work, and all mines governed by the statute shall be provided with artificial means of producing ventilation, such as forcing, or suction fans, exhaust steam, furnaces, or other contrivances, of such capacity and power as to produce and maintain an abundant supply of air, and all mines generating fire-damp, shall be kept free from standing gas, and every working-place shall be carefully examined every morning with a safety-lamp by a competent person or persons, before any of the workmen are allowed to enter the mine. All underground entrances to any places not in actual course of working or extension, shall be properly fenced across the whole width of such entrances so as to prevent persons from inadvertently entering the same.

SECTION 299. (Vol. III, R. S., as amended by act passed May 17, 1886; laws of Ohio, vol. 83, page 182.) The owner or agent of every coal mine operated by shaft, in all cases where the human voice can not be distinctly heard, shall forthwith provide and maintain a metal tube from the top to the bottom of such shaft suitably calculated for the free passage of sound therein, so that conversation may be held between persons at the bottom and top of the shaft; there shall also be provided an approved safety catch, and a sufficient cover overhead, on all carriages used for lowering and hoisting persons, and in the top of every shaft an approved safety gate, and an adequate brake shall be attached to every drum or machine used for lowering or raising persons in all shafts or slopes; and there shall also be provided in every shaft a traveling or passage-way from one side of a shaft bottom to the other, so that persons working therein may not have to pass under descending cages; and all slopes or engine-planes, used as traveling ways by persons in any mine, shall be made of sufficient width to permit persons to pass moving cars with safety; but if found impracticable to make any slope or engine-plane of sufficient width, then safety-holes of ample dimensions, and not more than sixty feet apart, shall be made on one side of said slope or engine-plane. Such safety-holes shall always be kept free from obstructions, and the roof and sides shall be made secure. The boilers used for generating steam, and the buildings containing the boilers shall not be nearer than sixty feet to any shaft or slope, or to any building or inflammable structure connected with or surrounding said shaft or slope; but this section shall not apply to any shaft or slope, until the work of development and shipment of coal has commenced.

SECTION 300. (Vol. I, R. S.) No owner or agent of any coal mine operated by a shaft or slope shall place in charge of any engine used for lowering into or hoisting out of such mine persons employed therein any but experienced, competent, and sober engineers; and no engineer in charge of such engine shall allow any person, except such as may be deputed for that purpose by the owner or agent, to interfere with it or any part of the machinery, and no person shall interfere or in any way intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duties; and in no case shall more than ten men ride on any cage or car at one time, and no person shall ride upon a loaded cage or car in any shaft or slope.

SECTION 301. (Vol. III, R. S., as amended by act passed April 11, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 186.) All safety lamps used for examining coal mines, or which are used in any coal mine, shall be the property of the owner of the mine, and shall be under the charge of the agent thereof, and in all mines, whether they generate fire-damp or not, the doors use[d] in assisting or directing ventilation of the mine, shall be so hung or adjusted that they will shut of their own accord and can not stand open; and all main doors shall have an attendant, whose constant duty shall be to open them for transportation and travel, and prevent them from standing open longer than is necessary for persons or cars to pass through; and the mining boss shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus and the air way, and he shall measure the ventilation at least once a week, at the inlet and outlet, and also at or near the face of all the entries, and the measurements of air so made shall be noted on blanks, furnished by the chief inspector; and on the first day of each month the mining boss of each mine shall sign one of such blanks, properly filled with the said actual measurements, and forward the same to the chief inspector, and any mining boss making false returns of such air measurements shall be deemed guilty of an offense against this section. Every person having charge of any mine, whenever loss of life occurs by accident, connected with the working of such mine, or by explosion, shall give notice thereof forthwith, by mail or otherwise, to the inspector of mines, and to the coroner of the county in which such mine is situated, and the coroner shall hold an inquest upon the body of the person or persons whose death has been caused, and inquire carefully into the cause thereof, and shall return a copy of the finding and all the testimony to the chief inspector. The owner, agent or manager of every mine shall, within twenty-four hours next after any accident or explosion, whereby loss of life or personal injury may have been occasioned, send notice in writing to the chief inspector, and shall specify in such notice the character and cause of the accident, and the name or names of the persons killed and injured, with the extent and nature of the injuries sustained. When any personal injury, of which notice is required to be sent under this section, results in the death of the person injured, notice in writing shall be sent to the chief inspector within twenty-four hours after such death comes to the knowledge of the owner, agent or manager; and when loss of life occurs in any mine by explosion, or accident, the owner, agent, or manager of such mine shall notify the chief inspector, or the district inspector, forthwith, of the fact, and it shall be the duty of the chief inspector to go himself, or require one of the district inspectors to go, at once to the mine in which said death occurred, and inquire into the cause of the same, and to make a written report, fully setting forth the condition of the part of the mine where such death occurred, and the cause which lead to the same; which report shall be filed by the chief inspector in his office as a matter or [of?] record, and for future reference.

For any injury to persons or property, occasioned by any violation of this act, or any willful failure to comply with its provisions by any owner, agent or manager of any mine, a right of action shall accrue to the party injured, for any direct damage he may have sustained thereby; and, in any case of loss of life, by reason of such willful neglect or failure, aforesaid, a right of action shall accrue to the widow and lineal heirs of the person whose life shall be lost, for like recovery of damages for the injury they shall have sustained.

The owner, agent, or manager of any mine shall also give notice to the chief inspector of mines in any or all of the following cases:

- * * * * *
2. Where any working is commenced for the purpose of opening a new shaft, slope or mine, to which this act applies.
 3. Where any mine is abandoned or the working thereof discontinued.
 4. Where the working of any mine is re-commenced after any abandonment or discontinuance for a period exceeding three months.
 5. Where the pillars of a mine are about to be removed or robbed.
 6. Where a squeeze or crush, or any other cause or change may seem to affect the safety of persons employed in any mine, or where fire occurs, or a dangerous body of gas is found in any mine.

SECTION 302. (Vol. I, R. S., as amended by act passed April 16, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 325.) No boy under twelve years of age shall be allowed to work in any mine, nor any minor between the ages of twelve and sixteen years unless he can read and write; and in all cases of minors applying for work, the agent of such mine shall see that the provisions of this section are not violated; and the mine inspector may, where doubt exists as to the age of any minors found working in any mine, qualify the said minor or his parents as to his age.

SECTION 303. (Vol. I, R. S., as amended by act passed April 16, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 325.) In case any coal mine does not, in appliances for the safety of the persons working therein, conform to the provisions of this chapter, or the owner or agent disregards the requirements of this chapter, any court of competent jurisdiction may, on application of the inspector, by civil action in the name of the state, enjoin or restrain the owner or agent from working or operating such mine until it is made to conform to the provisions of this chapter; and such remedy shall be cumulative, and shall not take the place of or affect any other proceedings against such owner or agent authorized by law for the matter complained of in such action.

SECTION 305. (Vol. III, R. S.) In all coal mines in the state, the miners employed and working therein, * * * shall at all proper times have full right of access and examination of all scales, machinery, or other apparatus used in or about such mine to determine the quantity of coal mined, for the purpose of testing the accuracy and correctness of all such scales, machinery, or apparatus; and such miners, * * * may designate or appoint a competent person to act for them, who shall at all proper times have full right of access and examination of such scales, machinery, or apparatus, and seeing all weights and measures of coal mined, and the accounts kept of the same; but not more than one person on behalf of the miners collectively, * * * shall have such right of access, examination, and inspection of scales, weights, measures, and accounts at the same time, and that such persons shall make no unnecessary interference with the use of such scales, machinery, or apparatus; and the miners employed in any mine, may, from time to time, appoint two of their number to act as a committee to inspect not oftener than once in every month, the mine and the machinery connected therewith, and to measure the ventilating current, and if the owner, agent, or manager so desires, he may accompany said committee by himself, or two or more persons, which he may appoint for that purpose; the owner, agent, or manager shall afford every necessary facility for making such inspection and measurement, but the committee shall not in any way interrupt or impede the work going on in the mine at the time of such inspection and measurement, and said committee shall, within ten days after such inspection and measurement, make a correct report thereof to the inspector of mines, on blanks to be furnished by said inspector for that purpose; and if such committee make to the inspector a false or untrue report of the mines, such act shall constitute a violation of this section.

SECTION 306. (Vol. I, R. S., as amended by act passed April 16, 1888; laws of Ohio, vol. 85, page 326.) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to or affect any coal mine in which not more than ten men are employed at the same time; but the inspector shall at all times have free ingress to such mines for the purpose of examination and inspection, and shall direct and enforce any regulations in accordance with provisions of this chapter that he may deem necessary for the safety of the health and lives of the miners employed therein.

SECTION 3. If the said petition shall be signed by the requisite number of both employers and workmen, and be in proper form and contain the names of the persons to compose the tribunal, being an equal number of employers and workmen, the judge shall forthwith cause to be issued a license * * * authorizing the existence of such tribunal and fixing the time and place of the first meeting thereof, and an entry of the license so granted shall be made upon the journal of the court of common pleas of the county in which the petition originated.

SECTION 4. Attorneys at law or other agents of either party to the dispute, shall not be permitted to appear or take part in any of the proceedings of the tribunal, or before the umpire.

Committees of the tribunal consisting of an equal number of each class may be constituted to examine into any question in dispute between employers and workmen which may have been referred to said committee by the tribunal, and such committee may hear and settle the same finally, when it can be done, by a unanimous vote; otherwise the same shall be reported to the full tribunal, and be there heard, as if the question had not been referred. * * *

SECTION 9. Before the umpire shall proceed to act, the question or questions in dispute shall be plainly defined in writing, and signed by the members of the tribunal, or a majority thereof of each class, or by the parties submitting the same; and such writing shall contain the submission of the decision thereof to the umpire by name, and shall provide that his decision thereon, after hearing, shall be final. The umpire shall be sworn to impartially decide all questions that may be submitted to him during his term of office. * * * said umpire must make his award within ten days from the time the question or questions in dispute are submitted to him. Said award shall be made to the tribunal; and if the award is for a specific sum of money, said award may be made a matter of record by filing a copy thereof in the court of common pleas of the county wherein the tribunal is in session. When so entered of record it shall be final and conclusive, and the proper court may, on motion of anyone interested, enter judgment thereon; and when the award is for a specific sum of money, may issue final and other process to enforce the same.

BRIGHTLY'S PURDON'S DIGEST, EDITION OF 1885.

Courts of conciliation.

SECTION 67. Whereas, differences arise between persons engaged in the iron, steel, glass, textile fabrics and coal trades in this state, and strikes and lock-outs result therefrom, which paralyze these important industries, bring great loss upon both employer and employed, and seem to find their only solution in starvation or in force, which does not accord with the teachings of humanity and the true policy of our laws: And whereas, voluntary tribunals, mutually chosen, with equality of representation and of rights, and a frank discussion therein by the persons interested, of the business questions involved, are the plain paths to mutual concession and cessation of strife, and the choice of an umpire by the parties themselves, to whose arbitrament the matters in dispute are to be submitted for final decision, if they fail to agree, is in accord with the practice and policy of this commonwealth: Therefore, the presiding judges of the courts of common pleas, or the president judges thereof, in chambers, in the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny, and of each of the other judicial districts of this commonwealth, shall have power, and upon the presentation of the petition, or of the agreement hereinafter named, it shall be the duty of each of them, to issue, in the form hereinafter named, a license or authority for the establishment, within their respective districts, of tribunals for the consideration and settlement of disputes between employers and employed, in the iron, steel, glass, textile fabrics, and coal trades, and each of them.

SECTION 68. The said petition or agreement shall be substantially in the form hereinafter given, and the petition shall be signed by at least fifty persons em-played as workmen, by five or more separate firms, individuals, or corporations within the county where the petitioners reside, or by at least five employers, each of whom shall employ at least ten workmen, or by the representatives of a firm, individual or corporation employing not less than seventy-five men in their business; and the agreement shall be signed by both of said specified numbers and persons: Provided, That if, at the time the petition is presented, a dispute exists between the employers and the workmen, and that as a consequence there is a suspension of work, or owing to the nature of the dispute, a suspension is probable, the judge before whom said petition is presented, shall require testimony to be taken as to the representative character of said petitioners, and if it appears that the said petitioners do not represent the will of a majority, or at least one-half of each party to the dispute, the license for the establishment of the said tribunal may be denied.

SECTION 69. The persons signing said petition as workmen, shall each have been a resident of the judicial district in which the petition shall be presented, for at least one year, shall have been engaged in some branch of the trade they profess to represent, for at least two years, and be a citizen of the United States. The persons signing the same as employers, shall be citizens of the United States, and shall be, and shall have been, actually engaged in some branch of the iron, steel, glass, textile fabrics or coal trade, within the judicial district, for at least one year, and shall each employ therein at least ten workmen, of the class hereinbefore described, and may be a firm, individual or corporation; and the said petition shall be verified by the oaths of at least two of the signers, attesting the truth of the facts stated therein, and the qualifications of the signers thereto.

SECTION 70. If the said petition shall be signed by the requisite number of both employers and workmen, and be in proper form and contain the names of the persons to compose the tribunal, being an equal number of each side, and of the umpire mutually chosen, the judge shall forthwith issue a license, substantially in the form hereinafter given, authorizing the existence of such tribunal and fixing the time and place for the first meeting thereof, which shall be made a record in the court of common pleas over which said judge presides.

SECTION 71. If the petition shall be signed by the requisite number of either workmen or employers, and not by both, and be in proper form, the judge shall issue his license for the creation of such tribunal, conditioned upon the assent and agreement of the necessary number of that side to the issue, which shall not have signed the petition; which assent shall be in writing, signed by the requisite number, and contain the names of the members of the tribunal, and the umpire, and upon the presentation of such petition and assent, the judge shall issue his license for a tribunal, as provided in section four of this act; but if no such assent shall be obtained, within sixty days from the date of the conditional license, the petition shall be taken as dismissed, but if the assent be signed, a record shall be made of the license, as if made upon original agreement.

SECTION 72. One of the said tribunals may be created for each of the trades named in the first section of this act, in each judicial district; they shall continue in existence for one year from date of the license creating them, and may take jurisdiction of any dispute between employers and workmen, who shall have petitioned for the tribunal, or have been represented in the petition therefor, or who may submit their disputes in writing to such tribunal for decision. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the tribunal, shall be filled by the judge, out of the three names presented to him by the members of the tribunal remaining of that class in which the vacancies occur. Removal to an adjoining district shall not cause a vacancy, in either the tribunal or the post of umpire. Disputes, occurring in one county, may be referred to a tribunal already existing in an adjoining county. The place of umpire, in any of said tribunals and vacancies occurring in such place, shall only be filled by the mutual choice of the whole of the representatives, of both employers and workmen constituting the tribunal. The umpire shall only be called upon to act, after disagreement is manifested in the tribunal, by failure during three meetings held, and full discussion had. His award shall be final and conclusive upon such matters only as are submitted to him in writing and signed by the whole of the members of the tribunal, or by parties submitting the same, and upon questions affecting the price of labor; it shall in no case be binding upon either employer or workmen, save as they may acquiesce or agree therein after such award.

SECTION 73. The said tribunal shall consist of not less than two employers or their representatives, and two workmen. The exact number, which shall in each case constitute the tribunal, shall be inserted in the petition or agreement, and they shall be named in the license issued. The said tribunal, when convened, shall be organized by the selection of one of their number as chairman, and one as secretary, who shall be chosen by a majority of the members, or if such majority cannot be had, after two votes, then by secret ballot, or by lot, as they prefer.

SECTION 74. The members of the tribunal shall receive no compensation for their services from the city or county, but the expenses of the tribunal, other than fuel, light and use of room and furniture, may be paid by voluntary subscription, which the tribunal is authorized to receive and expend for such purposes. Each city or county, in which such tribunal shall be created, shall pay for the fuel, lights and use of a room and furniture for the same, which it is hereby authorized to obtain, but the cost of the same shall only be paid upon sworn vouchers, submitted to, and approved by, the proper judge of the judicial district.

SECTION 75. When no umpire is acting, the chairman shall have power to administer oaths, sign subpoenas, orders, notices and other proceedings of the board; and when the umpire shall be acting, this authority shall be vested in him, and all of the authority vested in boards of arbitrators, by the compulsory arbitration act of June 13th, 1836, for procuring witnesses, preserving order and obtaining proofs, shall be and is hereby vested in such umpire, when acting. Attorneys at law, or other agents of one side or the other, shall not be permitted to appear, or take part in any of the proceedings of the tribunal or before the umpire; but the same shall be as far as possible voluntary, and upon examination of proofs and witnesses by the tribunal itself and the umpire. When the umpire is acting, he shall preside; and his determination upon all questions of evidence, or otherwise in conducting the inquiries then pending, shall be final. Committees of the tribunal, consisting of an equal number of each class, may be constituted to examine into any question in dispute, between employers and workmen, submitted to the tribunal, and such committee may hear and settle the same finally, when it can be done, by an unanimous vote; otherwise the same shall be reported to the full tribunal, and be there heard, as if the question had been originally examined by it. The said tribunals, in connection with the umpire, shall each have power to make, ordain and enforce rules for the government of the body, when in session, to enable the business to be proceeded with in order, and to fix its sessions and adjournments; but such rules shall not conflict with this statute, nor with any of the provisions of the constitution and laws of Pennsylvania.

SECTION 76. Before the umpire shall proceed to act, the question or questions in dispute shall be plainly defined in writing, and signed by the members of the tribunal, or a majority thereof of each class, or by the parties submitting the same; and such writing shall contain the submission of the decision thereof to the umpire by name, and shall provide that his decision thereon, after hearing, shall be final. The umpire shall be sworn to impartially decide the question submitted. The submission and his award may be made in the form hereinafter given; and said umpire must make his award within ten days from the time the question or questions in dispute are submitted to him. When such award shall be made and signed by the umpire, it may be made a matter of record, by producing the same, within thirty days, with the submission in writing, to the proper judge. If he approves the same, he shall endorse his approval thereon, and direct the same to be entered of record. When so entered of record, it shall be final and conclusive, and the proper court may, on motion of any one interested, enter judgment thereon; and when the award is for a specific sum of money, may issue final and other process, to enforce the same.

SECTION 77. This act shall be cited and quoted as the, "voluntary trade tribunal act, of 1883."

In all cases of executions, landlords' warrants, attachments and writs of a similar nature, hereafter to be issued against any person or persons, or chartered company, engaged as before mentioned, it shall be lawful for such miners, laborers, mechanics or clerks, to give notice in writing of their claim or claims, and the amount thereof, to the officers executing either of such writs, at any time before the actual sale of the property levied on; and such officers shall pay to such miners, laborers, mechanics and clerks, out of the proceeds of sale, the amount each is justly and legally entitled to receive, not exceeding two hundred dollars.

SECTION 3. In all cases of the death, insolvency or assignment of any person or persons, or chartered company, engaged in operations as hereinbefore mentioned, or of executions issued against them, the lien of preference mentioned in the first section of this act, with the like limitations and powers, shall extend to every property of said person or chartered company.

SECTION 4. No mortgage, or other instrument by which a lien is hereafter credited [created], shall operate to impair or postpone the lien and preference given and secured to the wages and moneys mentioned in the first section [above]: * * * Provided, That no lien of mortgage or judgment entered before such labor is performed, shall be affected or impaired thereby.

SECTION 5. The proviso to the fourth section [above] * * * shall not hereafter be so construed as to, in any manner, apply to coal-lease mortgage or mortgages, or to make the same a lien preferred to the lien of the wages of labor mentioned in [above sections] * * *, but that such claim of wages shall be a lien preferred thereto.

SECTION 6. It is the true intent and meaning of the provisions of [sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 above] * * * that the several classes of laborers in said [sections] mentioned shall have a preference over landlords, in all claims for rent of any mines, manufactories or other real estate, held under lease, where the lessee or lessees are the parties employing the miners, mechanics, laborers or clerks: Provided, That any person or persons claiming a preference as above provided, shall give notice of the nature and amount of his claim to the landlord or his bailiff, before the actual sale of the property levied upon.

SECTION 7. In all cases * * * for the recovery of the wages of manual labor only, it shall be the duty of the prothonotary preparing the list of civil causes, to place all claims for the wages of labor first on the list, and the court shall proceed to try all such cases as they occur on the list: Provided, That a statement of the plaintiff's claim be filed in such cases, showing that the claims respectively are for manual labor alone.

SECTION 8. No stay of execution shall be allowed on any judgment for one hundred dollars and less, when the same has been recovered for wages of manual labor.

SECTION 9, (as amended by chapter 2, acts of 1887). No exemption of property from attachment, levy, or sale upon execution, shall be allowed upon judgment for one hundred dollars or less, obtained for wages for manual labor.

SECTION 11. In all cases in which judgment shall have been rendered by any justice of the peace or alderman in this commonwealth for wages of manual labor, before the defendant shall be entitled to an appeal from the judgment of the justice or alderman, he, or his agent or attorney, shall make oath or affirmation that the appeal is not intended for the purpose of delay, but that he believes that injustice has been done him, which affidavit shall be attached to and sent up with the transcript of appeal. And the said defendant shall be required to give good and sufficient bail or the payment of the debt and costs * * *

SECTION 12. No voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors shall operate so as to hinder, delay or prevent, for a longer period than thirty days from the time of such assignment, the collection or enforcement of any * * * claims for the wages of labor * * * and said claimants may, after the expiration of thirty days from the date of such assignment, enforce the collection of their claims, in the same manner, and by means of the same remedies, that they might have done had no such assignment been made.

ACTS OF 1885.

ACT NO. 165.—Employment of females in coal mines, etc.

SECTION 1. * * * It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, corporation or association engaged in mining coal, mining and manufacturing or manufacturing it, in this state, their clerks, agents, superintendents, officers or servants, to employ, cause or permit to be employed, any female labor or laborers in and about the coal mine, or any of the manufactories of coal, in this state; and any person so offending, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, nor less than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail, for a period not exceeding six months, either, or both in the discretion of the court: * * * Provided, however, That the provisions of this bill shall not affect the employment of a female in an office, or in the performance of clerical work, at such mine or colliery.

ACT NO. 169.—Coal mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 1. The owner, operator or superintendent of every bituminous coal mine, shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of such coal mine, on a scale not exceeding one hundred feet to the inch, which map or plan shall exhibit all the openings or excavations, the shaft, tunnels, slopes, planes, gangways entries, cross-headings, rooms, et cetera, and shall show the direction of the air currents therein, and shall accurately delineate the boundary lines between said coal mine and adjoining mines operated by other parties, and show the relation and proximity of the workings thereto. The maps shall also show the changes of level of the lowest entry in use for drainage connecting with each independent opening. The said map or plan, or a true copy thereof, together with a record of all the surveys of said boundary lines and openings and excavations aforesaid, shall be kept at such mine by the said owner, operator or superintendent for the use of the mine inspector, and for the inspection of any miner working in said mine, whenever said miner shall have cause to fear that the working place, where he is working, is becoming dangerous by reason of its proximity to other workings, which may be supposed to contain water or dangerous gas. The said owner, operator or superintendent shall, as often as once in every six months, accurately place or cause to be placed on the map or plan of said coal mine, a plan of the excavations made of all the working places, or other parts of such coal mine, during the preceding six months; and, whenever the workings or excavations of said coal mine, or any part of the same, have been driven to within ten feet of the boundary line, or when said coal mine, or any part of the same, is abandoned, the owner, operator or superintendent thereof shall furnish, the mine inspector within three months after, the proximity to the boundary line as aforesaid, or after abandonment of the said mine, or any part of the same, with a correct copy, on tracing muslin, of the map or plan of said mine, which shall accurately show all excavations and workings of such mine to date, exhibiting clearly the part or parts abandoned, and the part or parts in proximity to the boundary line aforesaid. The maps or plans of the several coal mines in each district, which are furnished to mine inspector as last aforesaid, shall be the property of the commonwealth, and shall remain in the care of the inspector of the district in which the said mines are situated, to be transferred by him to his successor in office, and in no case shall any copy of the same be made without the consent of the owner, operator or his agent. If the mine inspector shall find, or have good reason to believe, that any map or plan of any coal mine, made or furnished in pursuance of the provisions of this act, is materially inaccurate or imperfect, he is hereby authorized to cause a correct map or plan of said coal mine to be made, at the expense of the owner or operator thereof, the cost of which shall be recoverable from said owner or operator as other debts are recoverable by law: Provided, however, That if the map or plan, which is claimed to be inaccurate, shall prove to have been correct, then the commonwealth shall be held liable for the expenses incurred in making said test survey, and the same shall be paid by the state treasurer, upon warrants of the auditor general, who shall require proper vouchers and satisfactory proof of the same.

SECTION 2. It shall not be lawful for the owner, operator, contractor, lessee or agent of any bituminous coal mine, or for any firm, company, corporation or association, their clerks, servants, agents or employes, to employ any person at work within said coal mine, or permit any person to be in said coal mine for the purpose of working therein, unless they are in communication with at least two openings, if the mine be worked by shaft or slope, which two shafts or slopes shall be separated by natural strata at all points by a distance of not less than one hundred and fifty feet, except in mines already opened, such distance may be less, if in the judgment of the mine inspector one hundred and fifty feet is impracticable; and if the mine be worked by drift, two openings, exclusive of the air shaft, and not less than twenty-four feet apart, shall be required, except in drift mines heretofore opened, where the mine inspector of the district shall deem it impracticable: Provided, however, That an aggregate number, not exceeding twenty persons, may be employed in the mine at any one time until the second opening shall be reached and made available, which said second opening, the mine inspector shall cause to be made without necessary delay; and, in case of furnace ventilation being used before the second opening is reached, the furnace shall not be placed within forty feet of the foot of the shaft, slope or drift, and shall be well secured, from danger from fire, by brick or stone walls of sufficient thickness, while being driven for making and perfecting the second opening.

SECTION 3. When the second opening or outlet is made, which does not exceed seventy-five feet in vertical depth from the surface to the seam or stratum of coal that is being mined, it shall be set apart exclusively for the purpose of ingress or egress to or from the mine by any person or persons employed therein, and it shall not be clogged or obstructed with ice, machinery, pumps, or currents of heated air or steam; and if the opening is a shaft, it shall be fitted with safe and convenient stairs, not less than two feet wide and to not exceed an angle of sixty degrees descent, and landings of not less than eighteen inches wide and four feet long, at easy and convenient distances, and all water coming from the surface or out of the strata in the shaft shall be conducted by rings, casing or otherwise, and be prevented from so falling down the shaft as to wet persons who are ascending or descending the stairway of the shaft; if the second opening is a slope for a traveling way, it shall not have a greater angle of descent than twenty degrees and may be of any depth; but when the seam or stratum of coal, at main outlet or escapement shaft in connection with any mine, exceeds seventy-five feet in vertical depth from the surface, the miners or other employes in the mine shall be lowered into or raised from the said mine by machinery, and when the employes are lowered into or raised from the said mine at the main outlet, the escapement shaft shall be fitted with safe and available machinery, or safe and convenient stairs, by which persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case of accident. The hoisting machinery and stairs used for lowering or raising the employes into or out of the mine shall be kept in a safe condition, and inspected once each twenty-four hours by a competent person employed in whole or in part for that purpose. And such machinery and the method of its inspection shall be approved by the mining inspector of the district where the mine is situated: Provided, That when miners are not at work in the mine, the said second shaft or slope may be used for the purpose of lowering material: Provided further, That the requirements of this section shall not be applicable to stairways now in use, when, in the judgment of the inspector, they are sufficient. The owner, operator, lessee or agent shall provide and maintain a metal tube from the top to the bottom of the shaft, suitably adapted to the free passage of sound, through which conversation may be held between persons at the bottom and at the top of the shaft, also the ordinary means of signaling to and from the top and bottom of the shaft, and an approved safety catch, and sufficient cover overhead on every carriage used for lowering and hoisting persons; and the said owner, operator, lessee or superintendent shall see that sufficient flanges are attached to the sides of the drum of every machine that is used for lowering and hoisting persons in and out of the mine, and also that adequate brakes are attached to the drum; the main coupling chain, attached to the socket of the wire rope, shall be made of the best quality of iron, and shall be tested by weights or otherwise to the satisfaction of the inspector of the district; and bridle chains shall be attached to the main socket from the cross pieces of the carriage, so that no single chain shall be used for lowering or raising persons into or out of the mine; and no greater number of persons shall be lowered or hoisted at any one time than may be permitted by the inspector of the district; and notice of the number so allowed to be lowered or hoisted at any one time shall be kept posted up by the owner, operator or superintendent in a conspicuous place at the opening of the shaft.

SECTION 4. The owner or agent of every bituminous coal mine, whether shaft, or slope, or drift, shall provide and hereafter maintain for every such mine ample means of ventilation, affording not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute for each and every person employed in said mine, and as much more as the circumstances may require, which shall be circulated around the main headings and cross headings and working places to an extent that will dilute, carry off and render harmless the noxious or dangerous gases generated therein; and all mines generating fire-damp shall be kept free of standing gas in the worked-out or abandoned parts of the same as far as practicable, and the entrance thereto shall be properly closed, and cautionary notice shall be posted to warn persons of danger; and every working place, and all other places, where gas is known to exist or supposed to exist, shall be carefully examined by the fire boss, immediately before each shift, with a safety-lamp, and in making said examination, it shall be the duty of the fire boss at each examination to leave at the face of every place, so examined, evidence of his presence; and it shall not be lawful for any miner to enter any mine or part of a mine generating fire-damp, until it has been examined by the fire boss as aforesaid and reported by him to be safe.

SECTION 5. In order to better secure the proper ventilation of every coal mine, and promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein, the owner or agent shall employ a competent and practical inside overseer, to be called mining boss, who shall be a citizen and an experienced coal miner, and shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus and the air-ways, traveling-ways, pumps and pump timbers and drainage; and shall see that, as the miners advance their excavations, all loose coal, slate and rock overhead are carefully secured against falling therein, or on the traveling ways; and that sufficient props, caps and timbers are furnished, of suitable size and cut square at both ends and as near as practicable to a proper length for the places where they are to be used; and such props, caps or timbers shall be delivered and placed in the working places of the miners, and every workman in want of props or timber and cap pieces shall notify the mining boss or his assistant of the fact, at least one day in advance, giving the length and number of props or timbers and cap pieces required, but in cases of emergency the timbers may be ordered immediately upon the discovery of any danger (the place and manner of leaving the orders for the timber shall be designated and specified in the rules of the mine) and said working places shall be vacated until supplied with the timber needed; and shall see that all water be drained or hauled out of all working places before the miner enters, and as far as practicable kept dry while the miner is at work. And it shall be the duty of the mining boss to see that proper cut-throughs are made in the room pillars of the miners' places, at such distances apart as in the judgment of the inspector may be deemed requisite, not more than thirty-five nor less than sixteen yards each, for the purpose of ventilation. And in all traveling-ways or road-holes for shelter shall be made at least every thirty yards and be kept whitewashed, a space two feet six inches between the wagon and the rib shall be deemed sufficient for shelter. And the mining boss shall measure the air current, at least once a week, at the inlet and outlet and at or near the face of the headings, he shall keep a record of such measurements, which shall be placed by him in a book kept for that purpose, the said book to be open for the examining of the inspector of the district; he shall also, on or about the fifteenth day of each month, mail to the inspector of his district a true copy of the air measurements given, stating also the number of persons employed in or about said mine, the number of mules and horses used, and the number days worked in each month. Blanks for such purpose shall be furnished him by the inspector of the district.

It shall be the further duty of the mining boss to immediately notify the agent or owner of the mine, in writing, of his inability to comply with the provisions of this section. It shall then become the duty of said superintendent, operator, lessee or owner, at once to attend to the matter complained of by the mining boss, to comply with the provisions hereof. The safety lamps used for examining mines, or which may be used in working therein, shall be furnished by and be the property of the owner of said mines, and shall be in charge of the agent of such mine; and in all mines, the doors, used in assisting or directing the ventilation of the mine, shall be so hung and adjusted that they will close themselves, or be supplied with springs or pulleys so that they cannot be left standing open; and bore holes shall be kept not less than twelve feet in advance of the face, and when necessary, on the sides of working places, which are being driven towards and in dangerous proximity to an abandoned mine, or part of a mine suspected of containing inflammable gases, or which is inundated with water. The mining boss, his assistant, or assistants, shall visit and examine every working place in the mine, at least once every alternate day, while the miners of such place are or should be at work, and shall direct that each and every working place be properly secured by props or timber, so that safety in all respects be assured, and that no person shall be directed to work in an unsafe place unless it be for the purpose of making it safe. All owners or operators of bituminous coal mines shall keep posted, in a conspicuous place about their mines, printed rules, submitted to and approved by the district mining inspector, defining the duties of all persons employed in or about said mines or collieries, which said notice shall be printed in the language or languages used by any ten miners working therein.

SECTION 6. Any miners, workmen or other person, who shall intentionally injure any shaft, lamp, instrument, air course or brattice, or obstruct or throw open air-ways, or carry lighted pipes or matches into places that are worked by safety lamps, or handle or disturb any part of the machinery, or open a door and not close it again, or enter any place of the mine against caution, or disobey any order given in carrying out the provisions of this act, or do any other act whereby the lives or the health of persons, or the security of the mines or the machinery, is endangered, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be punished in a manner provided in the twenty-first section of this act; all machinery about mines shall be properly fenced off, and there shall be cut, in the side of every hoisting shaft at the bottom thereof, a traveling way sufficiently high and wide to enable persons to pass the shaft, in going from one side of the mine to the other, without passing over or under the cage or other hoisting apparatus.

SECTION 8. * * * The qualifications of candidates for said office of inspectors of mines, to be inquired into and certified by said examiners, shall be as follows, namely: They shall be citizens of Pennsylvania, of temperate habits, of good repute as men of personal integrity, shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have had at least five years' practical experience in the workings of the coal mines of Pennsylvania, and, upon the examination, they shall give evidence of such theoretical as well as practical knowledge, and general intelligence regarding mines and mining and the working thereof, and all noxious gases, as will satisfy the examiners of their capability and fitness for the duties imposed upon inspectors of mines, by the provisions of this act. The board of examiners shall also at their meeting, or when at any time called by the governor together for an extra meeting, divide the bituminous coal counties of the state into eight inspection districts, as nearly equal to the labor performed as is possible, and, at any subsequent calling of the board of examiners, this division may be revised as experience may prove to be advisable * * *. Upon the filing of the certificates of the examining board in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, the governor shall, from the names so certified, commission one person to be inspector of mines for each district, * * * whose commission shall be for a full term of four years * * *. All mine inspectors hereafter appointed shall make their residence and keep an office in the district for which they are commissioned. Each inspector is hereby authorized to procure such instruments and chemical tests, stationery, and to incur such expense of communication from time to time, as may be necessary to the proper discharge of his duties under this act, at the cost of the state * * *. All instruments, plans, books, memoranda, notes, et cetera, pertaining to the office, shall be the property of the state, and shall be delivered to their successors in office. * * *

SECTION 9. * * * But no person, who shall act as a manager or agent of any coal mine, or as a mining engineer, or to be interested in operating any coal mine, shall, at the same time, act as an inspector of coal mines under this act.

SECTION 10. The inspector of bituminous coal mines shall each devote the whole of his time to the duties of his office; it shall be his office to examine the mines in his district, as often as possible, which shall not be less than once in three months, (and report how often he has visited each mine in the year), to see that all the provisions of this act are observed and strictly carried out; and he shall make record of all examinations of mines showing the condition in which he finds them, especially in reference to ventilation and drainage, the number of mines in his district, the number of persons employed in each mine, the extent to which the law is obeyed, and progress made in the improvement sought to be secured by the passage of this act, the number of accidents and deaths resulting from injuries received in or about the mines, with cause of such accident or death, which record, completed to the thirty-first day of December of each and every year, shall, on or before the first day of February following, be filed in the office of the secretary of internal affairs, to be by him recorded and included in the annual report of his department.

SECTION 11. That the inspectors may be enabled to perform the duties herein imposed upon them, they shall have the right at all times to enter any bituminous coal mine, to make examination, or obtain information; they shall notify the owners, operators, lessees, superintendent, or mining bosses, in writing and keep a copy thereof, immediately of the discovery of any violation of this act, and of the penalty imposed thereby for such violation and in case of such notice being disregarded for the space of five days, they shall institute proceedings against the owner, operator, lessee, superintendent, or mining boss, of the mine, under the provisions of section twenty-one of this act; in case however where, in the judgment of the inspector of any district, delay may jeopardize life or limb, he shall at once notify one of the inspectors of the other district, whereupon they shall at once proceed to the mine where the danger exists and examine into the matter, and if, after full investigation thereof, they shall be agreed in the opinion that there is immediate danger, they shall apply in the name of the commonwealth to the court of common pleas of the county, or in case the court shall not be in session to a judge of the said court in chambers, in which the mine may be located, for an injunction to suspend all work in and about such mine; whereupon said court or judge shall at once proceed to hear and determine speedily the same, and, if the cause appear to be sufficient after hearing the parties and their evidence as in like cases, shall issue their writ to restrain the working of said mine until all cause of danger is removed; and the cost of said proceedings, including the charges of attorney prosecuting the same, shall be borne by the owner, lessee or agent of the mine: Provided, That no fee exceeding the sum of twenty-five dollars shall be taxed in any one case for the attorney prosecuting such case: Provided further, That if said court shall find the cause not sufficient, then the case shall be dismissed, and the cost shall be borne by the county.

SECTION 12. Whenever, by reason of any explosion, or other accident, in any bituminous coal mine or the machinery connected therewith, loss of life or serious personal injury shall occur, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such mine or colliery to give notice thereof forthwith to the inspector of the district, and if any person is killed thereby to the coroner of the county, who shall give due notice of the inquest to be held * * *. It shall be the duty of the inspector, upon being notified as herein provided, to immediately repair to the scene of the accident and make such suggestions as may appear necessary to secure the future safety of the men; and, if the results of the explosion or accident do not require an investigation by the coroner, he shall proceed to investigate and ascertain the cause of the explosion or accident, and make a record thereof, which he shall file as provided for; and to enable him to make the investigation, he shall have power to compel the attendance of persons to testify, and to administer oaths, or affirmations * * *.

SECTION 14. The inspector shall exercise a sound discretion in the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and if the operator, owner, or miners shall not be satisfied with any decision the inspector may arrive at in the discharge of his duties under this act, which said decision shall be in writing signed by the mine inspector, the said owner, operator, miner or miners, shall forthwith appeal from such decision to the court of quarter sessions of the county wherein the mine is located, and said court shall speedily determine the question involved in said decision and appeal, which said decision shall be binding and conclusive. The court in its discretion may appoint three practical, reputable, competent and disinterested persons, whose duty it shall be under instructions of the said court to forthwith examine such mine, and make report under oath of the facts as they exist, or may have been, together with their opinions thereon. The report of said board shall become absolute, unless exceptions thereto shall be filed within ten days after notice of the filing thereof to the owner, operator, miner or miners, or inspector; and if exceptions are filed, the court shall at once hear and determine the same, and the decision shall be final and conclusive. If the court shall finally sustain the decision of the inspector, then the appellant shall pay all costs of such proceedings, and if the court shall not sustain the decision of the inspector, then such costs shall be paid by the county, or by the appellant and county, in such proportion as the court shall determine. No appeal from any decision made by any mine inspector shall work as a supersedeas to such decision during the pendency of such appeal, but all such decisions shall be in full force until reversed, or modified by the proper court.

SECTION 15. * * * No person shall act as fire boss in any bituminous mine, unless granted a certificate of competency by any of the mine inspectors of the bituminous region of Pennsylvania, and it shall be unlawful for any owner, operator, contractor, superintendent, or agent to employ any person as fire boss who has not obtained such certificate. After January first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, no owner, operator, contractor, lessee, superintendent or agent shall employ any mining boss or fire boss, who does not have the certificate of competency or service required by this section. And if any accident shall occur, in any mine in which a mining boss or fire boss shall be employed, who has no certificate of competency or service as required by this section, by which any miner shall be killed or injured, he or his heirs shall have a right of action against such operator, owner, superintendent, contractor, lessee or agent, and shall recover the full value of the damages sustained.

SECTION 16. No boy, under the age of twelve years, and no woman or girl of any age, shall be employed or permitted to be in any bituminous coal mine for the purpose of employment therein, nor shall any boy under the age of ten years, or any woman or girl of any age, be employed or permitted to be in or about the outside structure or workings of any bituminous mine or colliery, for the purpose of employment: Provided however, That this provision shall not effect the employment of a boy or a female of suitable age in an office, or in the performance of clerical work at such mine or colliery.

SECTION 17. For any injury to person or property occasioned by any violation of this act, or any wilful failure to comply with its provisions, a right of action against the party at fault shall accrue to the party injured for the direct damage sustained thereby; and in any case of loss of life by reason of such violation or wilful failure, a right of action against the party at fault shall accrue to the widow and lineal heirs of the person, whose life shall be lost, for like recovery of damages for the injury they shall have sustained.

SECTION 18. It shall be the duty of owners, operators, contractors, superintendents, lessees or agents to keep at the mouth of the drift, shaft, or slope, or at such other place as shall be designated by the mine inspector, stretchers properly constructed for the purpose of carrying away any miner or employé working in or about such mine, who may in any way be injured in and about his employment.

SECTION 19. It shall be the duty of the mine inspector, on each visit to any mine, to make out a written, or partly written and partly printed, report of the condition in which he finds such mine and post the same in the office at the mine. The said report shall give the date of the visit, the number of visits during the year, the total number of mines in his district, the number of feet of air in circulation and where measured, and such other information as he shall deem necessary; and the said report shall remain posted in the office for one year, and said report may be examined by any miner or person employed in and about such mine.

SECTION 20. On or before the fifteenth day of January in each year, the owner, operator or superintendent of every mine or colliery shall send to the inspector of his district a correct report, specifying, with respect to the year ending the thirty-first of December preceding such report, the name of the owner or operator, and officers of the mine, and the quantity of coal mined; the report shall be in such form and give such information as may be from time to time required and prescribed by the mine inspector of the district. Blank forms for such reports shall be furnished by the commonwealth.

SECTION 21. The neglect or refusal to perform the duties required to be performed by any section of this act, by the parties therein required to perform them, or the violation of any of the provisions or requirements hereof, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction be punished by fine of not less than two hundred dollars and not exceeding five hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court. And in default of payment of such fine and costs for the space of ten days, the defendant shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months.

SECTION 22. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any mine employing less than ten persons in any one period of twenty-four hours.

ACT NO. 170.—Coal-mine regulations and inspection.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. This act shall apply to every anthracite coal mine or colliery in the Commonwealth, provided the said mine or colliery employs more than ten (10) persons.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. The counties of Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wayne, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Carbon, Schuylkill, Northumberland, Columbia, Lebanon and Dauphin, or so much of them as may be included under the provisions of this act, shall be divided into seven inspection districts * * *.

SECTION 4. * * * Upon the recommendation of the board of examiners as aforesaid, the governor shall appoint such person to fill the office of inspector of mines under this act and shall issue to him a commission for the term of five years, subject however to removal for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, as hereinafter provided for.

SECTION 5. The person so appointed must be a citizen of Pennsylvania and shall have attained the age of thirty years. He must have a knowledge of the different systems of working coal mines, and have been practically connected with the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania for a period of not less than five years, and he must also have had experience in the working and ventilation of coal mines where noxious and explosive gases are evolved. * * * He shall also provide himself with the most modern instruments and appliances for carrying out the intentions of this act.

SECTION 7. Each of the * * * inspectors shall reside in the district for which he is appointed and shall give his whole time and attention to the duties of the office. He shall examine all the collieries in his district as often as his duties will permit, not less than four times a year, or oftener if the exigencies of the case or the condition of the mines require it, see that every necessary precaution is taken to secure the safety of the workmen, and that the provisions of this act are observed and obeyed, attend every inquest held by the coroner or his deputy upon the bodies of persons killed in or about the collieries in his district, visit the scene of the accident for the purpose of making an examination into the particulars of the same whenever loss of life or serious personal injury occurs, as elsewhere herein provided for, and make an annual report of his proceedings to the secretary of internal affairs of the commonwealth at the close of every year, enumerating all the accidents in and about the collieries of his district, marking in tabular form those accidents causing death or serious personal injury, the condition of the workings of the said mines with regard to the safety of the workmen therein and the ventilation thereof, and the result of his labors generally shall be fully set forth.

SECTION 9. The mine inspector shall have the right, and it is hereby made his duty, to enter, inspect and examine any mine or colliery in his district and the workings and machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, either by day or night, but not so as to impede or obstruct the working of a colliery, and shall have the power to take one or more of his fellow-inspectors into or around any mine or colliery in the district for which he is appointed, for the purpose of consultation or examination. He shall also have the right, and it is hereby made his duty to make inquiry into the condition of such mine or colliery, workings, machinery, ventilation, drainage, method of lighting or using lights, and into all other matters and things connected with or relating to, as well as to make suggestions providing for, the health and safety of persons employed in or about the same, and especially to make inquiry whether the provisions of this act have been complied with. The owner, operator or superintendent of such mine or colliery is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry, inspection, examination, inquiry and exit. The inspector shall make a record of the visit, noting the time and material circumstances of the inspection.

SECTION 10. No person, who shall act or practice as a land agent, or as the manager, or agent of any coal mine or colliery, or as a mining engineer, or who is pecuniarily interested in operating any coal mine or colliery in his district, shall at the same time hold the office of inspector of mines under this act.

SECTION 11. Whenever a petition, signed by fifteen or more reputable coal operators or miners or both, setting forth that any inspector of mines neglects his duty, or is incompetent, or is guilty of malfeasance in office, it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of the proper county to issue a citation in the name of the commonwealth to the said inspector to appear, at not less than fifteen days notice, on a day fixed, before said court, and the court shall then proceed to inquire into and investigate the allegations of the petitioners; if the court finds that the said inspector is neglectful of his duties, or that he is incompetent to perform the duties of the office for any cause that existed previous to his appointment, or that has arisen since his appointment, or that he is guilty of malfeasance in office, the court shall certify the same to the governor of the commonwealth, who shall declare the office of inspector for the district vacant, and proceed in compliance with the provisions of this act to appoint a properly qualified person to fill the office. * * *

SECTION 12. The maps and plans of the mines and the records thereof, together with all the papers relating thereto, shall be kept by the inspector, properly arranged and preserved in a convenient place in the district for which each inspector has been appointed, and shall be transferred by him, with any other property of the commonwealth that may be in his possession, to his successor in office.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The owner, operator or superintendent of every coal mine or colliery shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the workings or excavations of such coal mine or colliery, on a scale of one hundred feet to the inch, which map or plan shall exhibit the workings or excavation in each and every seam of coal, and the tunnels and passages connecting with such workings or excavations; it shall state, in degrees, the general inclination of the strata, with any material deflection therein, in said workings or excavations, and shall also state the tidal elevations of the bottom of each and every shaft, slope, tunnel and gangway and of any other point in the mine or on the surface, where such elevation shall be deemed necessary by the inspector. The map or plan shall show the number of the last survey station, and date of each survey, on the gangways or the most advanced workings; it shall also accurately show the boundary lines of the lands of the said coal mine or colliery, and the proximity of the workings thereto; a true copy of which map or plan, the said owner, operator or superintendent shall deposit with the inspector of mines for the district in which the said coal mine or colliery is situated, showing the workings of each seam, if so desired by the inspector, on a separate sheet of tracing muslin. One copy of the said map or plan shall be kept at the colliery.

SECTION 2. The said owner, operator or superintendent shall, as often as once in every six months, place or cause to be placed, on the said inspector's map or plan of said coal mine or colliery, the plan of the extensions made in such coal mine or colliery during the preceding six months. The said extensions shall be placed on the inspector's map and the map returned to the inspector within two months from the date of the last survey.

SECTION 3. When any coal mine or colliery is worked out preparatory to being abandoned, or when any lift thereof is about to be abandoned, the owner, operator or superintendent of such coal mine or colliery shall have the maps or plans thereof extended to include all the excavations, as far as practicable, and such portions thereof as the case may require, shall be carefully verified.

SECTION 4. Whenever the owner, operator or superintendent of any coal mine or colliery shall neglect or refuse, or, from any cause not satisfactory to the inspector, shall fail for the period of three months to furnish to the inspector the map or plan of said colliery, or of the extensions thereto as provided for in this act, the inspector is hereby authorized to cause an accurate map or plan of such coal mine or colliery to be made at the expense of the owner thereof, which cost shall be recoverable from said owner as other debts are by law recoverable.

SECTION 5. If the inspector finds, or has reason to believe that any map or plan of any coal mine or colliery, furnished under the provisions of this act, is materially inaccurate or imperfect, it shall be his duty to make application to the court of common pleas of the county in which such colliery is situated for an order to have an accurate map or plan of said colliery prepared, and if such survey shall prove that the map furnished was materially inaccurate or imperfect such owner, operator or superintendent shall be liable for the expense incurred in making the same.

SECTION 7. If it shall be shown that the said owner, operator or superintendent has knowingly or designedly caused or allowed such map or plan when furnished to be incorrect or false, such owner, operator or superintendent thus offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding three months at the discretion of the court.

SECTION 8. The maps or plans of the several coal mines or collieries in each district and which are placed in the custody of the inspector shall be the property of the commonwealth, and shall remain in the care of the inspector of the district in which the said collieries are situated, to be transferred by him to his successor in office, and in no case shall any copy of the same be made without the consent of the owner, operator or superintendent.

SECTION 9, (as amended by chapter 144, acts of 1889). The inspector's map or plan of any particular coal mine or colliery and the map or plan kept at the colliery, shall be open to the inspection, (in the presence of the inspector or of the superintendent, mine boss or his assistants, as the case may be,) of any miner of that colliery, whenever said miner shall have cause to fear that his working place is becoming dangerous by reason of its proximity to other workings, which may be supposed to contain water or dangerous gases, but only to the miner working in such supposed dangerous place * * *.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1. It shall not be lawful for the owner, operator or superintendent of any mine to employ any person or persons in such mine, or to permit any person or persons to be in such mine for the purpose of working therein, unless they are in connection with every seam or stratum of coal, and from every lift thereof worked in such mine, not less than two openings or outlets, separated by a strata of not less than sixty (60) feet in breadth under ground and one hundred and fifty (150) feet in breadth at the surface, at which openings or outlets safe and distinct means of ingress and egress are at all times available for the person or persons employed in the said mine; but it shall not be necessary for the said two openings to belong to the same mine, if the persons employed therein have safe, ready and available means of ingress and egress by not less than two openings. This section shall not apply to opening a new mine, or to opening any new lift of a mine while being worked for the purpose of making communication between said two outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at any one time in such mine or new lift of a mine, neither shall it apply to any mine or part of a mine in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable, by reason of the final robbing of pillars previous to abandonment, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed therein at any one time. The cage or cages and other means of egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed where there is no second outlet.

SECTION 3. The escapements, shafts or slopes shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, by which the persons employed in the mine may readily escape, in case an accident occurs deranging the hoisting machinery at the main outlets.

SECTION 4. In slopes, where the angle of inclination is fifteen (15) degrees or less, there must be provided a separate traveling way, which shall be maintained in a safe condition for travel and kept free from steam and dangerous gases.

SECTION 5. * * * no inflammable structure, other than a frame to sustain pulleys or sheaves, shall be erected over the entrance of any opening connecting the surface with the underground workings of any mine, and no "breaker," or other inflammable structure for the preparation or storage of coal, shall be erected nearer than two hundred (200) feet to any such opening, but this act shall not be construed to prohibit the erection of a fan drift for the purpose of ventilation, or of a trestle for the transportation of cars from any slope to such breaker, or structure, neither shall it apply to any shaft or slope until the same has been driven, to its proposed limit, or until the work of development and shipment of coal has commenced: Provided, That this section shall not apply to breakers that are now erected or that are in course of erection.

SECTION 6. The top of each shaft, and also of each slope, if dangerous, or any intermediate lift thereof, shall be securely fenced off by railing, or by vertical or flat gates.

SECTION 7. Every abandoned slope, shaft, air hole and drift shall be properly fenced around or across its entrance.

SECTION 8. All underground entrances to any places not in actual course of working or extension shall be properly fenced across the whole width of such entrances, so as to prevent persons from inadvertently entering the same.

SECTION 9. The owner, operator or superintendent of any coal mine or colliery, which is worked by shaft or slope, shall provide and maintain a suitable appliance by or through which conversation can be held by and between persons at the bottom and at the top of the shaft or slope, and also an efficient means of signaling from the bottom of such shaft or slope to the engineer in charge of the hoisting engine.

SECTION 10. Hand-rails and efficient safety catches shall be attached to, and a sufficient cover overhead shall be provided on, every cage used for lowering or hoisting persons in any shaft.

SECTION 11. Whenever practicable, every cage or gunboat, used for lowering or hoisting persons in any slope, shall be provided with a proper protector so constructed, that persons, while on such cage or gunboat, shall not be struck by anything which may fall or roll down said slope.

SECTION 12. The main link and chain, connecting the rope to the cage, gunboat or car in any shaft or slope, shall be made of the best quality of iron. Bridle chains, made of the same quality of iron, shall be attached to the main link, rope or rope socket from the cross-head of the cage or gunboat, when persons are being lowered or hoisted thereon.

SECTION 13. The ropes, safety catches, links and chains shall be carefully examined every day they are used, by a competent person delegated for that purpose, and any defects therein found, by which life and limb may be endangered, shall be immediately remedied.

SECTION 14. An efficient brake shall be attached to every drum that is used for lowering or raising persons or material in any mine.

SECTION 15. Flanges or horns, of sufficient dimensions to prevent the rope from slipping off the said drum, shall be provided and properly attached to the drum, and all machines used for lowering or hoisting persons in mines shall be provided with an indicator to show the position of the cage, car or gunboat in the shaft or slope.

SECTION 16. Over all shafts, which are being sunk or shall hereafter be sunk, a safe and substantial structure shall be erected to sustain the sheaves or pulleys, at a height of not less than twenty (20) feet above the tipping place, and the top of such shaft shall be arranged in such manner that no material can fall into the shaft while the bucket is being emptied.

SECTION 17. The said structure shall be erected as soon as a substantial foundation is obtained, and in no case shall a shaft be sunk to a depth of more than fifty (50) feet without such structure.

SECTION 18. If provision is made to land the bucket upon a truck, the said truck shall be constructed in such manner that material can not fall into the shaft.

SECTION 19. All rock and coal from shafts as they are being sunk shall not be raised, except in a bucket or on a cage, and such bucket or cage must be connected to the rope or chain by a safety hook, clevis, or other safe attachment.

SECTION 20. Such shafts shall be provided with guides and guide attachments, applied in such a manner as to prevent the bucket from swinging while descending or ascending therein, and such guides and guide attachments shall be maintained at a distance of not more than seventy-five (75) feet from the bottom of such shaft, until its sinking shall have been completed, but this section shall not apply to shafts one hundred (100) feet or less in depth.

SECTION 21. Where the strata are not safe, every shaft shall be securely cased, lined or otherwise made secure.

SECTION 22. The following rules shall be observed, as far as practicable, in every shaft to which this act applies:

First. After each and every blast, the chargeman must see that all loose material is swept down from the timbers, before the workmen descend to their work.

Second. After a suspension of work, and also after firing a blast in a shaft where explosive gases are evolved, the person in charge must have the said shaft examined and tested with a safety lamp, before the workmen are allowed to descend.

Third. Not more than four persons shall be lowered or hoisted in any shaft on a bucket at the same time, and no person shall ride on a loaded bucket.

Fourth. Whenever persons are employed on platforms, in shafts, the person in charge must see that the said platforms are properly and safely constructed.

Fifth. While shafts are being sunk, all blasts therein must be exploded by an electric battery.

Sixth. Every person, who fails to comply with, or who violates the provisions of this article, shall be guilty of an offense against this act.

ARTICLE V.

SECTION 1. All boilers used for generating steam in and about mines and collieries shall be kept in good order, and the owner, operator or superintendent shall have them examined and inspected by a competent boiler-maker, or other well-qualified person, as often as once in six months, and oftener if needed. The result of such examination, under oath, shall be certified in writing to the inspector of the district, within thirty (30) days thereafter.

SECTION 2. From and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful to place any boiler or boilers for the purpose of generating steam under, nor nearer than one hundred (100) feet to, any coal breaker or other structure, in which persons are employed in the preparation of coal: Provided, That this section shall not apply to breakers already erected, or that are in course of erection.

SECTION 3. Each nest of boilers shall be provided with a safety valve, of sufficient area for the steam to escape, and with weights or springs properly adjusted.

SECTION 4. Every boiler house shall be provided with a steam gauge, properly connected with the boilers, to indicate the steam pressure; and another steam gauge shall be attached to the steam pipe in the engine house, and placed in such position, that the engineer or fireman can readily examine them and see what pressure is carried. Such steam gauges shall be kept in good order, tested and adjusted as often as once in every six months, and their condition reported to the inspector in the same manner as the report of boiler inspection.

SECTION 5. All machinery used in or around the mines and collieries, and especially in breakers, such as engines, wheels, screens, shafting and belting, shall be protected by covering or railing, so as to prevent persons from inadvertently walking against or falling upon the same. The sides of stairs, trestles and dangerous plank walks, in and around the collieries, shall be provided with hand and guard-railing, to prevent persons from falling over the sides. This section shall not forbid the temporary removal of a fence, guard rail or covering for the purpose of repairs or other operation, if proper precautions are used and the fence, guard rail or covering is replaced immediately thereafter.

SECTION 6. A sober and competent person, not under eighteen (18) years of age, shall be engaged to run the breaker engine, and he shall attend to said engine while the machinery is in motion.

SECTION 7. A signal apparatus shall be established at important points in every breaker, so that in case of an accident the engineer can be promptly notified to stop the machinery.

SECTION 8. No person under fifteen (15) years of age shall be appointed to oil the machinery, and no person shall oil dangerous parts of such machinery while it is in motion.

SECTION 9. No person shall play with, loiter around or interfere with any machinery in or about any mine or colliery.

SECTION 10. Failure to comply with the provisions of this article shall be deemed an offense against this act.

ARTICLE VI.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the owner, operator or superintendent of each mine or colliery, at the request in writing of the inspector of mines, to provide a suitable building, not an engine or boiler house, which shall be convenient to the principal entrance of such mine, for the use of the persons employed therein for the purpose of washing themselves and changing their clothes when entering the mine and returning therefrom. The said building shall be maintained in good order, be properly lighted and heated, and supplied with pure cold and warm water, and shall be provided with facilities for persons to wash. If any person or persons shall neglect or fail to comply with the provisions of this article, or maliciously injure, or destroy, or cause to be injured or destroyed, the said building or any part thereof, or any of the appliances, or fittings used for supplying light, heat and water therein, or doing any act tending to the injury or destruction thereof, he or they shall be deemed guilty of an offense against this act.

ARTICLE VII.

SECTION 1. The owner, operator or superintendent of every mine or colliery, except as hereinafter provided, shall provide and keep at such mine or colliery an ambulance and also at least two (2) stretchers, for the purpose of conveying to their places of abode any person or persons, who may be injured while in the discharge of his or their work at such mine or colliery.

SECTION 2. The said ambulance shall be constructed upon good, substantial and easy springs; it shall be covered and closed, and shall have windows on the sides or ends: it shall be of sufficient size to convey at least two injured persons, with two attendants, at one time, and shall be provided with spring mattresses, or other comfortable bedding, to be placed on roller frames, together with sufficient covering for the comfort and protection and convenient moving of the injured; it shall also be provided with seats for the attendants. The stretchers shall be constructed of such material and in such manner as to afford the greatest ease and comfort in the carriage of the injured person.

SECTION 3. Whenever any person or persons employed in or about a mine or colliery shall receive such injury, by accident or otherwise, while so employed, as would render him or them unable to walk to his or their place of abode, the owner, operator or superintendent of such mine or colliery shall immediately cause such person or persons to be removed to his or their place of abode, or to an hospital, as the case may require.

SECTION 4. It is provided, however, that the owner, operator or superintendent of any mine or colliery shall be excepted from the requirements of an ambulance as aforesaid, if the places of abode of all the workmen at such mine or colliery be within a radius of a half mile from the principal entrance to such mine.

SECTION 5. It is provided further that where two or more mines or collieries are located within one mile of each other, or the ambulance is located within one mile of each colliery, but one ambulance as aforesaid shall be required, if the said mines or collieries have ready and quick means of communication one with the other by telegraph or telephone.

SECTION 6. An ambulance as aforesaid shall not be required at any mine or colliery at which less than twenty (20) persons are employed.

SECTION 7. In case the distance from any mine or colliery, to the place of abode of the person injured, is such as to permit his conveyance to his home, or to an hospital, more quickly and conveniently by railway, such mode of conveyance shall be permitted, but in such case the conveyance must be under cover and the comfort of the injured person must be provided for.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECTION 1. From and after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, no person shall be permitted to act as mine foreman, unless he is registered as a holder of a certificate under this act.

SECTION 2. Certificates of qualification to mine foremen shall be granted by the secretary of internal affairs, to every applicant, who may be reported by the examiners, as hereinafter provided, as having passed a satisfactory examination, and as having given satisfactory evidence of at least five years' practical experience, and of good conduct, capability and sobriety.

The certificate shall be in manner and form as shall be prescribed by the secretary of internal affairs, and a record of all certificates issued shall be kept in his department.

SECTION 6. No mine shall be operated for a longer period than thirty (30) days without the supervision of a mine foreman: Provided, however, That any mine employing ordinarily less than ten (10) persons underground, or one whose daily output is less than fifty (50) tons of coal, shall be exempt from the operations of this section.

SECTION 7. In case any mine, except as hereinafter excepted, is worked a longer period than thirty (30) days without such certificated mine foreman, the owner, operator or superintendent thereof shall be subject to a penalty of twenty dollars per day, for each day over the said thirty (30) days during which the said mine is worked, unless it shall be clearly shown that the said owner, operator or superintendent has used all reasonable means for the enforcement of this article and to prevent the mine from being worked contrary to this act: And provided further, That in case no suitable or satisfactory certificated mine foreman may at the time be obtained, some suitable person may be appointed to act as mine foreman for the space of three months, or until such person can obtain the proper certificate under this act.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1. No boy under the age of fourteen years, and no woman or girl of any age, shall be employed or permitted to be in any mine for the purpose of employment therein; nor shall a boy under the age of twelve years, or a woman, or girl of any age, be employed or permitted to be in or about the outside structures or workings of a colliery for the purpose of employment, but it is provided, however, that this prohibition shall not affect the employment of a boy or female of suitable age in an office, or in the performance of clerical work at a colliery.

SECTION 2. When the employer is in doubt as to the age of any boy or youth applying for employment in or about a mine or colliery, he shall demand and receive proof of the said lawful employment age of such boy or youth by certificate from the parent or guardian, before said boy or youth shall be employed.

SECTION 3. If any person or persons contravene, or fail to comply with the provisions of this act in respect to the employment of boys, young male persons, or females, or if he or they shall connive with, or permit others to contravene or fail to comply with said provisions, or a parent or guardian of a boy or young male person, make or give a false certificate of the age of such boy or young male person, or knowingly do or perform any act for the purpose of securing employment for a boy or young male person under the lawful employment age and in contravention of the provisions of this act, he or they shall be guilty of an offense against this act.

ARTICLE X.

SECTION 1. The owner, operator or superintendent of every mine shall provide and maintain an adequate supply of pure air for the same, as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 2. * * * it shall not be lawful to use a furnace for the purpose of ventilating any mine wherein explosive gases are generated.

SECTION 3. The minimum quantity of air thus produced shall not be less than two hundred (200) cubic feet per minute, for each and every person employed in any mine, and as much more as the circumstances may require.

SECTION 4. The ventilating currents shall be conducted and circulated to and along the face of each and every working place throughout the entire mine, in sufficient quantities to dilute, render harmless and sweep away smoke and noxious or dangerous gases, to such an extent that all working places and traveling roads shall be in a safe and fit state to work and travel therein.

SECTION 5. All worked out or abandoned parts of a mine, so far as practicable, shall be kept free of dangerous bodies of gases.

SECTION 6. One year after the passage of this act, every mine employing more than seventy-five (75) persons must be divided into two or more districts: each district shall be provided with a separate split of pure air, and the ventilation shall be so arranged that no more than seventy-five (75) persons shall be employed at the same time in any one current or split of air.

The inlet and return air passages for any particular district must be separated by a pillar of coal or stone, if the thickness and dip of the vein will permit, except where it is necessary to cut through said dividing pillar for the purpose of ventilation, traffic or drainage.

SECTION 7. All the air passages shall be of a sufficient area to allow the free passage of not less than two hundred (200) cubic feet of air per minute for every person working therein, and in no case, in mines generating explosive gases, shall the velocity exceed four hundred and fifty (450) lineal feet per minute in any opening, through which the air currents pass, if gauze safety lamps are used, except in the main inlet or outlet airways.

SECTION 8. All cross-cuts, connecting the main inlet and outlet air passages of every district, when it becomes necessary to close them permanently, shall be substantially closed with brick or other suitable building material laid in mortar, or cement wherever practicable, but in no case shall said air stoppings be constructed of plank, except for temporary purposes or as above provided.

SECTION 9. All doors used in assisting or in any way affecting the ventilation shall be so hung and adjusted, that they will close of their own accord and can not stand open.

SECTION 10. All main doors shall have an attendant, whose constant duty it shall be to open them for transportation and travel and prevent them from standing open, longer than is necessary for persons or cars to pass through.

SECTION 11. All main doors shall be so placed that when one door is open, another, which has the same effect upon the same current, shall be and remain closed, and thus prevent any temporary stoppage of the air current.

SECTION 12. An extra main door shall be placed and kept standing open so as to be out of reach of accident, and so fixed that it can be at once closed in the event of an accident to the doors in use.

SECTION 13. The framework of such main doors shall be substantially secured in stone or brick laid in mortar or cement, unless otherwise permitted in writing by the inspector.

SECTION 14. All permanent air bridges shall be substantially built of such material and of such strength as the circumstances may require.

SECTION 15. The quantities of air in circulation shall be ascertained with an anemometer, or other efficient instrument. Such measurement shall be made by the inside foreman, or his assistant, once every week at the inlet and outlet airways, also at or near the face of each gangway, and shall be entered in the colliery report book.

SECTION 16. A copy of these air measurements shall be sent to the inspector, before the twelfth (12th) day of each month for the preceding month, together with a statement of the number of persons employed in each district.

SECTION 17. All ventilators, used at mines generating explosive gases, shall be provided with recording instruments by which the number of revolutions of the fan shall be registered for each hour, and such data shall be taken and reported in the colliery report book.

SECTION 18. Any person or persons, who shall neglect or fail to comply with the provisions of this article, or who shall knowingly make any false report in regard to air measurements, shall be guilty of an offense against this act.

ARTICLE XI.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the owner, operator, superintendent, or mine foreman of every mine to furnish to the miners, at their request, all props and timbers necessary for the safe mining of coal and for the protection of the lives of the workmen. Such props and timbers shall be suitably prepared and shall be delivered to the workmen, as near to their working places as they can be conveyed in ordinary mine cars, free of charge.

SECTION 2. Every workman in want of props or timbers shall notify the mine foreman, or his assistant, of the fact, at least one day in advance, giving the length of the props or timber required, and in case of danger from loose roof or sides, he shall not continue to cut or load coal, until the said props and timber have been properly furnished and the place made secure.

SECTION 3. A failure to comply with the provisions of this article shall be deemed an offense against this act, and shall be taken to be negligence per se on the part of the owner, operator, superintendent or mine foreman as the case may be, of such mine, in such action for the recovery of damages for accidents resulting from the insufficient propping of such mine through failure to furnish the necessary props or timber.

ARTICLE XII.

The following general rules shall be observed in every mine to which this act applies:

Rule 1.—The owner, operator or superintendent of a mine or colliery shall place the underground workings thereof and all that is related to the same under the charge and daily supervision of a competent person, who shall be called "mine foreman."

Rule 2.—Whenever a mine foreman cannot personally carry out the provisions of this act so far as they pertain to him, the owner, operator or superintendent shall authorize him to employ a sufficient number of competent persons to act as his assistants, who shall be subject to his orders.

Rule 3.—The mine foreman shall have charge of all matters pertaining to ventilation, and the speed of the ventilators shall be particularly under his charge and direction.

Rule 4.—All accessible parts of an abandoned portion of a mine, in which explosive gases have been found, shall be carefully examined by the mine foreman, or his assistants, at least once every week, and all danger found existing therein shall be immediately removed. A report of said examination shall be recorded in a book kept at the colliery for that purpose and signed by the person making the same.

Rule 5.—In mines generating explosive gases, the mine foreman or his assistant shall make a careful examination every morning of all working places and traveling roads before the workmen shall enter the mine, and such examination shall be made with a safety lamp within three hours at most before time for commencing work, and a workman shall not enter the mine or his working place until the said mine or part thereof and working place are reported to be safe. Every report shall be recorded without delay in a book, which shall be kept in the colliery for the purpose, and shall be signed by the person making the examination.

Rule 6.—The person who makes said examination shall establish proof of the same by marking plainly the date thereof at the face of each working place.

Rule 7.—A station or stations shall be established at the entrance to each mine, or different parts of each mine as the case may require, and a workman shall not pass beyond any such station, until the mine or part of the mine beyond the same has been inspected and reported to be safe.

Rule 8.—If at any time it is found by the person for the time being in charge of the mine, or any part thereof, that, by reason of noxious gases prevailing in such mine, or such part thereof, or of any cause whatever, the mine or the said part is dangerous, every workman, except such persons as may be required to remove the danger, shall be withdrawn from the mine, or such part thereof as is so found dangerous, until the said mine, or said part thereof, is examined by a competent person and reported by him to be safe.

Rule 9.—In every working approaching any place where there is likely to be an accumulation of explosive gases, or in any working in which danger is imminent from explosive gases, no light or fire, other than a locked safety lamp, shall be allowed or used. Whenever safety lamps are required in any mine, they shall be the property of the owner of said mine, and a competent person, who shall be appointed for the purpose, shall examine every safety lamp immediately before it is taken into the workings for use and ascertain it to be clean, safe and securely locked, and safety lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found safe, clean and securely locked, unless permission be first given by the foreman to have the lamps used unlocked.

Rule 10.—No one, except a duly authorized person, shall have in his possession a key, or any other contrivance, for the purpose of unlocking any safety lamp in any mine where locked safety lamps are used. No lucifer matches or any other apparatus for striking light shall be taken into said mine or parts thereof.

Rule 11.—No blast shall be fired in any mine where locked safety lamps are used, except by permission of the mine foreman or his assistant, and before a blast is fired, the person in charge must examine the place and adjoining places and satisfy himself that it is safe to fire such blast before such permission is given.

Rule 12.—The mine foreman, or his assistant, shall visit and examine every working place in the mine at least once every alternate day, while the men of such place are or should be at work, and shall direct that each and every working place is properly secured by props or timber, and that safety in all respects is assured by directing that all loose coal or rock shall be pulled down or secured, and that no person shall be permitted to work in an unsafe place, unless it be for the purpose of making it secure.

Rule 13.—The mine foreman, or some other competent person or persons, to be designated by him, shall examine at least once every day all slopes, shafts, main roads, traveling ways, signal apparatus, pulleys and timbering, and see that they are in safe and efficient working condition.

Rule 14.—Any person having charge of a working place in any mine shall keep the roof and sides thereof properly secured by timber, or otherwise, so as to prevent such roof and sides from falling, and he shall not do any work or permit any work to be done under loose or dangerous material, except for the purpose of securing the same.

Rule 15.—Whenever a place is likely to contain a dangerous accumulation of water, the working approaching such place shall not exceed twelve (12) feet in width, and there shall be constantly kept, at a distance of not less than twenty (20) feet in advance, at least one bore hole near the center of the working and sufficient flank bore holes on each side.

Rule 16.—No person shall ride upon or against any loaded car, cage or gunboat in any shaft, slope or plane in or about a mine or colliery.

Rule 17.—Not more than ten (10) persons shall be hoisted or lowered at any one time in any shaft or slope, and whenever ten persons shall arrive at the bottom of any shaft or slope in which persons are regularly hoisted or lowered, they shall be furnished with an empty car or cage and be hoisted, except however in mines where there is provided a traveling way having an average pitch of fifteen degrees (15°) or less and not more than one thousand feet in length.

Rule 18.—An engineer placed in charge of an engine, whereby persons are hoisted or lowered in any mine, shall be a sober and competent person of not less than twenty-one (21) years of age.

Rule 19.—Every engineer shall work his engine slowly and with great care when any person is being lowered or hoisted in a shaft or slope, and no one shall interfere with or intimidate him while in the discharge of his duties.

spector of the district at the time such rules are established, and shall also be approved by the court of the county in which the mine or colliery is located, and after having been so signed and approved, the said special rules shall be observed in and about every such mine or colliery in the same manner as if they were enacted in this act.

SECTION 2. If any person, who is bound to observe the special rules established for any mine or colliery, acts in contravention of, or fails to comply with, any of such special rules, he shall be guilty of an offense against this act, and the owner, operator or superintendent of such mine shall also be guilty of an offense against this act, unless he proves that he had taken all reasonable means, by publishing and to the best of his power enforcing the said rules as regulations for the working of the mine or colliery, so as to prevent such contravention or non-compliance.

SECTION 5. For the purpose of making known the special rules and the provisions of this act to all persons employed in or about such mine or colliery, to which this act applies, an abstract of the act, together with the special rules, shall be posted up, in legible characters, in some conspicuous place or places at or near the mine or colliery, where they may be conveniently read by the persons employed, and so often as the same becomes defaced, obliterated or destroyed, the owner, operator or superintendent shall cause them to be renewed with all reasonable dispatch.

Every person who pulls down, injures or defaces any abstract or special rules, when posted up in pursuance to the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of an offense against this act.

SECTION 6. No person who is interested personally, nor a person employed in the mine or at a colliery in or at which loss of life has occurred by accident, shall be qualified to serve on a jury empanelled on the inquest, and a constable or other officer shall not summon such a person so disqualified as juror, but the coroner shall empanel a majority of the jury from persons who are qualified to judge of the nature of the accident. Every person who fails to comply with the provisions of this article shall be guilty of an offence against this act.

Sixth. Where a squeeze, or crush, or any other cause, or change may seem to affect the safety of persons employed in any mine, or where fire occurs, or a dangerous body of gas is found in any mine.

SECTION 3. On or before the first day of February, in each year, the owner, operator or superintendent of every mine or colliery, shall send to the inspector of the district a correct report specifying with respect to the year ending December thirty-first (31st), previously, the name of the operator and officials of the mine, the quantity of coal mined, the amount of powder consumed, the number of persons employed, above and below ground, in or about such colliery, classifying the persons so employed. The report shall be in such form as may be from time to time prescribed by the inspector of the district. Blank forms for said report shall be furnished by the commonwealth.

ARTICLE XVII.

SECTION 1. Whenever an inspector finds any mine or colliery, or part thereof, or any matter, thing or practice connected with such mine, which, in any respect thereof, is not covered by or provided against by any provision of this act, or by any special rule, to be dangerous or defective, or in his judgment tends to bodily injury to a person, he shall give notice thereof in writing to the owner, operator or superintendent of such mine or colliery, stating in such notice the particular matter or defect requiring remedy, and may demand that the same be remedied, but the owner, operator or superintendent of said mine or colliery shall have the right to refer the demand of the inspector to a board of arbitration, and the matter shall then be arbitrated within forty-eight (48) hours of the time such complaint or demand be made. SECTION 3. In all coal mines that are, or have been in operation prior to the first day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and which are worked by or through a shaft, slope or drift, if there is not already an escapement shaft to each and every said coal mine, or communication between each and every coal mine, and some other contiguous mine, then there shall be an escapement shaft or other communication, such as shall be approved by the mine inspector, making at least two distinct means of ingress and egress for all persons employed or permitted to work in such coal mine: such escapement shaft should be a downcast and an upcast, and located three hundred yards from the engine house. Such escapement shaft or other communication with a contiguous mine as aforesaid, shall be constructed in connection with every vein and stratum of coal worked in such coal mine, which shall be at least three and one-half feet high, and at least five feet wide, and in no instance shall the height of such roadway be less than the thickness of the vein or stratum of coal through which it is driven: and the time to be allowed for such construction shall be one year, when such mine is under five hundred feet in depth; two years for all mines over five hundred (500) feet in depth from the first day of July, A. D. 1888: and in all cases where the working force of one mine has been driven up to or into the workings of another mine, the respective owners of such mines, while operating the same, shall keep open a roadway, at least five feet high and five feet wide, thereby forming a communication as contemplated in this act; and for a failure to do so, shall be subject to the penalty provided for in section ten of this act, for each and every day such roadway is unnecessarily closed: each and every such escapement shaft shall be separated from the main shaft by such extent of natural strata as shall secure safety to the men employed in such mines, such distance to be left to the discretion of the mine inspector or person acting in that capacity, and shall be equipped with stairways or ladders, having landing places or platforms at least every twenty feet from the bottom to the top, or in lieu thereof such hoisting apparatus as will enable the employe's in the mine to make safe and speedy exit in case of danger. mine or mines shall hereafter be put in operation in this territory the owner thereof, or the lessee or occupant of the same shall construct an escapement shaft as is required by this act to be constructed in coal mines in this territory at the rate of five hundred feet per annum until such escapement shaft shall have been fully completed: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed to extend the time heretofore allowed by law for constructing escapement shafts in mines going into operation for the first time before said first day of January, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-eight.

The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine, whether operated by shaft, slope or drift, shall provide and maintain in every such mine a good and sufficient amount of ventilation for such men and animals as may be employed therein, the amount of air in circulation to be in no case less than one hundred cubic feet for each man per minute and six hundred cubic feet for each animal per minute, measured at the foot of the downcast, and the same to be increased at the discretion of the inspector, according to the character and extent of the workings, or the amount of powder used in blasting; and said volume of air shall be forced and circulated to the face of every working place throughout the mine, so that said mine shall be free from standing powder smoke and gases of every kind. In all mines where fire-damp is generated, every working place, where the same is known or thought to exist, shall be examined every morning with a safety-lamp, by a competent person, before any other persons are allowed to enter, and whenever the inspector shall find men working without sufficient air, or under any unsafe condition, he may remove the same to other parts of the mine or from the mine altogether. The inspector shall visit and inspect breasts and working faces of the mines and leave a mark as to safety. The ventilation required by this section may be produced by any suitable appliances, but in case a furnace shall be used for ventilating purposes, it shall be built in such a manner as to prevent the communication of fire to any part of the works, by lining the upcast with incombustible material for a sufficient distance up from said furnace: Provided, It shall not be lawful to use a furnace for ventilating purposes, or for any other purposes, that shall emit smoke into any compartment constructed in, or adjoining any coal-hoisting shaft or slope, where the hoisting shaft or slope is the only means provided for the ingress or egress of persons employed in said coal mines. That it shall be unlawful where there is but one means of ingress or egress provided at a coal-shaft or slope, to construct and use a ventilating furnace that shall emit smoke into a shaft as an upcast, where the shaft or slope used as a means of ingress or egress by persons employed in said coal mines is the only means provided for furnishing air to persons employed therein.

SECTION 5. The owner, agent or operator shall provide that bore holes shall be kept twenty feet in advance of the face of each and every working place, and, if necessary, on both sides, when driving towards an abandoned mine or part of a mine suspected to contain inflammable gases, or to be inundated with water.

The owner, agent or operator of every coal mine operated by shaft shall provide suitable means of signaling between the bottom and top thereof, and shall also provide safe means of hoisting and lowering persons in a cage covered with boiler iron, so as to keep, safe as far as possible, persons descending into and ascending out of such shaft, and such cage shall be furnished with guides to conduct it on slides through such shaft, with a sufficient brake on every drum to prevent accident in case of the giving out or breaking of the machinery; and such cage shall be furnished with spring catches intended and provided, as far as possible, to prevent the consequences of cable breaking or the loosening or disconnecting of the machinery; and no props or rails shall be lowered in a cage while men are descending into or ascending out of said mine. The hoisting ropes shall be inspected by the manager of the mine or his agent with respect to safety each morning; Provided, That the provisions of this section, relating to covering cages with boiler iron, shall not apply to coal mines less than one hundred feet in depth, where the coal is raised with horsepower. No person under the age of fifteen years, or females of any age, shall be permitted to enter any mine to work therein. Any party or person neglecting or refusing to perform the duties required to be performed by sections three, four, five, six, seven and eight shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine in the discretion of the court trying the same, subject, however, to the limitations as provided by section ten of this act.

hoisted out of the mines, any but an experienced, competent and sober person not under the age of eighteen years; and no person shall ride upon a loaded cage or wagon used for hoisting purposes in any shaft or slope, and in no case shall more than twelve persons ride on any cage or car at one time, nor shall any coal be hoisted out of any coal mine while persons are descending into such coal mine; and the number of persons to ascend out of or descend into any coal mine, on one cage, shall be determined by the inspector, the maximum number so fixed shall not be less than four nor more than twelve, nor shall be lowered or hoisted, nor no man [sic] shall handle the bell rope, except the man in charge at the bottom of the shaft.

SECTION 8. All boilers used in generating steam in and about coal mines shall be kept in good order, and the agent, owner or operator, as aforesaid, shall have said boilers examined and inspected by a competent boilermaker, or other qualified person, as often as once every six months, and oftener if the inspector shall deem it necessary, and the result of every such examination shall be certified, in writing, to the mine inspector; and the top of each and every shaft, and the entrance to each and every intermediate working vein, shall be securely fenced by gates properly covering and protecting such shaft and entrance thereto; and the entrance to every abandoned slope, air or other shaft shall be securely fenced off; and every steam boiler shall be provided with a proper steam gauge, water gauge and safety valve; and all underground, self-acting or engine planes, or gangways, on which coal cars are drawn and persons travel, shall be provided with some proper means of regulating between the stopping places and the end of said planes or gangways, and sufficient places of refuge at the sides of such planes or gangways shall be provided at intervals of not more than twenty feet apart.

SECTION 9: Whenever loss of life, or serious personal injury shall occur by reason of any explosion, or of any accident whatsoever, in or about any coal mine, it shall be the duty of the person having charge of such coal mine to report the facts thereof, without delay, to the mine inspector of the district in which said coal mine is situated; and if any person is killed thereby, to notify the coroner of the county also, or in his absence or inability to act, any justice of the peace of said county; and the said inspector shall; if he deem it necessary from the facts reported, immediately go to the scene of said accident, and make such suggestion and render such assistance as he may deem necessary for the safety of men. And the inspector shall investigate and ascertain the cause of such explosion or accident, and make a report thereof, which he shall preserve with the other records of his office; and to enable him to make such investigations, he shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and administer oaths or affirmations to them, and the cost of such investigations shall be paid by the county in which such accident has occurred, in the same manner as costs of coroners' inquests are now paid. And the failure of the person in charge of the coal mine in which any such accident may have occurred, to give notice to the inspector or coroner, as provided for in this section, shall subject such person to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, to be recovered in the name of the people of the territory of Washington, before any justice of the peace of such county, and such fine, when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the county in which any such accident may have occurred.

SECTION 10. In all other cases in which punishment is provided by fine under this act for a breach of any of its provisions, the fine for a first offense shall not be less than five hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars, and for the second offense not less than one thousand dollars nor more than two thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court, except as specially provided for in section nine of this act.

SECTION 14. It shall be lawful for the inspector, provided for in this act, to enter, examine and inspect any and all coal mines and machinery belonging thereto, at all reasonable times, by day or by night, but so as not to obstruct or hinder the necessary workings of such coal mines, and the owner, agent or operator of every such coal mine is hereby required to furnish all necessary facilities for entering and making such examination and inspection, and if the said owner, agent or operator aforesaid shall refuse to permit such inspection, the inspector shall file affidavit setting such refusal with the judge of the district court in said county in which said mine is situated and obtain an order on such owner, agent or operator so refusing as aforesaid, commanding him to permit and furnish such necessary facilities for the inspection of such coal mine, or to be adjudged to stand in contempt of court and punished accordingly, and if the said inspector shall after examination of any coal mine and the works and machinery pertaining thereto, find the same to be worked contrary to the provisions of this act, or unsafe for the workmen therein employed, said inspector shall, through the prosecuting attorney of his county, or any attorney, in case of his refusal to act, acting in the name and on behalf of the territory, proceed against the owner, agent or operator of such coal mine by injunction without bond, after giving at least two days' notice to such owner, agent or operator; and said owner, agent or operator shall have the right to appear before the judge to whom the application is made who shall hear the same on affidavits and such other testimony as may be offered in support as well as in opposition thereto, and if sufficient cause appear, the court or judge in vacation by order shall prohibit the further working of any such coal mine in which persons may be unsafely employed contrary to the provisions of this act, until the same shall have been made safe and the requirements of this act shall have been complied with, and the court shall award such costs in the matter of said injunction as may be just; but any such proceedings so commenced shall be without prejudice to any other remedy permitted by law for enforcing the provisions of this act.

SECTION 17. The owner, agent or operator of any coal mine shall keep a sufficient supply of timber, where required to be used as props, so that the workmen may at all times be able to properly secure the said workings from caving in; and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or operator to send down all such props when required, and the same to be delivered at the entrance to the working face.

SECTION 18. That all mines hoisting coal by steam power, from shaft or slope, having no other means of ingress or egress than that afforded to persons employed therein and [than] by said shaft or slope, shall * * * have all engine and boiler houses roofed and sided with fireproof materials, and they shall be situated not less than fifty feet from the mouth of the said shaft or slope; that the hoisting derricks erected over said hoisting shaft or near said slope, if inclosed, and all the coal chutes, buildings and constructions, within a radius of fifty feet of the mouth of the said hoisting shaft or slope, shall be covered and sided with fireproof materials; and the person in charge, the owners or operators thereof, shall provide a steam pump and have the same conveniently situated, and a sufficient supply of water and hose always ready for use in any part of the buildings, chutes or constructions within a radius of fifty feet of said coal-hoistings, shaft, or slope; and if the person in charge of any such coal shaft or slope shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, then the inspector of coal mines for the county in which the said shafts or slope is situated, shall proceed, through the prosecuting attorney of his county, or any attorney, in case of his refusal to act, acting in the name and on behalf of the territory, against the owner, agent or operator of said shaft or slope, by injunction, without bond, after giving at least two days notice to such owner, agent or operator; and the said owner, agent or operator shall have the right to appear before the judge to whom the application is made, who shall hear the same on affidavits, and such other testimony as may be offered, in support as well as in opposition thereto; and if it be found that the owner, agent or operator of said shaft or slope has refused or neglected to comply with the provisions of this act, the court, or judge in vacation, by order, shall prohibit the further workings of any such coal shaft or slope until the owner, agent or operator shall have complied with the terms of this act.

SECTION 19. The use of iron needles and iron tamping bars, not tipped with five inches of copper, is hereby declared unlawful. Any failure on the part of a coal miner, or an employee in any coal mine, to conform to the terms and requirements of this act, shall subject such minor or employee to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, with costs of prosecution for each offense, to be recovered by civil suit before any justice of the peace; said fines, when collected, to be paid into the treasury of the county where the offense was committed, to the credit of the fund provided for the payment of the county inspector of mines.

SECTION 20. It shall be the duty of the grand jury of each county or at least once a year or oftener, if so directed by the judge of district court, to inspect all coal mines in operation and worked in such county, and certify their condition to the court, as in the case of the inspection of jails and other public institutions. It shall also be the duty of the coroner of the county when death results from accident in the operation and working of any coal mine, to hold an inquest as to the cause of death, as in case of death from any unknown cause, and reduce to writing the testimony of witnesses taken before the coroner's jury or have the same reduced to writing under his direction, and he shall forthwith file the written testimony with the clerk of such court; and if death results from any wilful act in violation of the provisions of this act, he shall also recognize such witnesses to appear and testify at the next term of the district court of the county.

Coal-mine regulations and inspection.

SECTION 2, (as amended by chapter 9, acts of 1890). The governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall * * * every four years * * * appoint one inspector of mines for each of the (two) districts * * *. Every person so appointed must be a citizen of West Virginia, of temperate habits, of good repute as a man of personal integrity, and must possess a competent and practical knowledge of mining and properly ventilating and draining mines, and of the nature of noxious gases and impure air of mines, and of the best methods of preventing and removing the same; and he shall not while in office be interested as owner, operator, agent, stockholder, superintendent or mining engineer of any coal mine. An inspector of mines may be removed from office by the governor, for incompetency, neglect of duty, drunkenness, malfeasance in office, or for other good cause. Vacancies in office of inspector, shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term.

SECTION 4, (as amended by chapter 9, acts of 1890). Each inspector shall examine the mines of his district at least twice every year, and oftener if called upon by twenty miners engaged in any one mine, and he shall see that all the provisions of this act are observed and strictly carried out. He shall particularly examine into the condition of the mine as to ventilation, drainage and general safety, and shall make a record of all such examinations. He shall also for each year ending with the thirtieth day of June, make a written report to the governor, of his proceedings as such inspector, stating therein the number of mines in his districts, the thickness of the seams mined, the number of miners employed in each mine, the condition in which the mines were found, the extent to which this act is obeyed or violated, the number of accidents and deaths resulting from injuries received in or about the mines, with the cause of each of such accidents and deaths, and such other information in relation to mines and mining, as he may deem of public interest. He shall also suggest or recommend such legislation on the subject of mining as he may think necessary. Such report shall be filed with the governor on or before the thirtieth day of December, next succeeding the year for which it is made.

SECTION 5. The operator or agent of every coal mine shall, within six months after the passage of this act, make, or cause to be made, an accurate map or plan of such mine, on a scale to be stated thereon, not exceeding one hundred feet to the inch. Such map or plan shall show the openings or excavations, the shafts, slopes, entries, air-ways, headings, rooms, pillars, etc., the general inclination of the coal strata, and so much of the property lines and of the outcrop of the coal seam of the tract of land on which said mine is located, as may be within one thousand feet of any part of the workings of such mine. A true copy of such map or plan, shall, within the six months aforesaid be delivered by such operator, to the inspector of his district, to be preserved among the records of his office and turned over to his successor in office; and the original map or a true copy thereof, shall be kept by such operator, at the office of the mine, and open at all reasonable times for the examination and use of the inspector; and such operator shall twice within every twelve months, and not more than seven months apart while the mine is in operation, cause such mine to be surveyed and the map thereof extended so as to accurately show the progress of the workings, of the property lines and outcrop as above provided; and he shall immediately thereafter deliver, to the inspector of his district, a map or plan and statement of the progress of the workings and extensions aforesaid, so as to enable the inspector to trace the same on the map or plan furnished him as above required. Before any mine or part of a mine is abandoned, or the pillars drawn therein, it shall be accurately surveyed, and the maps thereof extended as aforesaid and within one month after any mine is abandoned, the person who was the last operator thereof, shall file with the clerk of the county court of the county, in which the mine is located, a correct map, showing all the excavations of such mine, to be preserved as a part of the records of the county. If any operator fail to comply with any provision of this section, the inspector is hereby authorized to have, the survey and maps made or extended, as may be necessary in such case, at the expense of such operator, and the reasonable fees and expenses may be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, by the person performing the work.

SECTION 6. After six months, from and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for the operator, or agent, of any coal mine, to employ any persons at work in said mine, or permit any persons to be in said mine for the purpose of working therein, unless they are in communication with at least two openings or outlets, separated by natural strata, of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, if the mine be worked by shaft, and of not less than fifty feet in breadth, if worked by slope or drift. To each of said outlets there shall be provided, from the interior of the mine, a safe and available roadway, which shall at all times while the mine is in operation be kept free from all obstructions that might prevent travel thereon in case of an emergency, and if either of said outlets be by shaft, it shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, such as ladders, stairs, or hoisting machinery, which shall at all times, when the mine is in operation, be kept in order and ready for immediate use, whereby persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case of an accident. This section shall not apply to any mine while work is being prosecuted with reasonable diligence in making communication between said outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at any one time in said mine; neither shall it apply to any mine, or part of a mine, in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable by reason of the final robbing of pillars preparatory to abandonment, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed therein at any one time.

SECTION 8. The operator or agent of every coal mine worked by shaft shall forthwith provide, and hereafter maintain, a metal tube from the top to the bottom of such shaft, suitably adapted to the free passage of sound, through which conversation may be held between persons at the top and at the bottom of the shaft, also the ordinary means of signaling, and an approved safety catch and sufficient cover overhead on every carriage used for lowering or hoisting persons, and at the top of the shaft an approved safety gate, and an adequate brake on the drum of every machine used to lower or hoist persons in such shaft; and the said operator or agent shall have the machinery used for lowering or hoisting persons into or out of the mine, kept in safe condition and inspected once in every twenty-four hours by some competent person.

SECTION 9. No operator or agent of any coal mine, worked by shaft or slope, shall place in charge of any engine, used for lowering into or hoisting out of said mine, persons employed therein, any but competent and sober engineers; and no engineer in charge of such machinery shall allow any person except such as may be deputed for that purpose, by the operator or agent, to interfere with any part of the machinery; and no person shall interfere with or intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duties; and in no case shall more than ten persons ride on any cage or car at one time, and no person shall ride on a loaded cage or car in any shaft or slope. All slopes or engine planes, used as traveling ways by persons in any mine, shall be made of sufficient width to permit persons to pass moving cars with safety, or refuge holes of ample dimensions, and not more than sixty feet apart, shall be made on one side of said slope or engine plane. The mining boss or his assistant shall visit and examine every working place in the mine at least once in every three days, and oftener when necessary, while the miners of such places are at work, and shall direct that each and every working place shall be secured by props or timbers wherever necessary, so that safety in all respects be assured, and no person shall be directed to work in an unsafe place, unless it be for the purpose of making it safe. The mining boss shall notify the operator or agent of the mine, of his inability to comply with any requirements of this section; it shall then become the duty of such operator or agent at once to attend to the matter complained of by the mining boss, to comply with the provisions hereof.

SECTION 1645. In order to better secure the proper ventilation of every coal mine and promote the health and safety of the persons employed therein, the owner or agent shall employ a competent and practical inside overseer, to be called mining boss, who shall be an experienced coal miner, and who shall keep a careful watch over the ventilating apparatus and the air ways, traveling ways, pumps and drainage, and shall see that as the miners advance their excavations all loose coal, slate and rock overhead are carefully secured against falling on the traveling ways, and that sufficient props, caps and timbers are furnished upon order of the miner, of suitable size and cut square at both ends, and as near as practicable to a proper length for the places where they are to be used, and such props, caps or timbers shall be delivered at the mouth of the rooms, and shall see that all water be drained or hauled out of all working places before the miner enters, and as far as practicable kept dry while the miner is at work; and it shall be the further duty of the mining boss to see that the proper cut-throughs are made in the room pillars of the miners' places at intervals of not more than sixteen yards for the purpose of ventilation, and in all hauling roads, holes for shelter shall be made at every thirty yards, and be kept whitewashed, when a space two feet and six inches between the wagon and rib shall be deemed sufficient for shelter, and the mining boss shall measure the air current at least once a week at the inlet and outlet and at or near the face of the headings. He shall keep a record of such measurements, which shall be placed by him in a book kept for that purpose, said book to be open for the examination of the said territorial inspector; he shall also, on or about the fifteenth day of each month, mail to the territorial inspector of coal mines a true copy of the air measurements given, stating also the number of persons employed in or about said mine, the number of mules and horses used, and the number of days worked in each month, for which purpose blanks shall be furnished by the said inspector. It shall be the further duty of the mining boss to immediately notify the owner or agent, of the mine of his inability to comply with the provisions of this section. It shall then become the duty of the said superintendent, operator, owner or agent at once to attend to the matter complained of by the mining boss, and to comply with the provisions hereof. All machinery about mines shall be properly fenced off, and there shall be cut in the side of every hoisting shaft, at the bottom thereof, a traveling way sufficiently wide and high to enable persons to pass the shaft in going from one side of the mine to the other, without passing over or under the cage or other hoisting apparatus.

Each of them shall be selected for his knowledge, skill, and practical experience in the uses of steam for navigation, and shall be a competent judge of the character and qualities of steam-vessels, and of all parts of the machinery employed in steaming. * * *

SECTION 4406. Each supervising inspector shall watch over all parts of the territory assigned to him, shall visit, confer with, and examine into the doings of the local boards of inspectors within his district, and shall instruct them in the proper performance of their duties; and shall, whenever he thinks it expedient, visit any vessels licensed, and examine into their condition, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the provisions of this title have been observed and complied with, both by the board of inspectors and the masters and owners. All masters, engineers, mates, and pilots of such vessels shall answer all reasonable inquiries, and shall give all the information in their power in regard to any such vessel so visited, and her machinery for steaming, and the manner of managing both.

SECTION 4412. The board of supervising inspectors shall establish such regulations to be observed by all steam-vessels in passing each other, as they shall from time to time deem necessary for safety; two printed copies of such regulations, signed by them, shall be furnished to each of such vessels, and shall at all times be kept posted up in conspicuous places in such vessels.

SECTION 4413. Every pilot, engineer, mate, or master of any steam-vessel who neglects or willfully refuses to observe the regulations established in pursuance of the preceding section, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars, and for all damages sustained by any passenger, in his person or baggage, by such neglect or refusal.

SECTION 4414. There shall be, in each of the following collection-districts, one inspector of hulls and one inspector of boilers: * * *

In the districts of New York and New Orleans, * * *.

In the districts of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Buffalo, Saint Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Boston, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, Huron, and Galena, * * *.

In the district of Michigan, * * *.

In the districts of Mobile, Memphis, and Cleveland, * * *.

In the districts of Willamette, New London, Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Galveston, Albany, Wheeling, Nashville, Portland, and Evansville, * * *.

In the districts of Puget Sound, Apalachicola, Oswego, Burlington, and Superior, * * *.

And in addition, the secretary of the treasury may appoint in such districts, where their services are actually required, assistant inspectors, * * *.

SECTION 4417. The local inspectors shall, once in every year, at least, upon application in writing of the master or owner, carefully inspect the hull of each steam-vessel within their respective districts, and shall satisfy themselves that every such vessel so submitted to their inspection is of a structure suitable for the service in which she is to be employed, has suitable accommodations for passengers and the crew, and is in a condition to warrant the belief that she may be used in navigation as a steamer, with safety to life, and that all the requirements of law in regard to fires, boats, pumps, hose, life-preservers, floats, anchors, cables, and other things, are faithfully complied with; and if they deem it expedient, they may direct the vessel to be put in motion, and may adopt any other suitable means to test her sufficiency and that of her equipment.

SECTION 4418. The local inspectors shall also inspect the boilers of all steam-vessels before the same shall be used, and once at least in every year thereafter. They shall subject all boilers to the hydrostatic pressure; and shall satisfy themselves by thorough examination that the boilers are well made, of good and suitable material; that the openings for the passage of water and steam, respectively, and all pipes and tubes exposed to heat, are of proper dimensions and free from obstruction; that the spaces between and around the flues are sufficient; that the flues are circular in form; that the fire line of the furnace is at least two inches below the prescribed minimum water-line of the boilers; that the arrangement for delivering the feed water is such that the boilers can not be injured thereby; and that such boilers and machinery, and the appurtenances, may be safely employed in the service proposed in the written application, without peril to life. They shall also satisfy themselves that the safety-valves are of suitable dimensions, sufficient in number, and well arranged; and that the weights of the safety-valves are properly adjusted, so as to allow no greater pressure in the boilers than the amount prescribed by the inspection certificate; that there is a sufficient number of gauge-cocks properly inserted, and, to indicate the pressure of steam, suitable steam-registers that will correctly record each excess of steam carried above the prescribed limit and the highest point attained; and that there are reliable low-water gauges, and that the fusible metals are properly inserted so as to fuse by the heat of the furnace, whenever the water in the boilers falls below its prescribed limits; and that adequate and certain provision is made for an ample supply of water to feed the boilers at all times, whether such vessel is in motion or not, so that in high-pressure boilers the water shall not be less than four inches above the top of the flues; and that means for blowing out are provided, so as to thoroughly remove the mud and sediment from all parts of the boilers, when they are under pressure of steam. In subjecting to the hydrostatic tests boilers usually designated and known as high-pressure boilers, the inspectors shall assume one hundred and ten pounds to the square inch, as the maximum pressure allowable as a working-power for a new boiler of forty-two inches in diameter, made in the best manner, of inspected iron plates, one-fourth of an inch thick, and of a quality required by law, and shall rate the working-power of all high-pressure boilers, whether old or new, according to their strength, compared with this standard; and in all cases the test applied shall exceed the working-power allowed in the ratio of one hundred and sixty-five to one hundred and ten. In subjecting to the hydrostatic tests boilers usually designated and known as low-pressure boilers, the inspectors shall allow as a working-power for each new boiler, a pressure of only three-fourths the number of pounds to the square inch to which it has been subjected by the hydrostatic test, and for which it has been found to be sufficient. Should the inspectors be of the opinion that any boiler, by reason of its construction or material, will not safely allow so high a working pressure as is above described, they may, for reasons to be stated specially in their certificate, fix the working-pressure of such boiler at less than three-fourths of the test pressure. All boilers used on steam-vessels and constructed of iron or steel plates, inspected under the provisions of section forty-four hundred and thirty, shall be subjected to a hydrostatic test, in the ratio of one hundred and fifty pounds to the square inch to one hundred pounds to the square inch of the working steam-power allowed. No boiler or pipe, nor any of the connections therewith, shall be approved, which is made, in whole or in part, of bad material, or is unsafe in its form, or dangerous from defective workmanship, age, use, or other cause.

SECTION 4419. One of the safety-valves may, if in the opinion of the local inspectors it is necessary to do so, and the steam-registers shall, be taken wholly from the control of all persons engaged in navigating such vessel and secured by the inspectors.

SECTION 4425. Every inspector who willfully certifies falsely touching any steam-vessel, as to her hull, accommodations, boilers, engines, machinery, or their appurtenances, or any of her equipments, or any matter or thing contained in any certificate signed and sworn to by him, shall be punished by fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

SECTION 4426. The hull and boilers of every ferry-boat, canal-boat, yacht, or other small craft of like character, propelled by steam, shall be inspected under the provisions of this title. Such other provisions of law for the better security of life, as may be applicable to such vessels, shall, by the regulations of the board of supervising inspectors, also be required to be complied with, before a certificate of inspection shall be granted, and no such vessel shall be navigated without a licensed engineer and a licensed pilot.

SECTION 4427. The hull and boiler of every tug-boat, towing-boat, and freight-boat shall be inspected, under the provisions of this title; and the inspectors shall see that the boilers, machinery, and appurtenances of such vessel are not dangerous in form or workmanship, and that the safety-valves, gauge-cocks, low-water alarm indicators, steam-gauges, and fusible plugs are all attached in conformity to law; and the officers navigating such vessels shall be licensed in conformity with the provisions of this title, and shall be subject to the same provisions of law as officers navigating passenger steamers.

SECTION 4428. Every boiler manufactured to be used on steam-vessels, and made of iron or steel plates, shall be constructed of plates that have been stamped in accordance with the provisions of this title.

SECTION 4429. Every person who constructs a boiler, or steam-pipe connecting the boilers, to be used on steam-vessels, of iron or steel plates which have not been duly stamped and inspected according to the provisions of this title, or who knowingly uses any defective, bad, or faulty iron or steel in the construction of such boilers; or who drifts any rivet-hole to make it come fair; or who delivers any such boiler for use, knowing it to be imperfect in its flues, flanging, riveting, bracing, or in any other of its parts, shall be fined one thousand dollars, one-half for the use of the informer. Nothing in this title shall be so construed as to prevent from being used, on any steamer, any boiler or steam-generator which may not be constructed of riveted iron or steel plates, when the board of supervising inspectors have satisfactory evidence that such boiler or steam-generator is equal in strength, and as safe from explosion, as a boiler of the best quality constructed of riveted iron or steel plates.

SECTION 4430. Every iron or steel plate used in the construction of steamboat boilers, and which shall be subject to a tensile strain, shall be inspected in such manner as shall be prescribed by the board of supervising inspectors and approved by the secretary of the treasury, so as to enable the inspectors to ascertain its tensile strength, homogeneousness, toughness, and ability to withstand the effect of repeated heating and cooling; and no iron or steel plate shall be used in the construction of such boilers which has not been inspected and approved under those rules.

SECTION 4431. Every plate of boiler iron or steel, made for use in the construction of steamboat boilers, shall be distinctly and permanently stamped by the manufacturer thereof, and, if practicable, in such places that the marks shall be left visible when such plates are worked into boilers, with the name of the manufacturer, the place where manufactured, and the number of pounds tensile strain it will bear to the sectional square inch; and the inspectors shall keep a record in their office of the stamps upon all boiler-plates and boilers which they inspect.

SECTION 4432. Every person who counterfeits, or causes to be counterfeited, any of the marks or stamps prescribed for boiler-iron or steel plates, or who designedly stamps, or causes to be stamped falsely, any such plates; and every person who stamps or marks, or causes to be stamped or marked, any such iron or steel plates with the name or trade-mark of another, with the intent to mislead or deceive, shall be fined two thousand dollars, one-half to the use of the informer, and may, in addition thereto, at the discretion of the court, be imprisoned not exceeding two years.

SECTION 4436. Every boiler shall be provided with a good, well constructed safety-valve or valves, of such number, dimensions, and arrangements as shall be prescribed by the board of supervising inspectors, and shall also be provided with a sufficient number of gauge-cocks and a reliable low-water indicator that will give alarm when the water falls below its prescribed limits; and in addition thereto there shall be inserted, in a suitable manner, in the flues, crown-sheet, or other parts of the boiler most exposed to the heat of the furnace when the water falls below its prescribed limits, a plug of good Banca tin.

SECTION 4437. Every person who intentionally loads or obstructs, or causes to be loaded or obstructed, in any way or manner, the safety-valve of a boiler, or who employs any other means or device whereby the boiler may be subjected to a greater pressure than the amount allowed by the certificate of the inspectors, or who intentionally deranges or hinders the operation of any machinery or device employed to denote the state of the water or steam in any boiler, or to give warning of approaching danger, or who intentionally permits the water to fall below the prescribed low-water line of the boiler, and every person concerned therein, directly or indirectly, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined two hundred dollars, and may also be imprisoned not exceeding five years.

SECTION 4453. In addition to the annual inspection, the local inspectors shall examine, at proper times, steamers arriving and departing to and from their respective ports, so often as to enable them to detect any neglect to comply with the requirements of law, and also any defects or imperfections becoming apparent after the inspection aforesaid, and tending to render the navigation of the vessels unsafe; and if they shall discover any omissions to comply with the law, or that repairs have become necessary to make the vessel safe, the inspectors shall at once notify the master, in writing, stating in the notice what is required; and if the master deems the requirements unreasonable or unnecessary, he may apply for a reëxamination of the case to the supervising inspector, as provided in the preceding section. All inspections and orders for repairs shall be promptly made by the inspectors, and, when it can be safely done in their judgment, they shall permit repairs to be made where those interested can most conveniently do them.

SECTION 4454. If any master or owner of any steamer shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of the local inspectors, made in pursuance of the preceding section, and shall, contrary thereto and while the same remains unreversed by the supervising inspector, employ the vessel by navigating her, the master and owner shall be liable to a penalty of five hundred dollars for each offense, one-half for the use of the informer; for which sum the vessel itself shall be liable, and may be seized and proceeded against by libel in any district court having jurisdiction; and the master and owner, and the vessel itself, shall, in addition thereto, be liable for any damage to passengers and their baggage which shall occur from any defects as stated in the notice prescribed by the preceding section.

TITLE 53.—Seamen.

SECTION 4509. Every shipping commissioner appointed under this title shall, if applied to for the purpose of apprenticing boys to the sea-service, by any master or owner of a vessel, or by any person legally qualified, give such assistance as is in his power for facilitating the making of such apprenticeships; but the shipping commissioner shall ascertain that the boy has voluntarily consented to be bound, and that the parents or guardian of such boy have consented to such apprenticeship, and that he has attained the age of twelve years, and is of sufficient health and strength, and that the master to whom such boy is bound is a proper person for the purpose. Such apprenticeship shall terminate when the apprentice becomes eighteen years of age. The shipping commissioner shall keep a register of all indentures of apprenticeship made before him.

SECTION 4510. The master of every foreign-going vessel shall, before carrying any apprentice to sea from any place in the United States, cause such apprentice to appear before the shipping commissioner before whom the crew is engaged, and shall produce to him the indenture by which such apprentice is bound, and the assignment or assignments thereof, if any; and the name of the apprentice, with the date of the indenture and of the assignment or assignments thereof, if any, shall be entered on the agreement; * * * and no such assignment shall be made without the approval of a commissioner, of the apprentice, and of his parents or his guardian. For any violation of this section, the master shall be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars.

SECTION 4511. The master of every vessel bound from a port in the United States to any foreign port other than vessels engaged in trade between the United States and the British North American possessions, or the West India Islands, or the Republic of Mexico, or of any vessel of the burden of seventy-five tons or upward, bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall, before he proceeds on such voyage, make an agreement, in writing or in print, with every seaman whom he carries to sea as one of the crew, in the manner hereinafter mentioned; and every such agreement * * * shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the master before any seaman signs the same, and shall contain the following particulars:

First. The nature and, as far as practicable, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement, and the port or country at which the voyage is to terminate.

Second. The number and description of the crew, specifying their respective employments.

Third. The time at which each seaman is to be on board, to begin work.

Fourth. The capacity in which each seaman is to serve.

Fifth. The amount of wages each seaman is to receive.

Sixth. A scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each seaman.

Seventh. Any regulations as to conduct on board, and as to fines, short allowance of provisions, or other lawful punishments for misconduct, which may be sanctioned by Congress as proper to be adopted, and which the parties agree to adopt.

Eighth. Any stipulations in reference to advance and allotment of wages, or other matters not contrary to law.

SECTION 4512. The following rules shall be observed with respect to agreements:

First. Every agreement, except such as are otherwise specially provided for, shall be signed by each seaman in the presence of a shipping commissioner.

Second. When the crew is first engaged the agreement shall be signed in duplicate, and one part shall be retained by the shipping commissioner, and the other part shall contain a special place or form for the description and signatures of persons engaged subsequently to the first departure of the ship, and shall be delivered to the master.

Third. Every agreement entered into before a shipping commissioner shall be acknowledged and certified under the hand and official seal of such commissioner. The certificate of acknowledgment shall be endorsed on or annexed to the agreement; * * *.

SECTION 4513, (as amended by paragraph 160, page 277, supplement of 1881). Section forty-five hundred and eleven shall not apply to masters of vessels where the seamen are by custom or agreement entitled to participate in the profits or result of a cruise or voyage, nor to masters of coastwise nor to masters of lake going vessels that touch at foreign ports; but seamen may, by agreement, serve on board such vessels a definite time, or, on the return of any vessel to a port in the United States, may reship and sail in the same vessel on another voyage, without the payment of additional fees to the shipping commissioner, by either the seamen or the master.

SECTION 4514. If any person shall be carried to sea, as one of the crew on board of any vessel making a voyage as hereinbefore specified, without entering into an agreement with the master of such vessel, in the form and manner, and at the place and times in such cases required, the vessel shall be held liable for each such offense to a penalty of not more than two hundred dollars. But the vessel shall not be held liable for any person carried to sea, who shall have secretly stowed away himself without the knowledge of the master, mate, or of any of the officers of the vessel, or who shall have falsely personated himself to the master, mate, or officers of the vessel, for the purpose of being carried to sea.

SECTION 4515. If any master, mate, or other officer of a vessel knowingly receives, or accepts, to be entered on board of any merchant vessel, any seaman who has been engaged or supplied contrary to the provisions of this title, the vessel on board of which such seaman shall be found shall, for every such seaman, be liable to a penalty of not more than two hundred dollars.

SECTION 4517. Every master of a merchant-vessel who engages any seaman at a place out of the United States, in which there is a consular officer or commercial agent, shall, before carrying such seamen to sea, procure the sanction of such officer, and shall engage seamen in his presence; and the rules governing the engagement of seamen before a shipping commissioner in the United States, shall apply to such engagements made before a consular officer or commercial agent; and upon every such engagement the consular officer or commercial agent shall indorse upon the agreement his sanction thereof, and an attestation to the effect that the same has been signed in his presence, and otherwise duly made.

SECTION 4518. Every master who engages any seaman in any place in which there is a consular officer or commercial agent, otherwise than as required by the preceding section, shall incur a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars, for which penalty the vessel shall be held liable.

SECTION 4519. The master shall, at the commencement of every voyage or engagement, cause a legible copy of the agreement, omitting signatures, to be placed or posted up in such part of the vessel as to be accessible to the crew; and on default shall be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars.

SECTION 4520. Every master of any vessel of the burden of fifty tons or upward, bound from a port in one state to a port in any other than an adjoining state, except vessels of the burden of seventy-five tons or upward, bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall, before he proceeds on such voyage, make an agreement in writing or in print, with every seaman on board such vessel except such as shall be apprentice or servant to himself or owners, declaring the voyage or term of time for which such seaman shall be shipped.

SECTION 4521. If any master of such vessel of the burden of fifty tons or upward shall carry out any seaman or mariner, except apprentices or servants, without such contract or agreement being first made and signed by the seamen, such master shall pay to every such seaman the highest price or wages which shall have been given at the port or place where such seaman was shipped, for a similar voyage, within three months next before the time of such shipping, if such seaman shall perform such voyage; or if not, then for such time as he shall continue to do duty on board such vessel; and shall moreover be liable to a penalty of twenty dollars for every such seaman, recoverable, one-half to the use of the person prosecuting for the same, and the other half to the use of the United States. Any seaman who has not signed such a contract shall not be bound by the regulations nor subject to the penalties and forfeitures contained in this title.

SECTION 4522, (as amended by paragraph 161, page 277, supplement of 1881). At the foot of every such contract to ship upon such a vessel of the burden of fifty tons or upward, there shall be a memorandum in writing of the day and the hour on which the seamen who ship and subscribe shall render themselves on board to begin the voyage agreed upon. If any such seaman shall neglect to render himself on board the vessel, for which he has shipped, at the time mentioned in such memorandum, and if the master of the vessel shall, on the day on which such neglect happened, make an entry in the log-book of such vessel, of the name of such seaman, and shall in like manner note the time that he so neglected to so render himself, after the time appointed, every such seaman shall forfeit for every hour which he shall so neglect to render himself, one day's pay, according to the rate of wages agreed upon, to be deducted out of his wages. If any such seaman shall wholly neglect to render himself on board of such vessel, or having rendered himself on board, shall afterward desert and escape, so that the vessel proceed to sea without him, he shall be liable to pay to the master, owner, or consignee of the vessel, a sum equal to that paid to him by advance at the time of signing the contract, over and besides the sum so advanced, both which sums shall be recoverable in any court, or before any justice of any state, city, town, or county within the United States, which, by the laws thereof, have cognizance of debts of equal value, against such seaman or mariner, or his surety or sureties, in case he shall have given surety to proceed on the voyage.

SECTION 4523. All shipments of seamen made contrary to the provisions of any act of Congress shall be void; and any seaman so shipped may leave the service at any time and shall be entitled to recover the highest rate of wages of the port from which the seaman was shipped, or the sum agreed to be given him at his shipment.

SECTION 4524. A seaman's right to wages and provisions shall be taken to commence either at the time at which he commences work, or at the time specified in the agreement for his commencement of work or presence on board, whichever first happens.

SECTION 4525. No right to wages shall be dependent on the earning of freight by the vessel; but every seaman or apprentice who would be entitled to demand and receive any wages if the vessel on which he has served had earned freight, shall, subject to all other rules of law and conditions applicable to the case, be entitled to claim and recover the same of the master or owner in personam, notwithstanding that freight has not been earned. But in all cases of wreck or loss of vessel, proof that any seaman or apprentice has not exerted himself to the utmost to save the vessel, cargo, and stores, shall bar his claim.

SECTION 4526. In cases where the service of any seaman terminates before the period contemplated in the agreement, by reason of the wreck or loss of the vessel, such seaman shall be entitled to wages for the time of service prior to such termination, but not for any further period.

SECTION 4527. Any seaman who has signed an agreement and is afterward discharged before the commencement of the voyage or before one month's wages are earned, without fault on his part justifying such discharge, and without his consent, shall be entitled to receive from the master or owner, in addition to any wages he may have earned, a sum equal in amount to one month's wages as compensation, and may, on adducing evidence satisfactory to the court hearing the case, of having been improperly discharged, recover such compensation as if it were wages duly earned.

SECTION 4528. No seaman or apprentice shall be entitled to wages for any period during which he unlawfully refuses or neglects to work when required, after the time fixed by the agreement for him to begin work, nor, unless the court hearing the case otherwise directs, for any period during which he is lawfully imprisoned for any offense committed by him.

SECTION 4529. The master or owner of every vessel making voyages from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall pay to every seaman his wages, within two days after the termination of the agreement, or at the time such seaman is discharged, whichever first happens; and, in the case of vessels making foreign voyages, within three days after the cargo has been delivered, or within five days after the seaman's discharge, whichever first happens; and in all cases the seaman shall, at the time of his discharge, be entitled to be paid, on account, a sum equal to one-fourth part of the balance due to him. Every master or owner who neglects or refuses to make payment in manner hereinbefore mentioned, without sufficient cause, shall pay to the seaman a sum not exceeding the amount of two days' pay for each of the days, not exceeding ten days, during which payment is delayed beyond the respective periods; which sum shall be recoverable as wages in any claim made before the court. But this section shall not apply to the masters or owners of any vessel the seamen on which are entitled to share in the profits of the cruise or voyage.

SECTION 4530. Every seaman shall be entitled to receive from the master of the vessel to which he belongs, one-third part of the wages which shall be due to him at every port where such vessel shall unlade and deliver her cargo before the voyage is ended, unless the contrary be expressly stipulated in the contract; and as soon as the voyage is ended, and the cargo or ballast is fully discharged at the last port of delivery, he shall be entitled to the wages which shall be then due.

SECTION 4531. All stipulations for the allotment of any part of the wages of a seaman, during his absence, which are made at the commencement of the voyage shall be inserted in the agreement, and shall state the amounts and times of the payments to be made, and the persons to whom such payments are to be made.

SECTION 4532. No advance of wages shall be made, or advance security given to any person, but to the seaman himself, or to his wife or mother; and no advance of wages shall be made, or advance security given, unless the agreement contains a stipulation for the same, and an accurate statement of the amount thereof; and no advance wages or advance security shall be given to any seaman except in the presence of the shipping commissioner.

SECTION 4533. If any advance of wages is made or advance security given to any seaman in any such manner as to constitute a breach of any of the provisions of the two preceding sections, the wages of such seaman shall be recoverable by him, as if no such advance had been made or promised; and in the case of any advanced security so given, no person shall be sued thereon, unless he was a party to such breach.

SECTION 4534. Whenever any advance security is discounted for any seaman, such seaman shall sign or set his mark to a receipt indorsed on the security, stating the sum actually paid or accounted for to him by the person discounting the same; and if the seaman sails in the vessel from the port of departure mentioned in the security, and is then duly earning his wages, or is previously discharged with the consent of the master, but not otherwise, the person discounting the security may, ten days after the final departure of the vessel from the port of departure mentioned in the security, sue for and recover the amount promised by the security, with costs, either from the owner or from any agent who has drawn or authorized the drawing of the security; and in any such proceeding it shall be sufficient for such person to prove that the security was given by the owner or master, or some other authorized agent, and that the same was discounted to and receipted by the seaman; and the seaman shall be presumed to have sailed in the vessel from such port, and to be duly earning his wages, unless the contrary is proved.

SECTION 4535. No seaman shall, by any agreement other than is provided by this title, forfeit his lien upon the ship, or be deprived of any remedy for the recovery of his wages to which he would otherwise have been entitled; and every stipulation in any agreement inconsistent with any provision of this title, and every stipulation by which any seaman consents to abandon his right to his wages in case of the loss of the ship, or to abandon any right which he may have or obtain in the nature of salvage, shall be wholly inoperative.

SECTION 4536. No wages due or accruing to any seaman or apprentice shall be subject to attachment or arrestment from any court; and every payment of wages to a seaman or apprentice shall be valid in law, notwithstanding any previous sale or assignment of wages, or of any attachment, incumbrance, or arrestment thereon; and no assignment or sale of wages, or of salvage, made prior to the accruing thereof, shall bind the party making the same, except such advance securities as are authorized by this title.

SECTION 4537. No sum exceeding one dollar shall be recoverable from any seaman, by any one person, for any debt contracted during the time such seaman shall actually belong to any vessel, until the voyage for which such seaman was engaged shall be ended.

SECTION 4546. Whenever the wages of any seaman are not paid within ten days after the time when the same ought to be paid according to the provisions of this title, or any dispute arises between the master and seamen touching wages, the district judge for the judicial district where the vessel is, or in case his residence be more than three miles from the place, or he be absent from the place of his residence, then, any judge or justice of the peace, or any commissioner of a circuit court, may summon the master of such vessel to appear before him, to show cause why process should not issue against such vessel, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, according to the course of admiralty courts, to answer for the wages.

SECTION 4548. Moneys paid under the laws of the United States, by direction of consular officers or agents, at any foreign port or place, as wages, extra or otherwise, due American seamen, shall be paid in gold or its equivalent, without any deduction whatever, any contract to the contrary notwithstanding.

SECTION 4549. All seamen discharged in the United States from merchant vessels engaged in voyages from a port in the United States to any foreign port, or, being of the burden of seventy-five tons or upward, from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall be discharged and receive their wages in the presence of a duly authorized shipping commissioner under this title, except in cases where some competent court otherwise directs; and any master or owner of any such vessel who discharges any such seaman belonging thereto, or pays his wages within the United States in any other manner, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars.

SECTION 4556. If the mate or first officer under the master, and a majority of the crew of any vessel, bound on a voyage to any foreign port, shall, after the voyage is begun, and before the vessel shall have left the land, discover that the vessel is too leaky, or is otherwise unfit in her crew, body, tackle, apparel, furniture, provisions, or stores, to proceed on the intended voyage, and shall require such unfitness to be inquired into, the master shall, upon the request of the mate or other officer and such majority, forthwith proceed to or stop at the nearest or most convenient port or place where such inquiry can be made, and shall there apply to the judge of the district court of that judicial district, if he shall there reside, or if not, to some justice of the peace of the city, town, or place, taking with him two or more of the crew who shall have made such request.

SECTION 4557. The judge or justice shall, upon such application of the master or commander, issue his precept directed to three persons in the neighborhood, the most skillful in maritime affairs that can be procured, requiring them to repair on board such vessel, and to examine the same in respect to the defects and insufficiencies complained of, and to make report to him, the judge or justice, as the case may be, in writing under their hands, or the hands of two of them, whether in any or in what respect the vessel is unfit to proceed on the intended voyage, and what addition of men, provisions, or stores, or what repairs or alterations in the body, tackle, or apparel will be necessary; and upon such report the judge or justice shall adjudge, and shall endorse on the report his judgment, whether the vessel is fit to proceed on the intended voyage; and if not, whether such repairs can be made or deficiencies supplied where the vessel then lies, or whether it is necessary for her to return to the port from whence she first sailed, to be there refitted; and the master and crew shall in all things conform to the judgment. The master or commander shall, in the first instance, pay all the costs of such view, report, and judgment, to be taxed and allowed on a fair copy thereof, certified by the judge or justice. But if the complaint of the crew shall appear, upon the report and judgment, to have been without foundation, the master or commander, or the owner or consignee of such vessel, shall deduct the amount thereof, and of reasonable damages for the detention, to be ascertained by the judge or justice, out of the wages growing due to the complaining seamen.

SECTION 4558. If after judgment that such vessel is fit to proceed on her intended voyage, or after procuring such men, provisions, stores, repairs, or alterations as may be directed, the seamen, or either of them, shall refuse to proceed on the voyage, it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace to commit, by warrant under his hand and seal, every such seaman who refuses to the common jail of the county, there to remain without bail or mainprize until he has paid double the sum advanced to him at the time of subscribing the contract for the voyage, together with such reasonable costs as are allowed by the justice, and inserted in the warrant; and the sureties of such seaman, in case he has given any, shall remain liable for such payment; nor shall any such seaman be discharged upon any writ of habeas corpus or otherwise, for want of any form of commitment, or other previous proceedings, until such sum is paid by him or his surety, if sufficient matter be made to appear, upon the return of such habeas corpus, and an examination then had, to detain him for the causes hereinbefore assigned.

SECTION 4559. Upon a complaint in writing, signed by the first, or the second and third officers and a majority of the crew, of any vessel while in a foreign port, that such vessel is in an unsuitable condition to go to sea, because she is leaky, or insufficiently supplied with sails, rigging, anchors, or any other equipment, or that the crew is insufficient to man her, or that her provisions, stores, and supplies are not, or have not been, during the voyage, sufficient and wholesome, thereupon, in any of these or like cases, the consul or a commercial agent who may discharge any duties of a consul, shall appoint two disinterested, competent, practical men, acquainted with maritime affairs, to examine into the causes of complaint, who shall, in their report, state what defects and deficiencies, if any, they find to be well founded, as well as what, in their judgment, ought to be done to put the vessel in order for the continuance of her voyage.

SECTION 4560. The inspectors appointed by any consul or commercial agent, in pursuance of the preceding section, shall have full power to examine the vessel and whatever is aboard of her, so far as is pertinent to their inquiry, and also to hear and receive any other proofs which the ends of justice may require; and if, upon a view of the whole proceedings, the consul or other commercial agent is satisfied therewith, he may approve the whole or any part of the report, and shall certify such approval; or if he dissents, he shall certify his reasons for dissenting.

SECTION 4561. The inspectors in their report shall also state whether, in their opinion, the vessel was sent to sea unsuitably provided in any important or essential particular, by neglect or design, or through mistake or accident, and in case it was by neglect or design, and the consul or other commercial agent approves of such finding, he shall discharge such of the crew as require it, each of whom shall be entitled to three months' pay in addition to his wages to the time of discharge; but if, in the opinion of the inspectors, the defects or deficiencies found to exist have been the result of mistake or accident, and could not, in the exercise of ordinary care, have been known and provided against before the sailing of the vessel, and the master shall, in a reasonable time, remove or remedy the causes of complaint, then the crew shall remain and discharge their duty; otherwise they shall, upon their request, be discharged, and receive each one month's wages in addition to their pay up to the time of discharge.

SECTION 4562. The master shall pay all such reasonable charges for inspection under such complaint as shall be officially certified to him under the hand of the consul or commercial agent; but in case the inspectors report that the complaint is without any good and sufficient cause, the master may retain from the wages of the complainants, in proportion to the pay of each, the amount of such charges, with such reasonable damages for detention on that account as the consul or commercial agent directing the inquiry may officially certify.

SECTION 4563. Every master who refuses to pay such wages * * * shall be liable to each person injured thereby in damages, to be recovered in any court of the United States in the district where such delinquent may reside or be found, and in addition thereto be punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars for each offense.

SECTION 4564. Every vessel belonging to a citizen of the United States, bound on a voyage across the Atlantic ocean, shall, at the time of leaving the last port from whence she sails, have on board, well secured under deck, at least sixty gallons of water, one hundred pounds of salted flesh meat, and one hundred pounds of wholesome ship-bread, for every person on board such vessel, besides such other provisions, stores, and live stock as shall by the master or passengers be put on board, and in like proportion for shorter or longer voyages.

SECTION 4565. Any three or more of the crew of any merchant vessel of the United States bound from a port in the United States to any foreign port, or being of the burden of seventy-five tons or upward, and bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, may complain to any officer in command of any of the vessels of the United States navy, or consular officer of the United States, or shipping commissioner, or chief officer of the customs, that the provisions or water for the use of the crew are, at any time, of bad quality, unfit for use, or deficient in quantity. Such officer shall thereupon examine the provisions or water, or cause them to be examined; and if, on examination, such provisions or water are found to be of bad quality and unfit for use, or to be deficient in quantity, the person making such examination shall certify the same in writing to the master of the ship. If such master does not thereupon provide other proper provisions or water, where the same can be had, in lieu of any so certified to be of a bad quality and unfit for use, or does not procure the requisite quantity of any so certified to be insufficient in quantity, or uses any provisions or water which have been so certified as aforesaid to be of bad quality and unfit for use, he shall, in every such case, be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars; and upon every such examination the officers making or directing the same shall enter a statement of the result of the examination in the log-book, and shall send a report thereof to the district judge for the judicial district embracing the port to which such vessel is bound; and such report shall be received in evidence in any legal proceedings.

SECTION 4566. If the officer to whom any such complaint, in regard to the provisions or the water, is made, certifies in such statement that there was no reasonable ground for such complaint, each of the parties so complaining shall be liable to forfeit to the master or owner, out of his wages, a sum not exceeding one week's wages.

SECTION 4567. If any seamen, while on board any vessel, shall state to the master that they desire to make complaint, in accordance with the two preceding sections, in regard to the provisions or the water, to a competent officer, against the master, the master shall, if the vessel is then at a place where there is any such officer, so soon as the service of the vessel will permit, and if the vessel is not then at such a place, so soon after her first arrival at such place as the service of the vessel will permit, allow such seamen, or any of them, to go ashore, or shall send them ashore, in proper custody, so that they may be enabled to make such complaint; and shall, in default, be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars.

SECTION 4568. If, during a voyage, the allowance of any of the provisions which any seaman has, by his agreement, stipulated for, is reduced, except in accordance with any regulations for reduction by way of punishment, contained in the agreement, and also for any time during which such seaman wilfully, and without sufficient cause, refuses or neglects to perform his duty, or is lawfully under confinement for misconduct, either on board or on shore; or if it is shown that any of such provisions are, or have been during the voyage, bad in quality and unfit for use, the seaman shall receive by way of compensation for such reduction or bad quality, according to the time of its continuance, the following sums, to be paid to him in addition to and to be recoverable as wages:

First. If his allowance is reduced by any quantity not exceeding one-third of the quantity specified in the agreement, a sum not exceeding fifty cents a day.

Second. If his allowance is reduced by more than one-third of such quantity, a sum not exceeding one dollar a day.

Third. In respect of bad quality, a sum not exceeding one dollar a day.

But if it is shown to the satisfaction of the court before which the case is tried, that any provisions, the allowance of which has been reduced, could not be procured or supplied in sufficient quantities, or were unavoidably injured or lost, and that proper and equivalent substitutes were supplied in lieu thereof, in a reasonable time, the court shall take such circumstances into consideration, and shall modify or refuse compensation, as the justice of the case may require.

SECTION 4569. Every vessel belonging to a citizen of the United States, bound from a port in the United States to any foreign port, or being of the burden of seventy-five tons or upward, and bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall be provided with a chest of medicines; and every sailing-vessel bound on a voyage across the Atlantic or Pacific ocean, or around cape Horn, or the cape of Good Hope, or engaged in the whale or other fisheries, or in sealing, shall also be provided with, and cause to be kept, a sufficient quantity of lime or lemon juice, and also sugar and vinegar, or other anti-scorbutics, to be served out to every seaman as follows: The master of every such vessel shall serve the lime or lemon juice, and sugar and vinegar, to the crew, within ten days after salt provisions mainly have been served out to the crew, and so long afterward as such consumption of salt provisions continues; the lime and lemon juice and sugar daily at the rate of half an ounce each per day; and the vinegar weekly, at the rate of half a pint per week for each member of the crew.

SECTION 4570. If, on any such vessel, such medicines, medical stores, lime or lemon juice, or other articles, sugar, and vinegar, as are required by the preceding section, are not provided and kept on board, as required, the master or owner shall be liable to a penalty of not more than five hundred dollars; and if the master of any such vessel neglects to serve out the lime or lemon juice, and sugar and vinegar in the case and manner directed, he shall for each such offense be liable to a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars; and if any master is convicted in either of the offenses mentioned in this section, and it appears that the offense is owing to the act or default of the owner, such master may recover the amount of such penalty, and the costs incurred by him, from the owner.

SECTION 4571. Every master shall keep on board proper weights and measures for the purpose of determining the quantities of the several provisions and articles served out, and shall allow the same to be used at the time of serving out such provisions and articles, in the presence of a witness, whenever any dispute arises about such quantities, and in default shall, for every offense, be liable to a penalty of not more than fifty dollars.

SECTION 4572. Every vessel bound on any foreign voyage shall also be provided with at least one suit of woolen clothing for each seaman, for use during the winter months; and every such vessel shall be provided with fuel and a safe and suitable room in which a fire can be kept for the use of seamen.

SECTION 4577. It shall be the duty of the consuls, vice consuls, commercial agents, and vice commercial agents, from time to time, to provide for the seamen of the United States, who may be found destitute within their districts, respectively, sufficient subsistence and passages to some port in the United States, in the most reasonable manner, at the expense of the United States, subject to such instructions as the secretary of state shall give. The seamen shall, if able, be bound to do duty on board the vessels in which they may be transported, according to their several abilities.

SECTION 4578, (as amended by chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84). All masters of vessels of the United States, and bound to some port of the same, are required to take such destitute seamen on board their vessels, at the request of consular officers, and to transport them to the port in the United States to which such vessel may be bound, on such terms, not exceeding ten dollars for each person for voyages of not more than thirty days, and not exceeding twenty dollars for each person for longer voyages, as may be agreed between the master and the consular officer; and said consular officer shall issue certificates for such transportation, which certificates shall be assignable for collection. If any such destitute seaman is so disabled or ill as to be unable to perform duty, the consular officer shall so certify in the certificate of transportation, and such additional compensation shall be paid as the first comptroller of the treasury shall deem proper. Every such master who refuses to receive and transport such seaman on the request or order of such consular officer shall be liable to the United States in a penalty of one hundred dollars for each seaman so refused. The certificate of any such consular officer, given under his hand and official seal, shall be presumptive evidence of such refusal in any court of law having jurisdiction for the recovery of the penalty. No master of any vessel shall, however, be obliged to take a greater number than one man to every one hundred tons burden of the vessel on any one voyage.

SECTION 4579. Whenever distressed seamen of the United States are transported from foreign ports where there is no consular officer of the United States, to parts of the United States, there shall be allowed to the master or owner of each vessel, in which they are transported, such reasonable compensation, in addition to the allowance now fixed by law, as shall be deemed equitable by the first comptroller of the treasury.

SECTION 4580, (as amended by chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84). Upon the application of the master of any vessel to a consular officer to discharge a seaman, or upon the application of any seaman for his own discharge, if it appears to such officer that said seaman has completed his shipping agreement, or is entitled to his discharge under any act of Congress or according to the general principles or usages of maritime law as recognized in the United States, such officer shall discharge said seaman, and require from the master of said vessel, before such discharge shall be made, payment of the wages which may be then due said seaman; but no payment of extra wages shall be required by any consular officer upon such discharge of any seaman except as provided in this act.

SECTION 4581, (as amended by chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84). If any consular officer, when discharging any seaman, shall neglect to require the payment of and collect the arrears of wages and extra wages required to be paid in the case of the discharge of any seaman, he shall be accountable to the United States to the full amount thereof. If any seaman, after his discharge, shall have incurred any expense for board or other necessities at the place of his discharge, before shipping again, or for transportation to the United States, such expense shall be paid out of the arrears of wages and extra wages received by the consular officer, which shall be retained for that purpose and the balance only paid over to such seamen.

SECTION 4582, (as amended by chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84). Whenever a vessel of the United States is sold in a foreign country, and her company discharged, it shall be the duty of the master to produce to the consular officer the certified list of his ship's company, and also the shipping articles, and to pay to said consular officer for every seaman so discharged one month's wages over and above the wages which may then be due to such seaman; but in case the master of the vessel so sold shall, with the assent of said seaman, provide him with adequate employment on board some other vessel bound to the port at which he was originally shipped, or to such other port as may be agreed upon by him, then no payment of extra wages shall be required.

SECTION 4583, (as amended by chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84). Whenever on the discharge of a seaman in a foreign country, on his complaint that the voyage is continued contrary to agreement, the consular officer shall be satisfied that such voyage has been designedly and unnecessarily prolonged in violation of the articles of shipment, or whenever a seaman is discharged by a consular officer in consequence of any hurt or injury received in the service of the vessel, such consular officer shall require the payment by the master of one month's wages for such seaman over and above the wages due at the time of discharge.

SECTION 4584. Whenever any consular officer upon the discharge of any seaman demands or receives extra three month's wages for such seaman, two-thirds thereof shall be paid by such officer to the seaman so discharged, upon his engagement on board of any vessel to return to the United States. The remaining third shall be retained for the purpose of creating a fund for the payment of the passages of seamen, citizens of the United States, who may be desirous of returning to the United States, and for the maintenance of American seamen who may be destitute, and may be in such foreign port; and the several sums retained for such fund shall be accounted for with the treasury every six months by the persons receiving the same.

[The following legislation on the subject of seamen was enacted in chapter 121, acts of 1883-'84.]

SECTION 10, (as amended by chapter 421, acts of 1885-'86). It shall be, and is hereby, made unlawful in any case to pay any seaman wages before leaving the port at which such seaman may be engaged in advance of the time when he has actually earned the same, or to pay such advance wages to any other person, or to pay any person, other than an officer authorized by act of Congress to collect fees for such service, any remuneration for the shipment of seamen. Any person paying such advance wages or such remuneration shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not less than four times the amount of the wages so advanced or remuneration so paid, and may be also imprisoned for a period not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the court. The payment of such advance wages or remuneration shall in no case, except as herein provided, absolve the vessel, or the master or owner thereof, from full payment of wages after the same shall have been actually earned, and shall be no defense to a libel, suit, or action for the recovery of such wages: Provided, That this section shall not apply to whaling-vessels: And provided further, That it shall be lawful for any seaman to stipulate in his shipping agreement for an allotment of all or any portion of the wages which he may earn to his wife, mother, or other relative, or to an original creditor in liquidation of any just debt for board or clothing which he may have contracted prior to engagement, not exceeding ten dollars per month for each month of the time usually required for the voyage for which the seaman has shipped, under such regulations as the secretary of the treasury may prescribe, but no allotment to any other person or corporation shall be lawful. And any person who shall falsely claim such relationship to any seaman in order to obtain wages so allotted shall, for every such offense, be punishable by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the court. This section shall apply as well to foreign vessels as to vessels of the United States; and any master, owner, consignee, or agent of any foreign vessel who has violated this section shall be liable to the same penalty that the master, owner, or agent of a vessel of the United States would be for a similar violation.

SECTION 11. Every vessel mentioned in section forty-five hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes shall also be provided with a slop-chest, which shall contain a complement of clothing for the intended voyage for each seaman employed, including boots or shoes, hats or caps, under clothing and outer clothing, oiled clothing, and everything necessary for the wear of a seaman; also a full supply of tobacco and blankets. Any of the contents of the slop-chest shall be sold, from time to time, to any or every seaman applying therefor, for his own use, at a profit not exceeding ten per centum of the reasonable wholesale value of the same at the port at which the voyage commenced. And if any such vessel is not provided, before sailing, as herein required, the owner shall be liable to a penalty of not more than five hundred dollars. The provisions of this section shall not apply to vessels plying between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, the Bermuda Islands, the Bahama Islands, the West Indies, Mexico and Central America.

TITLE 70.—Protection of employes as voters.

SECTION 5506. Every person who, by any unlawful means, hinders, delays, prevents, or obstructs, or combines and confederates with others to hinder, delay, prevent, or obstruct, any citizen from doing any act required to be done to qualify him to vote, or from voting at any election in any state, territory, district, county, city, parish, township, school district, municipality, or other territorial subdivision, shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one month nor more than one year, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 5507. Every person who prevents, hinders, controls, or intimidates another from exercising, or in exercising the right of suffrage, to whom that right is guaranteed by the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, by means of bribery or threats of depriving such person of employment or occupation, or of ejecting such person from a rented house, lands, or other property, or by threats of refusing to renew leases or contracts for labor, or by threats of violence to himself or family, shall be punished as provided in the preceding section.

ACTS OF 1884-'85.

CHAPTER 164.—Alien contract labor.

SECTION 1. From and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person, company, partnership, or corporation, in any manner whatsoever, to prepay the transportation, or in any way assist or encourage the importation or migration of any alien or aliens, any foreigner or foreigners, into the United States, its territories, or the District of Columbia, under contract or agreement, parol or special, express or implied, made previous to the importation or migration of such alien or aliens, foreigner or foreigners, to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, its territories, or the District of Columbia.

SECTION 2. All contracts or agreements, express or implied, parol or special, which may hereafter be made by and between any person, company, partnership, or corporation, and any foreigner or foreigners, alien or aliens, to perform labor or service or having reference to the performance of labor or service by any person in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia previous to the migration or importation of the person or persons whose labor or service is contracted for into the United States, shall be utterly void and of no effect.

SECTION 3. For every violation of any of the provisions of section one of this act the person, partnership, company, or corporation violating the same, by knowingly assisting, encouraging or soliciting the migration or importation of any alien or aliens, foreigner or foreigners, into the United States, its territories, or the District of Columbia, to perform labor or service of any kind under contract or agreement, express or implied, parol or special, with such alien or aliens, foreigner or foreigners, previous to becoming residents or citizens of the United States, shall forfeit and pay for every such offense the sum of one thousand dollars, which may be sued for and recovered by the United States or by any person who shall first bring his action therefor including any such alien or foreigner who may be a party to any such contract or agreement, as debts of like amount are now recovered in the circuit courts of the United States; the proceeds to be paid into the treasury of the United States; and separate suits may be brought for each alien or foreigner being a party to such contract or agreement aforesaid. And it shall be the duty of the district attorney of the proper district to prosecute every such suit at the expense of the United States.

SECTION 4. The master of any vessel who shall knowingly bring within the United States on any such vessel, and land, or permit to be landed, from any foreign port or place, any alien laborer, mechanic, or artisan who, previous to embarkation on such vessel, had entered into contract or agreement, parol or special, express or implied, to perform labor or service in the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars for each and every such alien laborer, mechanic or artisan so brought as aforesaid, and may also be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months.

SECTION 5, (as amended by chapter 551, acts of 1890-'91). Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any citizen or subject of any foreign country temporarily residing in the United States, either in private or official capacity, from engaging, under contract or otherwise, persons not residents or citizens of the United States to act as private secretaries, servants or domestics for such foreigner temporarily residing in the United States as aforesaid; nor shall this act be so construed as to prevent any person, or persons, partnership, or corporation from engaging, under contract or agreement, skilled workman in foreign countries to perform labor in the United States in or upon any new industry not at present established in the United States: Provided, That skilled labor for that purpose can not otherwise be obtained; nor shall the provisions of this act apply to professional actors, artists, lecturers, or singers, nor to persons employed strictly as personal or domestic servants: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed as prohibiting any individual from assisting any member of his family to migrate from any foreign country to the United States, for the purpose of settlement here, nor to ministers of any religious denomination, nor persons belonging to any recognized profession, nor professors for colleges and seminaries.

SECTION 6, (added by chapter 220, acts of 1886-'87). The secretary of the treasury is hereby charged with the duty of executing the provisions of this act, and for that purpose he shall have power to enter into contracts with such state commission, board, or officers as may be designated for that purpose by the governor of any state to take charge of the local affairs of immigration in the ports within said state, under the rules and regulations to be prescribed by said Secretary; and it shall be the duty of such state commission, board, or officers so designated to examine into the condition of passengers arriving at the ports within such state in any ship or vessel, and for that purpose all or any of such commissioners or officers, or such other person or persons as they shall appoint, shall be authorized to go on board of and through any such ship or vessel; and if in such examination there shall be found among such passengers any person included in the prohibition in this act, they shall report the same in writing to the collector of such port, and such persons shall not be permitted to land.

SECTION 7, (added by chapter 220, acts of 1886-'87). The secretary of the treasury shall establish such regulations and rules, and issue from time to time such instructions, not inconsistent with law, as he shall deem best calculated for carrying out the provisions of this act; and he shall prescribe all forms of bonds, entries, and other papers to be used under and in the enforcement of the various provisions of this act.

SECTION 8, (added by chapter 220, acts of 1886-'87). All persons included in the prohibition in this act, upon arrival, shall be sent back to the nations to which they belong and from whence they come. The secretary of the treasury may designate the state board of charities of any state in which such board shall exist by law, or any commission in any state, or any person or persons in any state, whose duty it shall be to execute the provisions of this section and shall be entitled to reasonable compensation therefor to be fixed by regulation prescribed by the secretary of the treasury. The secretary of the treasury shall prescribe regulations for the return of the aforesaid persons to the countries from whence they came, and shall furnish instructions to the board, commission, or persons charged with the execution of the provisions of this section as to the time of procedure in respect thereto, and may change such instructions from time to time. The expense of such return of the aforesaid persons not permitted to land shall be borne by the owners of the vessels in which they came. And any vessel refusing to pay such expenses shall not thereafter be permitted to land at or clear from any port of the United States. And such expenses shall be a lien on said vessel. That the necessary expense in the execution of this act for the present fiscal year, shall be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

[The following amendments to the above legislation were made in chapter 1210, acts of 1887-'88.]

That the act approved February twenty-third, eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, entitled "An act to amend an act to prohibit the importation and immigration of foreigners and aliens under contract and agreement to perform labor in the United States, its territories, or the District of Columbia," [chapter 220, acts of 1886-'87] be, and the same is hereby, so amended as to authorize the secretary of the treasury, in case he shall be satisfied that an immigrant has been allowed to land contrary to the prohibition of that law, to cause such immigrant within the period of one year after landing or entry, to be taken into custody and returned to the country from whence he came, at the expense of the owner of the importing vessel, or, if he entered from an adjoining country, at the expense of the person previously contracting for the services.

That the act approved February twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, entitled "An act to prohibit the importation and migration of foreigners and aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its territories, and the District of Columbia," [chapter 164, acts of 1884-'85] be,

SECTION 15. In all cases of a fatal accident a full report thereof shall be made by the mine owner or manager to the mine inspector, said report to be in the writing and made within ten days after such death shall have occurred.

SECTION 16. As a cumulative remedy, in case of the failure of any owner or manager of any mine to comply with the requirements contained in the notice of the governor of such territory or the secretary of the interior, given in pursuance of this act, any court of competent jurisdiction, or the judge of such court in vacation, may, on the application of the mine inspector in the name of the United States and supported by the recommendation of the governor of said territory, or of the secretary of the interior, issue an injunction restraining the further operation of such mine until such requirements are complied with, and in order to obtain such injunction no bond shall be required.

SECTION 17. Wherever the term "owner or manager" is used in this act the same shall include lessees or other persons controlling the operation of any mine. And in case of the violation of the provisions of this act by any corporation the managing officers and superintendents, and other managing agents of such corporation, shall be personally liable and shall be punished as provided in act for owners and managers.

SECTION 19. Whenever any organized territory shall make or has made provision by law for the safe operation of mines within such territory, and the governor of such territory shall certify said fact with a copy of said law to the secretary of the interior, then and thereafter the provisions of this act shall no longer be enforced in such organized territory, but in lieu thereof the statute of such territory shall be operative in lieu of this act.

An act providing when plaintiff may sue as a poor person and when counsel shall be assigned by the court.

Be it enacted, etc., That any citizen of the United States, entitled to commence any suit or action in any court of the United States, may commence and prosecute to conclusion any such suit or action without being required to prepay fees or costs, or give security therefor before or after bringing suit or action, upon filing in said court a statement under oath, in writing, that, because of his poverty, he is unable to pay the costs of said suit or action which he is about to commence, or to give security for the same, and that he believes he is entitled to the redress he seeks by such suit or action, and setting forth briefly the nature of his alleged cause of action.

SEC. 2. That after any such suit or action shall have been brought, or that is now pending, the plaintiff may answer and avoid a demand for fees or security for costs by filing a like affidavit, and willful false swearing in any affidavit provided for in this or the previous section, shall be punishable as perjury is in other cases.

SEC. 3. That the officers of courts shall issue, serve all process, and perform all duties in such cases, and witnesses shall attend as in other cases, and the plaintiff shall have the same remedies as are provided by law in other cases.

SEC. 4. That the court may request any attorney of the court to represent such poor person, if it deems the cause worthy of a trial, and may dismiss any such cause so brought under this act if it be made to appear that the allegation of poverty is untrue, or if said court be satisfied that the alleged cause of action is frivolous or malicious.

SEC. 5. That judgment may be rendered for costs at the conclusion of the suit as in other cases: Provided, That the United States shall not be liable for any of the cost thus incurred.

Approved, July 20th, 1892.

[NOTE.—The above act is chapter 209 of the acts of 1891-'92 (Fifty-second Congress, session 1.), and was approved July 20, 1892, a date later than that up to which this compilation has been brought. Owing to its importance it is thought best to insert it here.]
